INSULL REVEALS PROGRESS MADE ON CAR PROJECT

Combined System to Cost 565 Millions.

In the following article Samuel Insull reviews the progress made towards consolidating and improving transit facilities in the month since the voters approved the car franchise ordinance.

BY SAMUEL INSULL.

When the car franchise ordinance was given public approval on July 1, all those upon whom was placed the burden of carrying out the provisions of that ordinance, including representatives of the city and of the several traction companies, concurred in announcing that active work should be begun at once.

List of Accomplishments.

In proof that all concerned were working in good faith, the following things have been accomplished in the four weeks that have passed since the approval of the ordinace:

On July 3 Maj. R. F. Kelker, Jr., engineer for the city council committee on local transportation, stated that in addition to the large number of engineers and others who had been at work for the companies on the extension program, he had had a force of thirty engineers, draftsmen and surveyors working on subway plans since the first week in May.

On July 7 receivers were appointed for the Chicago City Railway company and Calumet and South Chicago railway, of the south side surface lines, by Federal Judge Wilkerson, as a part of the program to effect an expeditious organization of the traction properties.

Receiverships Completed.

Also, as part of that program, on July 11 the Southern Street Railway and the Chicago City and Connecting Railways company, a collateral trust —the two companies having control of certain south side lines—went into the hands of receivers named by Judge Wilkerson.

The effect of this action was to bring all of the surface lines under the jurisdiction of Judge Wilkerson's court, the Chicago Railways company [north and west surface lines] having been in receivership for some time.

On July 14, the firm of Halsey Stuart & Co. was requested to become the consolidation manager in the effort to bring all the various interests and ownerships of the several properties making up the system into accord in regard to the complete consolidation the ordinance requires. At the same time that firm was asked to become syndicate manager to raise $25,000,000 as the initial financing for the consolidated company. The firm accepted both appointments.

Committees Are Formed.

To further the work of consolidation, on July 25 three committees were named for the Rapid Transit company [the elevated lines], one to represent the holders of the debentures of that company, a second to represent the holders of prior preferred and preferred stocks, and a third to represent the holders of common stock.

Going back to July 16, on that date the city council authorized the surface and elevated lines to spend $12,000,000 on improvements and extensions prior to consolidation, this money to be regarded as part of the $65,000,000 in expenditures required within three years from the date of acceptance of the ordinance.

The council also, on this date, named an engineering staff to prepare subway plans, as follows:

Robert Ridgeway, chief engineer of the New York transit commission, as consulting engineer.

Maj. R. F. Kelker Jr., chief engineer.

Ernest R. Graham, consulting architect.

George M. Wisner, George C. Lenth, Edward J. Noonan, David A. Wallace, and Maj. Kelker were appointed members of the advisory subway commission, and on the same date Walter L. Fisher was named chief counsel for the subway undertaking.

Prepare for Assessments.

To further subway plans Michael J. Faherty, president of the board of local improvements, obtained an appropriation of $78,000 to cover the expenses of spreading the special assessment for subways and another $78,000 was appropriated to the board for work in connection with the widening of North State street which is necessary to the building of a four track subway.

In that connection the bridge department was asked to prepare plans at once for the erection of a new bridge at North State street and the Chicago river, an essential piece of

MERCURY FALLS TO 78° HERE; COOLER TODAY

Final Torrid Spell Swells Death Toll.

The scorching heat wave, which oppressed the country generally east of the Rockies for a full week, was broken last night after a final surge which sent the temperature to all time records in downstate Illinois and in Chicago to a maximum of 94 degrees yesterday afternoon.

Six additional deaths from heat and two more drownings occurred yesterday in Chicago before the high atmospheric pressure swept in from Canada and checked the soaring thermometer. From the 3 p. m. reading of 94 degrees, the mercury slipped to 78 at 8 o'clock and a cooling breeze was blowing off the lake. Fair and cooler weather, with the wind mostly from the north and northeast was predicted for today.

"The break in the heat wave has extended southward into Kansas and northern Missouri and eastward to the upper Great Lakes region," the official weather bureau bulletin said last night. "Today the break will have reached the extreme southern portion of the central states and temperatures, generally speaking, will be near seasonal average through Wednesday."

Policeman Dies of Heat.

The first of yesterday's weather victims was Policeman James Clancy of the Warren avenue district, who succumbed in the county hospital after having been stricken on Sunday night as he drove to his home at 3314 North Kostner avenue. Policeman Clancy, 37 years old and twice cited for bravery during his eight years on the force, is survived by a widow and three children.

Another victim, Eugene Nilssen, 35 years old, agent of a vacuum cleaner company, arrived at his home, 143 North Parkside avenue, complaining of the weather. Before a physician answered the summons of Nilssen's wife he was dead.

Others who succumbed were Mrs. Mary Kowal, 52 years old, 13243 Baltimore avenue; Valenty Wissieski, 87 years old, 2018 North Winchester avenue; Mrs. ary Conklin, 32 year old, 8205 South Laflin street, and Miss Pauline Dohnetz, 52 years old, a milliner of 1620 South Turner avenue.

Identify Heat Victim.

The well dressed man who fell dead at the Chicago Gospel tabernacle at the Sunday afternoon services was identified yesterday by relatives as B. C. Smith, 53 years old, 2133 Morse avenue.

The latest drowning victims were: Charles Krisiak, 53 years old, 2622 North Hamlin avenue, a janitor, whose body was recovered from Beverly lake, four miles north of Roselle, Ill., and Walter Bajrowski, 16 years old, 5421 South Mozart street, who went down in Petite lake, north of Fox lake.

The drought attending the recurrent heat waves, which for a month have worried farmers of the central states, caused a crisis which brought residents of Forest Park out to a massmeeting last night. Three artesian wells, which for eight years had supplied the village sufficient water, began to fail a week ago, and if Oak Park had not lent assistance, the Forest Park folk would have lacked even drinking water. According to Mayor George Gold, it was decided to take action immediately to purchase water hereafter from Chicago.

Heat Menaces Aquarium.

The protracted heat had threatened to exterminate hundreds of fish at Lincoln park aquarium, according to George Young, superintendent. The aquarium's ice plane was inadequate to keep the tanks at the proper temperature, Mr. Young said.

In addition to enormous crop damage, the drought was impeding navigation on the Mississippi river, the Associated Press reported. At St. Louis yesterday the river stage fell to 3.7 feet, the lowest on record for July.

Temperatures too intense to permit ordinary work prevailed in lower Illinois and Missouri before the cooling break came last evening. Salem, Ill., reported 114 degrees; Centralia, 108; Mount Carmel, 111; Carbondale and Hillsboro, 112, and Duquoin, 111. At Marion, Ill., the Rev. Clyde Bailey, former chief of police, called a special prayer meeting for rain.

Eastern states received relief from the heat yesterday. In Washington, D. C., the maximum was 90, as compared to 100 on Sunday.

POLICEMAN KILLS YOUTH CAUGHT IN HOLDUP ATTEMPT

An unidentified youth about 24 years old was shot to death early this morning by Sergt. Joseph Kelly of the Hyde Park district after the sergeant had caught him and a companion in an attempted holdup.

The youth, who was unarmed, and a companion, who later escaped, drew up in a stolen car beside Frank V. Donovan, manager of a Sears, Roebuck & Co. department store at 79th street and Kenwood avenue, as Donovan neared the Windermere hotel, where he resides. Observing the action, Sergt. Kelly called on the robber to surrender.

The youth whirled and ran at the sergeant. They scuffled a moment until Kelly drew his gun, firing one shot, which wounded the holdup man below the heart. After emptying his pistol at the other youth, who fled on foot, Kelly and Donovan took the wounded man to the Illinois Central hospital, where he died five minutes after admittance.

$5,000 Worth of Jewelry in Secret Drawer Stolen

Edward D. Payne, 423 Laurel avenue, Wilmette, an advertising man, yesterday reported to the detective bureau the theft of $5,000 worth of jewelry from a secret drawer in Mrs. Payne's dresser. They suspect it was taken by some one who had worked for them.

100,000 Drop Tools; Protest 'Age' Pension

BY HENRY WALES.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, July 28.—More than 100,000 workers in northern France today left their jobs in one of the strangest strikes Europe has ever seen. They are striking against France's new law, which seeks to create a fund for the care of the workers in old age or when they become ill.

While a majority of the labor unions have accepted the law in principle, they demand that the employers raise wages sufficiently to cover the deductions made from the workers' pay for the insurance fund. The law provides that employers and employés shall each pay one-half of the premiums.

The strike now centers in Rouen, Lille, Roubaix, Tourcoing, St. Quentin and Armentierres, but is spreading rapidly to other industrial cities.

Clash with Police in Rouen.

In Rouen today, strikers carrying red flags and singing the Internationale, demonstrated against payment for the insurance. They marched through the main streets, provoking numerous clashes with police.

Squads of mounted republican guards, posted at strategic corners, kept the strikers moving. The guards put down occasional outbreaks with charges with clubs. Numerous heads were cracked and several arrests made.

When the gendarmes charged the strikers in the park at St. Maur, the latter took refuge in ditches dug for gas pipes and met the attackers with a hail of stones. It was like regular trench warfare until the police overcame the mob.

Strike in Lille Grows.

Seventy-five per cent of the 15,000 textile workers in the Lille district joined the strike today. The workers' committee voted that the employers must pay for the old age pensions and insurance for the workers, and also demanded a general wage increase to five times the prewar schedules to conform to the franc's fall to one-fifth of its original gold value.

The building trades threaten to walk out in sympathy, which would affect thousands more.

The government has sent reinforcements of mounted republican guards to maintain order as communist agents among the strikers are threatening to foment trouble.

The strike also spread this evening to the St. Quentin region, where the metallurgical workers threaten to follow their companions in the textile trades.

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, July 28.—An unexpected end has been put to a little romance at the British embassy in Washington, it was reported tonight. After returning to England with the intention of obtaining her parents' consent to an engagement to Ambassador Lindsay's Italian butler, Signor Del Agnes, at Washington, Miss Gytha Stourton will remain here.

Miss Stourton is related to Baron Mowbray of Segrave and Stourton and went to Washington in 1924 as social secretary to Lady Howard, wife of the British ambassador.

Her father, Herbert M. Stourton, grandson of the 19th baron of Stourton, said tonight he has withheld consent to his daughter's engagement.

CHICAGOAN ENDS LIFE WITH RIFLE IN NORTH WOODS

Word came out of the north woods of Minnesota yesterday that Soren J. Heiberg, 56 years old, 415 Fullerton parkway, wealthy manufacturer and prominent in Danish circles, had shot himself to death Sunday morning in the cabin of his island retreat in Wasson lake, 45 miles northwest of Hibbing, in Itasca county.

Worry over financial reverses was the reason for the suicide given by Deputy Coroner A. P. Peterson at Hibbing after reading two letters left by Mr. Heiberg. He used a 30-30 Winchester rifle, firing a bullet into his heart as friends were rowing toward the cabin to take him to breakfast at a neighboring lodge.

Mr. Heiberg's brother, William, left for this city yesterday with the body. Mr. Heiberg leaves a widow and three children, all of whom are now in Denmark. He was president of the Heiberg Syrup company with factories in this country and Denmark.

Premier King Party Beaten in Canada Vote

BULLETIN.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 29 (Tuesday.)—(Special.)—With one hundred and twenty-seven seats conceded to Conservative candidates at 2 o'clock this morning it became certain that Richard B. Bennett, Conservative leader in Canada, will be called upon to form a Conservative government to succeed the Mackenzie King government, which has been in power nine years.

BULLETIN.

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., July 28.—(AP)—Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King was re-elected to the house of commons today. With the tally incomplete his lead of 1,200 votes over G. Braden, Conservative, was considered safe.

BY GEORGE SMITH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., July 29 [Tuesday].—Sweeping into Quebec province ridings which for years have given political adherence to the Mackenzie King government, and sending at least five Liberal cabinet ministers, including Finance Minister Charles A. Dunning, to defeat in their respective ridings, the Conservative party of Canada in yesterday's dominion election ousted the Mackenzie King government from office.

Their Party Affiliations.

Party affiliations of 220 members elected were:

Conservatives, 127; Liberals, 77; United Farmers, 8; Progressive, 2; Liberal-Progressive, 2; Labor, 2; Independent, 2. There are 245 seats in the house of commons.

Premier Mackenzie King himself, who had lagged in early returns, apparently has defeated his Conservative opponent in Prince Albert, Saskatchewan. Members of his cabinet who have conceded defeat are:

Finance Minister Charles A. Dunning in Regina, who drew up the budget increasing tariffs against the United States and lowering them to Great Britain, which constituted the main issue of the campaign; Thomas Crerar, minister of railways, in Brandon, who recently joined the government; Cyrus MacMillan, newly appointed minister of fisheries, beaten in Prince Edward Island by a Conservative; Fred Kay, minister without portfolio, beaten by a Conservative in Brome Mississquoi, Quebec, and Solicitor General Lucien Cannon in Dorchester, Quebec.

Quebec Goes Conservative.

Miss Agnes McPhail, first woman ever elected to the Canadian parliament, retained her seat. She was first elected to the house of commons in 1921 from South Grey East, Ontario.

While the Conservative penetration into previously solidly Liberal Quebec province was the most notable of today's election turnovers, the Conservatives cut into Liberal strength all across Canada, even if it were ever so slightly in the maritime provinces and in Ontario.

The parties locked and teetered in Ontario, with mutual gains from each other, but the Conservatives emerged with net Ontario gains of several seats.

The west, still counted upon by Liberal workers to roll up its customary Liberal majorities against the Conservatives, then commenced to indicate a swing to the Conservatives.

Quick Session Expected.

A quick call to a session of the Canadian parliament is considered one certain result of the political upset.

Canada's extension of tariff preferences to Great Britain, without exacting tariff preferences in return, can be expected to be withdrawn or modified as the result of the election. The electors turned it down in defeating the government candidates. Canada, in other words, will make its trade treaties with the world, irrespective of empire ties and sentiment.

The St. Lawrence seaways is once more thrown in the realm of political controversy and uncertainty. Higher tariffs against the United States in the absence of a Canadian-American trade agreement, are to be expected under a Bennett premiership.

DU PONT HEIRESS, LEARNING TO FLY, HAS A COLLISION

Boston, Mass., July 28.—(AP)—Miss Alice du Pont of Wilmington, Del., daughter of A. Felix du Pont, vice president of the Dupont interests, narrowly escaped injury today at the East Boston airport while taking federal tests for a private pilot licensa. The young heiress had made three successful landings and was taxiing when her plane went into a ground loop and crashed into the tail of another plane. Both ships were damaged.

BRITAIN'S GREAT DIRIGIBLE SAILS FOR MONTREAL

Airship, 44 Aboard, Due Friday.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CARDINGTON, Eng., July 29.—[Tuesday, 4 a. m.]—The R-100, biggest dirigible in the world, sailed out into the skies on its trans-Atlantic flight to Montreal at 3:45 o'clock this morning (9:45 p. m. Monday, Chicago daylight time). The ship is scheduled to reach Montreal early Friday morning. It is under command of Squadron Leader R. S. Booth.

The airship, with its 5,150,000 cubic feet of gas, cast loose from her mooring mast and shot upward smoothly as a vast crowd, which had braved a night of cold winds to watch the takeoff, cheered. For a few minutes the ship, 700 feet long and 133 feet wide, was outlined against a clear sky. Then, as dawn began to break, the R-100 disappeared from view headed toward Liverpool and the Irish sea.

A Businesslike Takeoff.

It was a businesslike takeoff. About 3 o'clock the engines were started. One after another the engines belched fire as they started to warm up. Members of the crew, who had descended in the elevator in the mooring tower for last words with relatives and friends or a final cigaret until the ship anchors in Montreal, were called to their stations. Men began casting off the mooring ropes. Suddenly the nose anchor of the ship was released and the R-100 soared gracefully away.

In view of weather reports, the ship will take a northerly route, which is the great circle course, by way of north Ireland to a point south of Cape Farewell, Greenland, then to Belle Isle, off Labrador, and then along the St. Lawrence river to St. Hubert air station at Montreal. This is a distance of 3,242 statute miles.

Carries Chew of 39.

The ship's personnel comprises 44, including five officers. It also carries as passengers Lieutenant Commander Sir Charles Dennistoun Burney, managing director of the firm which constructed the R-100, and Lieutenant Commander R. St. John Prentice of the British aircraft carrier Courageous, representing the admiralty. Maj. G. H. Scott, famous British airship commander, is also aboard, but not in command.

Arrangements have been made to make a number of experiments during the flight in behalf of the Cambridge school of agriculture in order to ascertain whether the upper air over the Atlantic contains traces of the existence of vegetable organisms and minute living spores. If their existence can be proved it will provide data upon certain outstanding problems in the botanical world.

Equipped with Radio.

The airship is equipped for long wave transmission and long and short wave reception. Its call signal and registration mark is G-FAAV. When within about 100 miles from St. Hubert, the airship may change over from wireless telegraphy to radio telephony. A short broadcast talk will be given from the airship during the final stage by Wing Commander Colmore, British director of airship development.

In addition to the usual weather reports received by the airship during the voyage, experimental transmission of weather maps by the British Fultograph system may be carried out at convenient times from Cardington, where special transmitters have been installed. This may prove a valuable adjunct to weather information.

Crew Entirely Civilian.

A relief watch was sent to Canada some time ago, the members of which will take the place for the homecoming voyage of some of the outward going crew.

The crew of the R-100 is entirely civilian, with the exception of two officers and one noncommissioner officer.

The ship will carry food for five days; three days' ordinary rations, one day's reserve rations, and one day's emergency rations. The total amount of food will weigh 2,000 pounds, and 500 gallons of drinking water will be required during the flight.

BIGGEST SHIP IN WORLD.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

The R-100 and the R-101 are the largest airships in the world. The R-100 is 709 feet long and 133 feet wide, while the R-101 is 724 feet long and is slightly slimmer.

The R-100 was originally designed for the London-Egypt-India trade and is so constructed that its cruising radius should range between 4,000 and 6,000 miles. It can carry a load of ten tons of freight in addition to a passenger list of fifty.

A feature of the R-100 is that it incorporated a design which seeks to diminish air resistance by including the passenger accommodations within the envelope. The volume of the gas bags is 5,150,000 cubic feet, giving the ship a gross lift of 156 tons.

First British Hop Since 1919.

The last trip of a British dirigible across the Atlantic to the North American continent was in 1919, when the dirigible R-34 crossed the Atlantic ocean from Scotland to Mineola, N. Y., covering 3,200 miles in 108 hours. She carried a crew of 31 persons, including a stowaway. The return journey of about 3,000 miles was made in 79 hours.

The R-34 was the first craft of its kind to cross the Atlantic. It had a cubic capacity of 1,960,000 feet and a length of 640 feet. The R-34 was wrecked in 1921 by a windstorm at Hamden, which almost cut her in two.

Since the voyage of the R-34 to the United States, two other dirigibles have made the crossing, the ZR-3, now the Los Angeles, which was built in Germany and was flown to the United States by Dr. Hugo Eckener as part of the German war reparations to the United States, and the famous Graf Zeppelin which has made several trips to America and one voyage around the world.

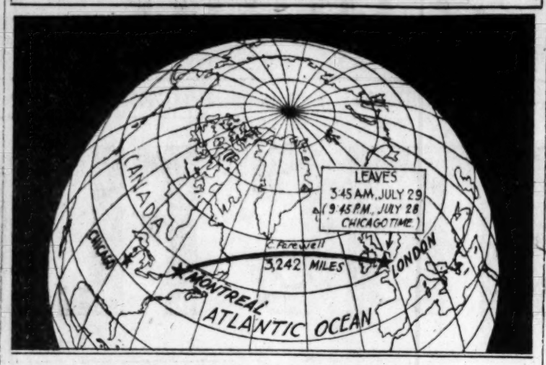
Constant Radio Communication.

Preparations for communication by wireless with the R-100 have been made, both in Great Britain and in Canada. Not only will there be direct communication with the airship and its bases, but a constant exchange of information with the ship when in flight.

Direct communication will be maintained by St. Hubert Field, near Montreal, and Cardington, England, the ship's home base. After passing mid-ocean the airship will be in direct communication with the Canadian station at Louisburg, N. S.

Weather forecasts will be collected in Toronto and sent to the airship by the most direct method.

GIANT DIRIGIBLE FLYING ATLANTIC



Map shows route which will be taken by the R-100, British airship, which took off from Cardington, England, at 3:45 a. m. today [9:45 p. m. Monday Chicago daylight saving time] for Montreal, Canada. The airship, which with the British R-101 is the largest dirigible in the world, is expected to follow the northern great circle route. From north Ireland it will set a course which will take it just south of Cape Farewell, Greenland, then to Belle Isle, off Labrador, and then along the St. Lawrence river to St. Hubert air station, Montreal, where it is expected Friday morning.

BERLIN-CHICAGO FLYERS ALL SET FOR ICELAND HOP

Await Fair Weather to Quit Orkneys.

KIRKWALL, Orkney Islands, July 28.—(AP)—Wolfram Hirth and Oscar Weller, German aviators en route from Berlin to Chicago, who plan to cross the north Atlantic to the United States in a light sport plane, tonight expressed the hope that they would be able to hop off tomorrow on the next stage of their trip by way of Iceland and Greenland.

Their departure will depend on weather conditions.

Look for Good Base.

The flyers spent a good part of the day seeking a suitable place to take off for Iceland.

A public park here where the plane now stands is too short to permit a plane to rise with a full load of fuel and oil. Hence the airmen were busy hunting other sites. One place viewed was at Swanbister bay, seven or eight miles from Kirkwall, which was used as an airplane base in the war.

The German airmen, flying a light single motored airplane, arrived at Kirkwall late yesterday from England. They said they would follow the northern air route which will carry them to Newfoundland and will make no effort to get speed or distance records.

Would Land at Detroit.

Upon landing on the North American continent they plan to follow the St. Lawrence river. Their first landing in the United States probably will be Detroit. After reaching Chicago they hope to visit a number of cities in the United States.

Their plane is a 40 horsepower sport machine and carries no excessive baggage, not even radio. It is capable of a speed of 81 miles an hour.

BURNEY, HUSBAND OF CHICAGO WOMAN, IS PASSENGER ON R-100

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 28.—Lieut. Commander Sir Charles Dennistoun Burney, who is aboard the giant British dirigible R-100 on its flight to Canada, is a pioneer and staunch believer in the future of lighter than air craft. He is head of the firm which constructed the R-100.

Sir Charles was in the United States two years ago, when he obtained the approval of the American government for his plan for a regular airship passenger and mail service between Great Britain and the United States. He also discussed with American financiers the formation of an Anglo-American company to operate a fleet of dirigibles between London and New York. The present flight, it is reported, may result in the formation of such a company.

Sir Charles is well known to many Chicagoans. He is the husband of the former Gladys High, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Henry High of Lake Shore drive, Chicago. They were married in London in March, 1921. Their wedding was one of the events of the London season that year.

EXTORTIONIER IS SENT TO PRISON IN SPEEDY STYLE

Lansing, Mich., July 28.—[Special.]—Within 48 hours after his arrest by state police here, Samuel J. Meyers was on his way to Jackson prison today to serve a term of from 23 months to two years for attempting to extort $15,000 from Richard H. Scott, president of the Reo Motor Car company.

Meyers was arrested Saturday after he had retrieved a package supposed to contain the cash he had demanded under threat of death in letters sent Scott. He confessed that he had conceived the extortion plot as a means of ending his financial difficulties. An auto factory employé in boom times, he had been laid off most of the time for months, and his payments on a house he was buying are in arrears. He threatened the lives of Scott and members of his family in the letters unless the sum named was given him. When taken into court today he pleaded guilty and was given the maximum sentence for the offense by Judge Leland W. Carr.

Alcock's Nephew Fails to Pay Fine in Traffic Case

John H. Alcock, 23 years old, 1123 South Marshfield avenue, nephew of Acting Police Commissioner John H. Alcock, did not appear at the city hall yesterday to pay his $2 fine for driving past a stop light at Madison street and Homan avenue on Sunday. He has another opportunity to appear this morning.

U. S. DRYS SEIZE SCOTCH WHISKY FROM FLORIDA

Special prohibition agents yesterday seized 480 quarts of Scotch whisky sent by express from Miami, Fla., to Chicago, the fourth such seizure in two weeks.

Dry agents yesterday raided a miniature brewery at 1511 West 19th street and arrested Gene Stein and Thomas Ryan. The following were arrested in saloon raids: James Garrity, 600 North Wells street; John Lahey, 2001 Lincoln avenue; Axel Liben and John Gustafson, 3106 Sheffield avenue, and Frank Maceza, 1835 South Wood street. Walter Fyncak and James Flogick were arrested in a raid on a cabaret dance hall at 1700 West 21st street.

A small still was found in the home of Ted Wilborn, 647 East 75th street and he was arrested.

FLOOD IN INDIA GROWS AS 15,000 FLEE FROM HOMES

KARACHI, India, July 28.—(AP)—Fifteen thousand persons from Shikarpur and Sultankote poured into Karachi and Sukkur by rail and highway today to escape flood waters pouring over the upper Sind and skirting the only rail line offering escape.

Shikarpur tonight was in imminent danger of being wiped out. Hundreds of constables left Sukkur for that city yesterday to help with the relief work. A canal was cut to relieve pressure on embankments of the Indus river in the hope of saving Shikarpur.

Abnormal rains are the cause of the floods which have resulted in extremely heavy financial losses.

Prisoners Revel on Prison Alky; 1 Dead, 1 Dying

Detroit, Mich., July 28.—(AP)—One prisoner of the Detroit house of correction is dead, another dying, and a third is recovering today as a result of a "wood alcohol party" in the prison warehouse. The three, serving terms because of nonpayment of alimony, broke into the warehouse and took the alcohol, which was intended for use in painting. Paul Selke, 38, died, and Stanley Bsdzynski, 38, is expected to die. Ignace Wiskowski, 40, will recover.

Dorothy Mackaill Sues for $16,250 Back Salary

Los Angeles, Cal., July 28.—(AP)—Dorothy Mackaill, film acress, today filed suit for $16,250 back salary against the First National Pictures corporation. She alleged she had not received wages for the last month which were due her under a five year contract made in July, 1925.

Third Member of Gang Is Severely Wounded.

Glencross, S. D., July 28.—(AP)—Walking into a carefully laid trap, two bank robbers are dead as the result of a robbery here today, and a third is believed fatally wounded. The dead were identified as George A. Anderson and George De Batin.

Tipped off that their institution was to be robbed, officials of the Glencross State bank made plans to trap the bandits.

Met by Woman Clerk.

Mrs. R. J. Schirber, wife of the bank cashier, was alone when the trio entered, her husband being hidden in a front office. The leader of the trio asked to cash a check, was refused by Mrs. Schirber, who demanded identification, and was promptly ordered to "stick 'em up and tell us where the dough is."

Acting in accordance with the plan of the trap, Mrs. Schirber told the leader where money was to be found. As his two companions stood guard he gathered $1,800 in silver and currency into a flour sack.

Leader Shot First.

The leader, last to leave the bank, was shot by Schirber from his hiding place before he reached the street. Sheriff Henry Johnson, also on guard, opened fire on the two almost at the same time, killing one and wounding the third.

Anderson, the alleged leader, was formerly of the Trail City and Timber Lake, S. D., districts; De Batin formerly lived at Yankton, S. D., authorities said. Melvin Scranton, the wounded bandit, is in a Mobridge hospital, and he, too, is said to be from Timber Lake. He is expected to die.

Tip Off Authorities.

Sheriff Johnson said tonight Arnold S. Kaiser and Ed Kaiser were to have participated in the robbery, but they "tipped" authorities instead.

The sheriff said the Kaiser boys came to him Friday and said they were in "so deep" with the gang they couldn't get out, but wanted a way to freedom. Arnold, the sheriff said, drove the five men to Glencross, locked the car, and walked away. His brother, Ed, who was supposed to guard the rear door of the bank, crept down into the basement, and waited until the shooting was over.

Sheriff Johnson said the Kaiser boys "apparently had gotten in over their heads before they realized what they were doing." The sheriff released them after questioning.

Ex-Commissioner Russell Given Furlough Extension

Former Police Commissioner Russell yesterday asked for and obtained a fifteen day extension to his present furlough, appearing at Acting Commissioner Alcock's office, where the furlough was granted without comment. Capt. Russell began his leave on June 18, which would have expired Aug. 1. The former chief looked ruddy and fit, a condition he attributed to the intensive use of his golf clubs.

TORNADO KILLS 20

Four-fifths of the houses in Adrianople, ancient capital of the Turkish empire, were blown down by a tornado yesterday. This picturesque city of 60,000 is a great trade center for textiles and perfumery.

TORNADO LEAVES ADRIANOPLE IN RUIN; 20 KILLED

Hundreds Hurt; Famed Minarets Fall.

ADRIANOPLE, Turkey, July 28.—(AP)—This ancient capital of the Ottoman empire and treasure store of Moslem architecture tonight was a mass of fallen minarets, domes and roofs, blown over by a tornado that killed twenty persons and injured hundreds yesterday.

Four-fifths of the houses in the city, which has a population of about 60,000, were destroyed. The tornado spared the roofs of big government buildings, but literary blew out the windows and doors. Official documents were whirled out through the streets like snow.

Trees Are Uprooted.

After the tornado hailstones the size of walnuts poured down. Crops in the surrounding country were ruined and trees were uprooted.

Nine minarets, picturesque Moslem towers giving a distinctive quality to the "skyline" of Adrianople, were hurled by the tornado to the ground. So were the tops of four minarets rising from the famous mosque of the Sultan Selim, one of the great treasures of Moslem architecture.

Lasts 22 Minutes.

The tornado struck suddenly. After a hot and oppressive day the wind rose in the evening and then with a terrific roar the tornado swooped on the city. Twenty-two minutes later the hail poured.

A freak accident occurred in the crash of one of the minarets. The stones fell on a carriage, killing the two horses but not touching the occupants.

Stone Hits Tree Sitter and Ends His Marathon

Twelve year old Donald Hattersly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Hattersly of Aurora, involuntarily ended his tree sitting marathon yesterday at the 306 hour mark when a neighbor boy hit him on the head with a stone and he fell 25 feet to earth. The parents of the neighbor boy had ordered him down from his tree several days ago. Aside from bruises Donald was not injured.

HOLD ROBBERY MURDER INQUEST.

A verdict of murder was returned yesterday by a coroner's jury investigating the fatal shooting of Samuel Easerman, 40 years old, owner of a grocery at 364 North Kedzie avenue, by two robbers on Sunday night. The bandits escaped.

ITALY TO REBUILD RUINED CITIES TO BE 'QUAKEPROOF'

King Orders Construction in Safer Regions.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, July 29.—Minister of Public Works Crollalanza, who is directing the relief work in the earthquake area, returned to Rome today to attend tomorrow's special session of the council of ministers, which is to meet in order to appropriate funds and make provisions for the rehabilitation of the devastated region. King Victor Emmanuel also returned to Rome this morning after a four day tour of the ruined towns.

Construction of the first houses in the wrecked towns will begin tomorrow. On orders of King Victor Emmanuel all will be built along new lines, so they will be proof against future quakes. At Melfi new buildings will be prohibited in the part of the town wrecked by the quake. Reconstruction is to begin at a lower level of the town, which has never been touched, either in this quake or in previous ones.

Death List Still 2,142.

Minister Crollalanza in his third report, issued today, said there had been no increase in the list of dead beyond the figure already announced of 2,142. He did not believe this figure would be greatly exceeded.

Although Premier Mussolini has banned public subscriptions there have been many spontaneous private gifts. These today attained a figure of several million lire. Minister of Finance Mosconi announced that no more contributions would be accepted.

While the work of dismantling houses and demolishing dangerous walls that are still standing goes on, work in the fields was resumed today, including such tasks as finishing the harvest and taking care of livestock whose owners have been killed. As a matter of fact in many districts near the ruined towns the peasants have never stopped their work.

Plenty of Food for Victims.

Minister Crollalanza reports that food provisions throughout the quake area are plentiful and that the distribution is regular, while the morale of the people is excellent.

All permission to enter the devastated zone by curious sightseers was revoked today in order to facilitate the work of reconstruction and reorganization.

It is calculated that within three months most of the work of reconstruction will have been completed, thus assuring homeless people of shelter before winter sets in.

ROB DRUG STORE MANAGER.

Otto R. Ende, 10756 South Wood street, manager of a Walgreen drug store at 1760 West 95th street, was held up yesterday by two bandits, who took $300 from the office safe.

BACKBONE OF ITALY BROKEN BY QUAKE, EXPERT DECLARES

POMPEII, Italy, July 28.—(AP)—Father G. B. Alfano, director of the Pompeii observatory, today said that last Wednesday's earthquake "broke the geological backbone of Italy."

The Apennine mountains were cracked open, he said, and guides soon would find a fissure in the mountain chain perhaps 100 kilometers long and more than a meter wide.

"The earthquake was of orogenetical nature," he said.

"It can be ascribed to the cause which has produced the raising of the Apennine chain," he said. "This raising is slow, but there is enormous pressure on the chain itself. When this passes beyond the limit of the elasticity of the masses of earth and rock it produces a fracture. Then the rapid diminution of pressure produces the earthquake vibrations."

ETTELSON TELLS WHY RUSSELL WAS MADE CHIEF

City Official Is Witness Before Grand Jury.

$55,725 IN REWARDS.

Rewards totaling $55,725 are offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the slayer of Alfred Lingle, Tribune reporter. Of the $25,000 reward offered by The Tribune, $10,000 will be paid to any person who will give confidential information identifying the slayer of Lingle. All information should be sent to the headquarters established by State's Attorney Swanson in room 503 Temple building, 77 West Washington street. Telephone State 3729.

The grand jury heard yesterday how William F. Russell was elevated from the post of deputy commissioner to commissioner of police. The jury was told that Alfred (Jake) Lingle, slain TRIBUNE reporter, had no hand in the promotion of his old time friend to the highest post in the police department, and in fact had no knowledge in advance that there was about to be a change in the police department.

Corporation Counsel Samuel Ettelson testified for 40 minutes before the grand jury, which is conducting an investigation into matters connected with the Lingle killing and into charges of racketeering among Chicago newspaper men which were made by Harry T. Brundidge, reporter on the St. Louis Star. Mr. Ettelson, it is reported, told how Russell came to be appointed.

Tells of Police Criticism.

Ettelson's testimony showed that the Russell appointment, so it is reported, was the result of a desire by leading members of the administration of Mayor Thompson to put an end to the public clamor regarding the police department by the appointment of the man thought best fitted for the job.

Col. Robert R. McCormick, publisher of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, was another witness before the jury. He appeared, as did Mr. Ettelson, by invitation of the jury to tell what knowledge he may have of any possible clews to the Lingle murder and how best the jury can go about helping in a cleanup of gang conditions in Chicago.

Col. McCormick announced to the waiting reporters before entering the jury room that he was willing to give the substance of his grand jury testimony providing it was agreeable to the jurors. When he emerged from the jury room after a session of about one hour Col. McCormick said:

"The jurors requested me not to make any statement regarding my testimony. I therefore am not at liberty to make any statement."

Stuart Is a Witness.

William H. Stuart, political editor of the Chicago Evening American, was the only other witness before the jury, although a case having to do with newspaper men was heard and passed on by the jurors during the day.

"I know of no profession whose ethic or ideals are higher than those of the newspaper men," said Stuart after leaving the jury room. "Regarding newspaper rackets, I don't know of any."

It is reported that Stuart denied to the jurors that there was any basis for his being called the "unofficial mayor of Chicago" or that he had any knowledge of any reported sharing in any racketeer scheme to get 5 cents for every sack of cement sold to the city. This was one of the charges made by Brundidge in his stories. Stuart also told the jurors that reports of his friendship with Mayor Thompson "have been greatly exaggerated."

3 Named in True Bills.

The only postive action taken by the jurors so far in their investigations is the reported voting of true bills against three men charging them with conspiracy to obtain money by false pretenses.

Matt Foley, until recently an executive in the circulation department of the Herald and Examiner, but now a fugitive from justice, and H. Goodman, a driver for the same paper, are named with Leo Schoemer, a railroad employé, in a joint indictment. They are charged with having operated a fake lottery on the Kentucky Derby.

Corporation Counsel Ettelson refused to discuss his testimony before the jury and the jurors refused to issue any statements, as did Assistant State's Attorneys William A. Rittenhouse and Edwin J. Spiro.

However, from other sources the substance of his testimony was obtained. It was understood to be essentially as follows:

During the months of June and July 1928 a special grand jury was in session and talk of inefficiency of the police department was the topic of the time. The killing of Octavius Granady, candidate for ward committeeman in the 20th ward, was one of the matters then under investigation by Special Prosecutor Frank J. Loesch and charges were made that the police were involved.

Eugene R. Pike, former city controller and former president of the Lincoln park board, and a close friend of Mayor Thompson; County Treasurer George F. Harding, and other Thompson chieftains decided that it was time for a change in the police department. Michael Hughes, then commissioner, was in poor health at the time.

Decide on Russell.

The Thompson chieftains considered the deputy commissioners in the department and settled on Russell as the logical man to succeed Hughes. Russell was tendered the appointment, but refused at first. He finally consented to take the job after he had been told that his conditions—first that he be given a free hand and second that John Stege be reinstated as chief of detectives—would be met.

The corporation counsel told the jurors that so far as he knew Lingle had no hand in the appointment nor any knowledge of it until after it was generally known in the city hall.

The jurors will probably close up the investigation tomorrow morning when Chief Investigator Pat Roche of the state's attorney's office, Special State's Attorney Charles Rathbun, a member of THE TRIBUNE law firm, and Prosecutor James McShane, who are all working on the Lingle killing, tell the jury "confidentially" what they are doing to solve the crime.

NAVIGATOR DESCRIBES A VAST "DEAD SPOT" IN PACIFIC OCEAN

Washington, D. C., July 28.—[Special.]—The existence in the Pacific ocean of a curious and vast subsurface "dead spot," within which no living thing is to be found, was revealed tonight in a radio address from here by O. W. Torreson, who was navigator and executive officer of the nonmagnetic scientific yacht Carnegie on the final cruise of that celebrated craft. The Carnegie was destroyed by fire in harbor at Apia, western Samoa, in November of last year.

This area of oxygenless and lifeless water begins at a depth of 50 fathoms in the tropical Pacific, according to Mr. Torreson, who spoke tonight over a network of the National Broadcasting company. The area itself has a depth of 1,000 feet, is 100 miles wide, and extends for a long distance not yet determined.

JURY RELEASES FATHER OF BABY IN RUM TRAGEDY

Edward M. Johnston, the young broker who Saturday night drank two ounces of alcohol and roused later to find his 5 months old baby dead on the floor beside him, was released by a coroner's jury yesterday. Coroner Bundesen presided at the inquest, held at the Grand Crossing police station.

Several among the spectators were in tears as Mrs. Johnston, who has been under the care of a physician, was assisted to the stand to answer a few questions.

To Dr. Bundesen she replied, "O no, never, never!" when he asked whether her husband was ever cruel. As she was being taken away, photographers' flashlights boomed, and Mrs. Johnston fainted.

Johnston himself told his story in a low voice. He related having drunk some beer and when his wife left to visit her brother, he took two ounces of alcohol in ice water. He said he was befogged by the drink, but recalls hearing the baby cry and picking her up. He believes he stumbled over furniture twice and fell with the infant, the second time toppling over backward with the baby beneath. Business associates and relatives testified to Johnston's good reputation and declared he was an indulgent father.

Mary Jane, the baby, will be buried this afternoon at Holy Sepulchre cemetery.

Pedro Trinidad, rape, sentenced to 1 year in the penitentiary by Judge Phillip Finnegan.

John Lynch, robbery, sentenced to 1 to 20 years in the penitentiary by Judge E. I. Frankhauser.

Three youthful members of a robber gang were held to the grand jury yesterday on charges of robbery and assault to kill. Judge John Sbarbaro fixed the bonds of the youths at $55,000 each.

They are: Charles Frady, 23, of 4140 Drexel avenue; Floyd Sherman, 25 years old, and George Pratt, 24, of 5335 Ellis avenue, a taxicab driver. They were seized last Friday when they tried to rob Henry Gaebe, 5438 Kenwood avenue, clerk of the Mayfair hotel, 5496 Hyde Park boulevard.

FIST FIGHT ENLIVENS "HARMONY" RALLY OF DEMOCRATIC LEADERS

Worcester, Mass., July 28.—(AP)—A "harmony" meeting of Massachusetts Democratic leaders, called to select a slate for the state primary, failed to accomplish its business today after a fist fight developed between two delegates.

An effort to prevent the conference from sponsoring any certain candidates was led by Congressman W. M. Connery of Lynn. He introduced a resolution to prevent such action and it was during the speeches that the disorder developed.

Connery's resolution was passed, 268 to 255, but the vote was doubted. Then the fist fight in the back of the hall started. A policeman dragged one of the battlers out.

Joseph B. Ely of Westfield, a candidate for governor, urged defeat of any move to vote on candidates. Those who had doubted the vote on Connery's motion, withdrew their objection. The meeting went on, but without action on candidates.

United States Senator David I. Walsh said the unemployment situation was a political condition and it needed the best thought and leadership of the administration in Washington.

MRS. H. P. JUDSON, WIDOW OF U. C. PRESIDENT, IS ILL

Mrs. Harry Pratt Judson, 60 years old, widow of the second president of the University of Chicago, is seriously ill at the Albert Billings Memorial hospital, it was learned yesterday. She ended a European tour to return to the hospital. Her physician, Dr. Russell M. Wilder, said last night:

"It is a lingering illness from which she is not expected to recover. I am not positive, however, what the situation is yet. I am suspicious it is brain tumor."

Mrs. Judson is the mother of Mrs. Gordon J. Laing, whose husband is dean of the graduate school of arts and literature. She was in Europe with Mrs. Moses Wentworth and Mrs. Lawrence Williams. Their destination was Oberamergau, Germany, for the Passion play, but Mrs. Judson left them in France.

ASK STEGE AID TO SAFEGUARD TOBACCO TRADE

Jobbers of Chicago Send Plea to Alcock.

Moses W. Levin, vice president of the Nathan Fox company and a director of the Chicago Tobacco Jobbers' association, announced yesterday that Acting Police Commissioner Alcock had been requested to give Capt John Stege an assignment which will enable him to help protect the tobacco dealers from robbery and burglary. Capt. Stege, who until recently was chief of detectives, is now shelved in the miscellaneous division.

"The tobacco industry of Chicago does a business of $50,000,000 a year, but there is considerable loss due to robberies and burglaries," Mr. Levin explained. "Our company alone had theft losses of $30,000 from 1922 to 1928. In one month of 1927 the jobbers' losses amounted to $25,000.

"In only one instance was there a recovery and Capt. Stege was responsible for that. He sent men to search a garage on the west side and our merchandise was found in it along with 200 cases of beer and a city truck. If it hadn't been for Stege we'd never have recovered the $4,000 loot.

Praise Capt. Stege's Work.

"Our experience in two or three cases convinced us that we had a valuable friend in Stege while he was in charge of the detective bureau. We didn't have such good results in the criminal courts, however. Two receivers of stolen property were found not guilty and in another instance an indictment was dismissed because of a technical flaw in the identification of the stolen property.

"Last week a representative of a detective agency asked for a contract to protect our store. We declined and be left with the statement. 'You say you don't need us but you'll find out that you do.' The next day there was an attempted burglary of our premises.

"We learned that Capt. Stege is without a command and that he is kept sitting on a bench all day in a north side police station. The tobacco industry petitions for his services."

Sends Plea to Alcock.

In a letter to Alcock the tobacco merchant wrote: "I have absolutely no interest in Capt. Stege personally other than a sincere admiration for one of the smartest 'coppers' that ever worked in any police department. Capt. Stege has worked on several of our jobs in the past and he was the only officer in the history of our 35 years' contact with the police department that succeeded in recovering stolen goods.

"You evidently know that 'hoisting' of tobacco trucks is practically a weekly affair in this city. We ourselves have suffered to the extent of close to $30,000 in seven years. The recoveries have totaled $4,000 and Capt. Stege was responsible for same."

Mr. Levin said there were no losses during the time Capt. William F. Russell was police commissioner and Stege was deputy commissioner in charge of detectives. Alcock refused to comment on the request of the tobacco jobbers.

SUSPEND LICENSE OF NOTED OCEAN FLYER FOR BERMUDA FLIGHT

New York, July 28.—[Special.]—Roger Q. Williams was a trifle stunned today when he received notice from Gilbert C. Budwig, director of air regulation in the department of commerce, that his pilot's license had been suspended for ninety days because in his recent nonstop round trip flight he flew over Bermuda, British territory.

"On our flight from Maine to Rome, Yancey and I flew over a lot of countries just the same as other trans-Atlantic airmen have done, and nothing was said about it," Williams said. "When we took the Pathfinder to Cherbourg to put her on a boat we received an amusing telegram from the French air ministry, saying that inasmuch as we already had flown over 75 per cent of the military fortifications of France, permission was thereby granted to fly over them all."

Williams added ruefully that the suspension will take away his "bread and butter at a time when my appetite is still good," because he has been engaged recently in test flying a new eighteen passenger Burnelli monoplane at Roosevelt field, L. I.

INSULL REVIEWS WORK OF MONTH ON CAR PROJECT

Substantial Progress on Franchise Told.

On July 21 conferences were begun between representatives of the electric, gas, and telephone utilities and representatives of the city regarding the removal of pipes, wires, vaults, and other property of the utilities in State street preparatory to digging the subway.

Meanwhile surface line companies are proceeding with plans for actual construction work on extensions and improvements to be started in the near future, which will add a material number of men to their forces.

Also, almost as soon as the ordinance was approved, the Rapid Transit company announced that plans for extensions and betterments were already under way and would be pushed by an augmented force. The company at once sent out offers to purchase about two hundred parcels of real estate needed for the building of third and fourth tracks for express service on the Garfield Park division. A considerable part of the land needed was acquired as a result of this effort, and on July 25 condemnation suits were filed against the landowners with whom private settlements could not be made.

Substantial Work Done.

These seem to me to be very substantial and concrete accomplishments. They are greater than those who knew the initial difficulties of getting such a huge project under way had hoped for.

Besides these concrete things upon which one can lay a finger and say "this has been done" much greater progress has been made. There have been conferences almost without number among those who are devoting all their energies to the work of consolidation, the results of which will be known later.

It should be kept in mind that the entire program involves the tremendous sum of $565,000,000. Of this amount $300,000,000 is new money ($200,000,000 to be raised and spent by the consolidated company and $100,000,000 to be raised and spent by the city for a subway).

Financing Must Be Sound.

There will be $465,000,000 of private capital in the venture at the conclusion of the program, and in justice to the city, which must rely upon the wise expenditure of this money for the improved transportation it desires; in justice to the investors who already have put $265,000,000 into our transportation system, and in justice to those who must contribute $200,000,000 more, there must be a sound financial setup for the new money.

It is to the accomplishment of this setup that the energies of those who have undertaken the task of giving Chicago a satisfactory and adequate transportation must devote themselves first of all.

BOGUS BELGIAN COUNT JAILED IN CALIFORNIA

Los Angeles, Calif., July 28.—[Special.]—Eugene Reique, pseudo Belgian count, known to Pacific coast police under half a dozen other names, was arrested today at Fresno, Calif.

Also under arrest was Mrs. Myrtle A. Nisbett Davis, who posed as his wife, but who in reality is the wife of John C. Davis Sr. of Alhambra, Calif. With the couple police found two children, declared by the police to be the children of Mr. and Mrs. Davis. Reique is said to have married a Red Cross nurse in New York shortly after the close of the war, representing that he was wealthy.

On their journey to California funds ran short and at Omaha he telegraphed friends of his wife for $5,000 and then disappeared.

Council to Get Two Track Elevation Ordinances Today

Two ordinances were approved by the aldermanic track elevation committee yesterday and will be submitted for passage to the city council this afternoon. One provides for the elevation of six tracks crossing Archer avenue near 47th street at a cost of $500,000, which would be borne by the Santa Fe railroad. The other calls for the opening of 33d street between Oakley and Western avenues. In the contract, the Santa Fe agrees to dedicate a strip of land, over which switch tracks have been operating, so that the city can open the street to its full width.

VOTE $50,000 FOR 16 POLICE SQUAD SEDANS

Supplemental Tax Levy Up to Council Today.

Following their approval by the finance committee yesterday the city council will have before it this afternoon the supplemental tax levy ordinance and a recommendation which would add sixteen sedan autos to the squad car equipment of the police department. Hitherto only open cars have been alloted to the crews which tour the city.

The first of these measures, if passed, would provide a supplemental tax levy of $15,160,549 for 1930, split into the following sums:

City corporate fund	$12,879,514
Public library	365,035
Municipal Tuberculosis sanitarium	721,000
Judgment tax fund	1,195,000

If the ordinance is passed it will enable the issuance of some $8,000,000 in tax anticipation warrants authorized by the Strawn relief bills recently passed by the legislature, and will assure payment of city hall salaries.

Acting Police Commissioner Alcock was the sponsor of the $50,000 auto recommendation which allows the purchase of four Lincoln, six Cadillac, and six Ford sedans. He appeared personally before the committee.

Ald. George M. Maypole [28th] had objected to the $50,000 provision, quoting Alcock as having said that he didn't need any more cars. The commissioner was invited in and denied having made the statement. "I did say," he said, "that we had too many men in cars and not enough in uniform, and I have already taken two men from each Ford car."

Afford Better Vision, Claim.

The sedans are better adapted for the installation of radios and in winter weather afford better vision for all members of the squad, Alcock stated. Shortly after this the committee also voted $42,000 for the completion of a police radio station at the Wabash avenue station, and the equipment of squad cars with apparatus.

An appropriation of $4,800 for the purchase of a talking picture machine for censorship of dialogue in talkies was voted over the protests of Ald. Berthold A. Cronson [4th], who said the committee had just as well start censoring books.

The committee also voted over a "no" registered by Ald. Dorsey Crowe [42d] to allow the Great Lakes Dredge and Dock company to substitute a wooden instead of a cement cap for 4,000 feet of dock wall along the south branch of the river between Taylor street and Roosevelt road and from a point 300 feet north of 16th street to 800 feet south of the thoroughfare.

This permit will effect a saving of $40,000 to the city, it was claimed.

DEBATE REMOVAL OF LAKE SHORE TRACKS TODAY

Commerce Board to Hear Petition.

The petition of the Lincoln park board for the removal of Chicago Surface Lines tracks on Lake Shore drive between Chicago avenue and Ohio street will be heard today by the Illinois commerce commission in the City Hall Square building.

Information obtained by the park board in collaboration with the Chicago plan commission through a survey of traffic conditions on Michigan avenue will be presented to support the petition. An elaborate system of charts and graphs will show the amount of traffic the new outer drive will be forced to accommodate.

Bottleneck Is Predicted.

The park board charges that the presence of the tracks in Lake Shore drive, which is to be a connecting link in the new drive, will create a bottleneck and defeat the purpose of the drive—to provide a high speed avenue for through north and south traffic.

The survey was made July 3 by handing tickets to every automobile driver crossing the link bridge during the rush hours. Each motorist was requested to fill in the attached questionnaire telling where he started, where he was going, and outlining route followed, and mail to the plan commmission. Engineers have studied the cards and made charts to support their contentions of the traffic the new drive will accommodate.

Tracks Laid in 1922.

The tracks in question were laid during the Pageant of Progress of 1922 to provide transportation to Navy pier. A petition for the removal of the tracks was denied in 1926. The tracks are included in the transit ordinance recently adopted by the city, but are subject to the outcome of the litigation before the commerce commission. The transit company is opposing the petition on the grounds that the tracks will not hinder traffic.

FIND WHITE MAN GUILTY IN DEATH OF NEGRO IN DIXIE

Atlanta, Ga., July 28.—[Special.]—T. L. Martin, first of seven white defendants to stand trial for the murder of Dennis Hubert, Negro college student, today was sentenced to 12 to 15 years for voluntary manslaughter.

The jury in Martin's case returned its sealed verdict before Judge R. Early Camp of Dublin.

Declaring law and order is the fundamental principle of civilization, Judge Camp declared:

"As a native Georgian, I will insist upon full justice being done to members of both races," he said. "It is only the degenerate type of citizen that will promote race prejudice."

HOPES TO BRING PHONE FRANCHISE TO VOTE TODAY

Lawyer Has Plan to Win Foes of Ordinance.

Whether the proposed telephone franchise will be called up for passage in the city council this afternoon seemed dependent, last night, upon the outcome of a conference this morning between Attorney Sidney Gorham, counsel for the gas, oil and electric light committee and Ald. Jacob M. Arvey, chairman, and Berthold Cronson, a member of the committee.

"I have a plan," Mr. Gorham said last night, "which ought to meet the objections of every one. I can't discuss its nature until I see or talk with the aldermen again in the morning, but if it does meet with approval it would be my guess that nothing will stand in the way of having the franchise called for passage in the afternoon. Of course, as I am not a member of the committee, that statement is just a guess."

Almost two weeks ago the committee voted to recommend the measure for passage at today's meeting. At that time, Ald. A. J. Horan, [29th], disagreed with the claims made as to the benefits of the ordinance. Since the meeting he has been joined by Ald. John Massen [48th], who is not a member of the committee. Ald. Massen has criticized the franchise severely.

The principal contention of the opposition to the proposed measure is that it does not provide conclusively for the relocation at the expense of the Illinois Bell Telephone company, of the company's conduits and equipment in the galleries of the new subway. Ald. Arvey and most of the committee members dispute this interpretation.

Two conferences on the franchise were held yesterday. At one, Mr. Gorham met Attorney William D. Eangs of the telephone company, but he said he could not discuss the meeting. Late in the afternoon Mr. Gorham conferred with Arvey and Cronson.

Texas Negro to Die in Chair for Killing White Woman

Miami, Tex., July 28.—(AP)—Jesse Lee Washington, Negro slayer of Mrs. Henry Vaughan, clubbed to death at her farm near Shamrock several weeks ago, was sentenced to death in the electric chair by a jury in district court tonight.

POLICEMAN HELD ON DISORDERLY CONDUCT CHARGE

Policeman Arthur Clausen of the Kensington station was a defendant in court yesterday, charged with disorderly conduct, but his trial was postponed to Aug. 8. He has been suspended pending the outcome of the court trial which is to be followed by a hearing before the civil service commission. Sergt. John Bush, who placed Policeman Clausen under arrest, gave this statement:

"I was summoned by a passing motorist who said there was trouble at 11th place and State street. I found Officer Clausen, in uniform but off duty and intoxicated, in an automobile which George Wehling, 11218 South State street, was trying to start. Several persons told me Clausen and Wehling attempted to take $50 from another motorist and when he refused to give it to them, Wehling hit the motorist twice in the face. I locked up both Clausen and Wehling. The complaint against them was signed by Gerard Hellinga, 534 West 117th place."

The policeman was released on a $25 bond on the one charge, while Wehling was charged with assault, reckless driving and disorderly conduct.

She thought:

"If I only dared tell you my real reason for refusing!"

Yet, to be polite,

She said:

"I'm sorry—I can't marry you. We wouldn't be happy."

He proposed three times ...but couldn't win her until he ended 'B.O.'

"Body Odor"

IT WAS heartbreaking to refuse him so often and not give the reason. But even under the polite name—"B.O."—she couldn't bring herself to mention body odor. And even love itself can't overlook such a fault.

At last she confided in her uncle, a physician, and he came to their rescue. He had a frank talk with the young man—suggested a simple safeguard ... Now she is wearing his ring—and he's wearing a smile that won't come off. "B. O." no longer bars his way to happiness.

Danger time for "B.O."!

Hot sun. High humidity. Breathless, stifling days and nights. Even sitting still, we perspire. It's natural—healthy—to do so. But take care that we don't offend. Others notice the slightest hint of "B.O.", though we are seldom aware of it in ourselves because we so quickly become used to an ever-present odor.

Don't take chances. End "B. O." worries this easy, pleasant way. Wash and bathe with Lifebuoy. Its lather is delightfully creamy and abundant even in hard water. Gently antiseptic, it penetrates and purifies pores—removes all odor—leaves you feeling gloriously clean and fresh. HOSPITAL FACES $200,000 SUITS FOR BABY MIXUP

Watkinses Concede They May Have Own Child.

Former Wife Bobs Up

The Watkins-Bamberger baby tangle, already replete with digressions and contradictions, assumed a still more complicated phase last night when a Philadelphia woman, who had seen William Watkins' photograph in a newspaper there, informed the editor that she was his wife.

The woman, about 28 years old and comely, asserted she had married Watkins when she was but 15 years old and had borne him a son, who now lives with the father's parents at Conshohocken, a Philadelphia suburb. She said Watkins deserted her and the boy two years ago. The woman said her maiden name was Annabelle Van Stan.

Apprised of the Philadelphia story early this morning, Mr Watkins admitted he had been married years ago to an Anna Van Stan, by whom he had a son, but denied having deserted her. He procured a Cook county divorce in 1923, Mr. Watkins said.

A $100,000 damage suit for "lost identity" against the Englewood Hospital association and its staff doctors and nurses will be filed in the Superior court this morning on behalf of a month old baby named as John Doe, according to Barratt O'Hara, attorney for William Watkins. A baby born in the hospital on a June 30 was brought home by Mrs. Watkins with an adhesive tag marked "Bamberger" on its back.

Mr. O'Hara said he expected to follow the filing of the suit with a petition for a writ of habeas corpus entitling Mr. Watkins to exchange the baby he has for the month old baby now in the possession of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bamberger, 5523 South Paulina street. Later, the attorney said, he will file a second $100,000 damage suit against the hospital on behalf of Mr. and Mrs. Watkins. Mr. O'Hara said he believes the babies were switched and explained that he will file the suit in the name of "John Doe" so that the baby finally awarded to the Watkinses may be considered as the plaintiff in the action.

"May Have Right Baby."

Meanwhile Mrs. Watkins in her apartment at 1619 West 83d street busied herself sterilizing bottles and washing baby clothes, and said:

"We don't want to force the Bambergers to give up their baby—or our baby. That isn't the idea. We may have the right baby, after all. We can't figure out why the Bambergers can be so sure they have theirs. They seem pretty positive."

He repeated the fact that he is friendly with Mr. Bamberger, whom he met for the first time as each father paid his bill at the hospital. He hoped to be friends with him all his life, he said.

Mr. Bamberger, grim and now not too cheerful despite the fact he is convinced he has his rightful heir, came to the door of his home and said to a reporter: "It's settled from my point of view. See my attorney."

Dr. Arnold H. Kegel and his staff of scientists will be called upon to testify in the suit against the hospital, it was understood.

"Bamberger has not yet heard the scientific evidence of the doctors who agreed the babies were in the wrong homes," Dr. Kegel said in his office. "It is impossible for two parents with blood classified in group No. 4, as the Watkinses are, to have a living child born with blood in group No. 2. The child the Watkinses now have is in that grouping. The blood tests were made in triplicate and have been kept.

"The Bambergers, whose blood is in groups No. 1 and No. 4, could have a child in group 1, 2, or 3, but not 4, and the child they have is in No. 4."

Mothers to Meet Thursday.

Mrs. Grace E. Dibrell, 6219 South Park avenue, chairman of the Mothers of Illinois, a group formed as a result of the baby shuffle, to obtain legislation to prevent another such mixup, announced that a public mass-meeting of "mothers, prospective mothers, and prospective brides" will be held in the ballroom of the Sherman hotel at 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Evan Watkins of Conshohocken, Pa., the parents of William Watkins, yesterday mailed a picture of Mr. Watkins as he appeared at the age of 4 months, "in the hope that the experts will now be able to decide which child is which." Mr. Watkins' mother thought that her son's picture bore a striking resemblance to the published photographs of the "Bamberger baby," according to the Associated Press.

Fine Airship Pilot for Flying Low, Scaring Horse

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 29.—What is said to be the first case of its kind in England was heard at the Consett, Durham county court today when Capt. Arthur Deckford Hall was fined about $10 and ordered to pay $24 damages for flying an airship at too low an altitude. Last May Capt. Ball flew over the town of Ebchester in an airship that was being used as an advertising medium. He flew so low that a horse, frightened by the noise of the engines, bolted and injured itself badly.

CHARGES CORBOY WITH INFIDELITY IN CROSS BILL

A cross bill for divorce, charging drunkenness, cruelty, desertion and misconduct, was filed in Superior court yesterday by Mrs. Florence Fitzgerald Corboy of California against John A. Corboy, millionaire president of the M. J. Corboy Plumbing company. Earlier in the day Superior Judge Gentzel granted temporary alimony of $500 a month to Mrs Corboy.

The Corboys were married June 26, 1912. Corboy filed suit for divorce three months ago, charging desertion in 1925.

In her bill, drawn by the firm of Schuyler, Weinfeld and Parker, Mrs. Corboy charges that on one occasion she was compelled to sleep in the bath tub to avoid his cruel treatment.

Mrs. Corboy names as co-respondents a Mrs. Charles Foley and a Miss Phyllis Cairns.

2 DEATHS RAISE 1930 AUTO TOLL OF COUNTY TO 549

Emil Vogel, 69 years old, 1422 South St. Louis avenue, died at St. Luke's hospital yesterday after being struck by a truck in an alley between Michigan and Wabash avenues, near Congress street. Frank Peietrucci, 547 North Artesian avenue, the driver, was held.

Leo Buskiewicz, 44 years old, a restaurant owner, was killed late Sunday night when his automobile plunged down a ten foot embankment at the end of Czeski street in Lemont. In an attempt to turn around in the narrow street his car backed over the edge of the ditch and turned over as it fell. He was dead when pulled from beneath the machine.

Examine More Records at Maguire Election Hearing

The hearings on the petition to oust Fred V. Maguire as chairman of the board of election commissioners on the charge that he permitted persons with police records to act as election officials, continued yesterday before County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki with the examination of police record cards bearing the same names as election officials. Of 307 cards examined thus far in the trial 251 have been ruled out and 56 are being held for further investigation.

WEATHER TREATS THE SEXES ALIKE, SCIENTISTS SAY

But Most Inquirers About Heat Are Women.

Weather, whether it's cold or hot, makes no distinction as to sexes. While each sex maintains that the other suffers less from the antics of the thermometer, each, in reality, bears an equal burden.

This was the consensus of scientists yesterday in response to an inquiry, prompted by hundreds of telephone calls that swamped THE TRIBUNE switchboards. Almost 90 per cent of the calls came from women and only a few men asked as to the temperature and possibility of relief.

Physiologists were asked whether women or men suffered more from the heat. Psychologists were asked whether the disproportion in telephone calls resulted from a difference in male and female reactions.

"I know of no experiments that have shown that heat resistance is more markedly developed by sex rather than by individuals," Dr. Nathaniel Kleitman, assistant professor of physiology at the University of Chicago, said, "I believe that both sexes will agree that it is a hot day."

"I could not say that women have a more difficult time," said Dr. Harvey Carr, head of the department of psychology at the University of Chicago. "I know of no authorities on the subject."

Dr. Russell Wilder, chairman of the department of medicine at the university, said: "Women have probably more time to think about the weather. They are at home while men are at work. Then, too, a man is more likely to be near a thermometer, or can find some one who has noted the temperature.

"It is true, however, that men outnumber women in the statistics of heat deaths and sunstrokes. This may be because men are more often out in the sun and again it may be because men are more susceptible to hardening of the arteries and more intemperate. These make the heat more difficult to withstand. By the way, what is the temperature and when will we get relief?"

FLOATING CAFES FOUND UNDER U. S. SUPERVISION

Inquiry yesterday to learn the legal status of floating restaurants on the Chicago river near Wells street led an investigator to the office of the harbor master, to the board of local improvements, to the sanitary district, and finally to the office of the United States resident engineer, where it was announced that Col. H. J. Wild was in charge of such matters. Maj. Wild could not be reached, however, but it was announced he would be in his office today.

The inquiry was prompted by the sanitary district suit to oust houseboat residents on the north branch of the river for blocking traffic. It was pointed out that traffic is much heavier on the main channel where the floating restaurants are anchored.

COMMITTEE TOLD HOW TERRORISTS GOVERN SOVIETS

Inquiry Shows Propaganda in Chicago Schools.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

The Union of Russian Soviet States is a machine held together by terrorism. It is not a democracy in any sense, but an iron rule by the proletariat, and it is filled with graft.

The congressional committee headed by Hamilton Fish Jr. of New York sat in the federal building yesterday and listened to this characterization of sovietism by Morris Gordin, who once carried the Red banner in the United States, and who worked for the Russian government as a prosecutor and press agent for several months.

Brings Writings to U. S.

Finding that something was wrong with the dream, he set himself to solve the mystery of how the soviet government could maintain itself and defy the world. He "externalized himself," as he said, by transcribing his thoughts to paper, and was finally led to the conclusion that the philosophy and practice was all wrong. Putting his thoughts on cigaret papers, after a year and a half in Moscow, he placed the papers in the soles of his shoes and returned to America.

He now considers himself a messenger of anti-sovietism. He is as disillusioned as Emma Goldman was. He held aloft his book, "Utopia in Crimes," as he discoursed to the committee in language and gesture so swift and impassioned that the court stenographer was in despair.

Was Born in Russia.

Gordin was known to fellow workers in communism as Novomirsky. He was born in Russia, was persecuted with the Jews under the czar, and early turned to revolutionary doctrines. He clashed with the government and escaped to America. He came to live with an uncle, a professor of chemistry in Northwestern university, but when he professed socialistic doctrines and his determination to go on with this work he had to leave this home.

When the war came he rebuilt his connections with the Russians. When he was drafted and sent to Camp Grant he acted as propaganda agent under the direction of the Chicago communist committee. He organized a parade of furniture workers in Rockford and carried the red banner. He got three months in jail and was discharged from the army.

Made State Prosecutor.

Gordin then went to work in earnest for the Chicago committee, and later organized a party of Russians—miners from Pennsylvania—to go to Russia. They proceeded to Moscow, where he was put at work in the press bureau. Later he volunteered to go to the famine front and was made state prosecutor. He protested, saying he knew no law.

"They told me the less I knew the better," he said.

He made speeches, studied the new economic program, and asked questions, but was not a diligent prosecutor. He saw storehouses filled with food and communist officials getting new clothes for themselves.

"I had an illumination," he said. "I imagined that they had a free press and free speech. I soon learned that I was to keep still. I found the politicians just as bad as in America. They told me I was a fine orator but did not know how to pronounce the death sentence. I was soon recalled to Moscow.

"I studied there at the University of Moscow," he said, "and my conclusions forced me to a total negation of communism and its doctrine. I determined to return to the United States and try to undo some of the work I had done there."

Propaganda in Schools.

There was some evidence presented to the committee that communist propaganda is being carried on in the Chicago schools. This has taken the form of handbills and distribution of literature in the school yards.

N. E. Hewitt, representative of the American intelligence vigilantes, said there were thirty-five communist students in the Cregier High school. William J. Page, principal of the Brown elementary school, said that on four occasions during the last year groups of six or eight communist sympathizers, children of Jewish origin, were found in the school yard with circulars. These had to do with the unemployment situation.

Clarence De Butts, principal of Tuley Junior high, and Mary E. Tobin, principal of Cragin High school, told of communist literature being discovered among the children and brought copies of it to the committee. Other school teachers are to be called today.

Working Among Negroes.

Mr. Hewitt also told of communist propaganda among the Negroes of Chicago, and the organization of the American Negro labor congress as a branch of the Red party. He said that there were 238 Negro communists in the United States, and in addition 1,100 in the labor congress, 900 in a Harlem red league and 2,000 in other groups.

Congressman Oscar De Priest testified that while some efforts were being made among his people the movement was not making much headway.

"They never will be able to muster more than 5 per cent of my race," he said. "I only wish other groups were as loyal. A few have been sent over to Russia to be educated and returned for work here. The Negro has always given his service to this government and has fought in every war since the revolution."

Mr. Hewitt told of the communist leaders in this country and said the present party membership was about 15,000. The unemployment situation has given it impetus during the last year. There is a movement now under way, he said, to place American born leaders in charge in this country. He placed the Chicago membership at 1,150. He said he found evidences of communism in the universities and named David Gordon, a student at the University of Wisconsin, as one leader.

Mr. Hewitt said he expected that this congressional investigation would drive the red movement underground for the present, but that it would continue to function under the name of the Trade Union league. It received much aid, he said, from such organizations as the Civil Liberties league and from such men as Prof. Robert Morse Lovett of the University of Chicago and Prof. Holston E. Warne of the University of Pittsburgh.

The committee asked several witnesses concerning the source of funds. Mr. Hewitt thought that money came from Moscow, particularly for the large printing bills. There was a great deal of unrest among farmers, he said, and the communists had begun the work of organizing through headquarters in South Dakota.

Maj. Walter Furbeshaw, representing the Illinois Steel company, gave the committee much documentary evidence of communist activity which he had collected. He said he thought the communist funds came from pinks in this country.

Harry A. Jung, representing the National Clay Products association, was one of the chief witnesses of the day. He estimated the party membership at 30,000.

"Communism is not now a menace in America," he said, "but it will become one if it is not liquidated, to use a communist term."

Wheat Is Russia's Greatest Weapon In Economic War Against America

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 28.—[Special.]—With the treasury and the tariff commission considering appeals for the exclusion of Russian coal, lumber, manganese, and other commodities being dumped on the American market it transpired today that American wheat farmers and cotton planters are the principal targets of the economic war declared by the soviet republic.

If the soviets realize their aims, as now appears entirely possible, America will cease to be a wheat exporting country within the next three years and will be threatened with extinction as a cotton exporter within a decade.

Herein lies the principal menace to the success of President Hoover's program for the restoration of agriculture as embodied in the legislation creating the farm board. If the surplus of American farm products cannot be sold abroad it will become impossible to maintain a high price for such commodities except at enormous cost to the taxpayers.

Aim Is World Revolt.

In dumping Russian products abroad the soviets seek to demoralize the American and other markets, stop the wheels of industry and create unemployment, and altogether bring about conditions favorable to the breeding of world revolution.

Already the dumping of Russian coal, 137,000 tons of which were consumed in New England in February, has forced the closing of some American anthracite mines. As soon as the pits closed in the Pennsylvania fields communist agents appeared on the scene to proselyte for the cause of the overthrow of the government by violence and the establishment of proletarian dictatorship. At present Joseph Stalin, chief of the soviet state, looks upon the development of a vast export surplus of agricultural products as the most formidable instrument for the spreading of communism. Collectivist farming has been organized on a gigantic scale and tractor plants are being established for the complete mechanization of agriculture.

Calls Them Red Bombs.

Speaking in June at the opening of the Stalingrad plant, to produce 50,000 tractors a year, which was financed and constructed by Americans, Stalin said:

"These tractors will be 50,000 bombshells exploding the remnants of the old bourgeois world."

Responding to Stalin the spokesman for the workers said:

"We promise with our tractor bombs to explode the remnants of the bourgeois world and build for socialist collectivization. American engineers are proud to take part in this work and also promise their maximum effort to assure success on the industrial front."

There are several hundred American engineers and other experts in Russia directing the establishment of these vast enterprises designed to drive American industry to the wall and promote communism.

Hired Experts Are Americans.

John Calder, American engineer, is supervising the erection of a tractor plant at Cheliabinsk, in the Urals, which is to produce 75,000 tractors a year. Thomas D. Campbell of Montana, expert on mechanized farming, who is said to raise more wheat than any other one person in the world, has been retained by the soviets to superintend the collectivist wheat farms which now aggregate 10,000,000 acres.

"Make no mistake about it, in three years Russia will be the biggest wheat exporting country in the world," said Mr. Campbell as he sailed to resume direction of this year's production. "The United States is going to have to reduce its production and be satisfied with producing only enough grain for our own needs."

The soviet plan provides for increasing wheat production from 75,000,000 tons in 1928 to 100 million tons in 1933, and the amount of marketable grain from 8,000,000 to 20,000,000 tons.

Drive Already Begun.

The tide of wheat already has begun to flow from Russia. More than 500,000 bushels passed up the Danube in a single day recently. The Amsterdam traders refused to handle it on the ground that it was being dumped, whereupon it was diverted to England, causing an outcry from British farmers.

An Asiatic cotton substitute, kendyr, is another weapon relied upon by the soviets to produce in America what they call the "major economic crisis" as the seed of revolution. Kendyr production is being organized on vast state owned plantations by Alexander Krasnachokoff, former Chicago radical, who claims in two years the crop will amount to one-third the volume of American cotton yield.

Jeanne Eagels' Estate $60,000; Mother Gets It

New York, July 28.—(AP)—The attorney for Mrs. Julia Sullivan Eagels, mother of Jeanne Eagels, today said the late actress' estate had been appraised at $60,000. Miss Eagels died without leaving a will, and her entire estate will go to her mother.

At the time of Miss Eagels' death it was said she was wearing jewelry valued at $350,000, but police who took charge of the jewelry said later that it was worth only $7,000 or $8,000.

2 RUSSIAN PULP CARGOES DENIED ENTRY INTO U. S.

Ships Anchor Off Statue of Liberty; Can't Unload.

New York, July 28.—[Special.]—Port entry and cargo discharge permits today were denied by the collector of the port of New York to two freighters, loaded with Russian pulpwood, which arrived here from Archangel. The denial of the permits constituted the first actual blow at trade relations between the soviets and American industry since the new tariff went into effect.

The freighters affected are the Norwegian boat Christian Bors and the British vessel Greslisle. Both were anchored today off the Statue of Liberty, the Norwegian boat having arrived Saturday and the Greslisle yesterday.

What will be done with them and their cargoes was open to question following confirmation by M. C. Stuart, assistant collector of the port, that the entry and discharge permits had been refused. Order for the refusal came from the treasury department in Washington.

Ships Pass Quarantine.

Both freighters passed quarantine on temporary permits which allowed them to take advantage of the shelter afforded by the harbor, but did not provide permission to unload their cargoes. The British ship is operated by the firm of Garcia & Diaz and the Christian Bors ostensibly is operated by the Amtorg Trading corporation, the soviet trade agency in this country.

The captains of the two ships went to the custom house and the ships were entered in the usual manner. While at the custom house, however, the masters were informed that instructions had been received by the customs officials from Seymour Lowman, assistant secretary of the treasury, that the cargoes could not be landed.

The Washington order, it was understood, declared that until further notice all cargoes from Archangel are under an embargo and will be rejected.

Meanwhile, congress will be petitioned to keep out all soviet products which appear to be "dumped" in the United States with the purpose of breaking the domestic price.

Hunt 25 Russian Agents.

Today police and agents of the department of justice were seeking twenty-five men said to be operatives of the Russian secret service, the Ogru, said to be connected with a supposed secret headquarters on the lower east side.

Officers of the citizens' military training camp at Camp Dix, N. J., announced today that over the week-end communist visitors had been spreading propaganda among the student soldiers there.

The communists arrived at the camp shortly after the church parade and put in a busy day. "Amused tolerance" was the reaction of the student soldiers to the propaganda work, according to their officers.

MEXICO ACCUSES YANKEE OF BEING IN PAY OF RUSSIA

MEXICO CITY, July 28.—(AP)—Charges of being a communist propagandist working in Mexico were stated today to be in the process of preparation against Mark Lulinsky, an American citizen who was detained here two weeks ago. It was said that the documents seized with Lulinsky contained matter showing him to be in the employ of Moscow with authorization to spend $900,000 annually for propaganda in Mexico.

Lulinsky claimed he came as a representative of Amtorg, the soviet trading organization in the United States. He also said he was not a communist and was not engaged in propagandist activities.

Konjola

—the medicine that has made more than a million friends.

MR. FRED E. FOSBERY
2135 Gladys Ave., Chicago.

You wonder how Konjola made more than a million friends? Just by bringing relief in cases of stomach, liver, kidney and bowel troubles, and of rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness after all else tried had failed.

Isn't that the kind of medicine sufferers need and want?

Read what Mr. Fosbery says:

"For ten years, following typhoid fever, I suffered with stomach trouble. Gas and bloating caused misery after every meal. But less than four bottles of Konjola stopped the gas and bloating, and it does not seem possible that I do not suffer after so many years of misery. Many of my friends, knowing of my case, are using Konjola with fine results."

Good Morning, Mr. Hungryman

—what can I SERVE you this pleasant morning?

"—Welch's Grape Juice, breakfast cereal, bacon and eggs, buttered toast and a cup of coffee—and be sure to give me WELCH'S!"

—A mighty sensible order, that—and not surprising that people who like to enjoy their breakfasts—thousands upon thousands of such people—are starting their day with temptingly delicious Welch's.

Tomorrow morning—try it! See how its cheery bright color, its exciting fragrance reach right out and capture lazy morning appetites. Serve with cracked ice or dilute with one-third water.

Keep Welch's always on hand in the refrigerator. Eight liberal portions to the pint make it the most economical pure fruit juice you can buy.

But be sure to say "Welch's"—otherwise you may get a cheapened quality of grape juice and wonder why it doesn't taste like Welch's.

At your hotel or club, ask for grape juice on your "club breakfast," and insist on Welch's. For "Ways to Serve Welch's," Free, write to Welch's, Dept. NB, Westfield, N.Y.

'SOLID SOUTH' IS SOLID AGAIN G. O. P. CONCEDE

Texas Primary Crash Hoovercrat Hopes.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 28.—[Special.]—Southern states have quite definitely marked off the of possibilities for future conquest Republican campaign managers, any further evidence were needed the Hoover victories in five southern states in 1928 were due to unique conditions which cannot be expected to occur again, the Texas primary of Saturday furnished it, according to the Republicans who have been watching developments.

Failure of Thomas B. Love, former Democratic national committeeman who led the successful "Hoover fight in Texas two years ago, to better than fourth in Saturday's senatorial contest was one indication that regulars in the party are out in the saddle. Defeat of Representative John C. Box for renomination was another sign of the present trend. Mr. Box, the only Texas representative seeking renomination to be defeat, issued a demand last year for the resignation of John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic national committee.

Dry Shepoard Renominated.

That the Texas primary results represent a triumph for party regularity and not necessarily a vindication of the principles for which Alfred E. Smith stood as the 1928 presidential candidate was indicated by the renomination by a big margin of Senator Morris Sheppard. Although known as one of the driest of the dry senators, one of the original sponsors of the prohibition legislation, Senator Sheppard remained regular in 1928. His opponent, former Representative Robert L. Henry, for 20 years a prominent figure in the house, ran on a wet platform.

The Democrats apparently are sure to be in power in all five of the southern states which were carried by Hoover in 1928. The four besides Texas were Virginia, North Carolina, Florida and Tennessee. In Virginia the anti-Smith Democrats last year failed to elect a governor in a fusion with the Republicans. In North Carolina Senator Simmons, who led the bolt to Hoover, was defeated for renomination on the issue of party regularity. In Florida former Gov. Sidney Catts made a fight in a recent primary on an "anti-Tammany" issue.

Oklahoma Votes Today.

The Oklahoma primary tomorrow will bring to a head a lively election among the Democrats in that state. There are several candidates for the Democratic senatorial nomination. B. Wrightsman is said to have the best chance of winning. Thomas Gore, the former blind senator, and former Govs. Johnson and Walton, who figured in impeachment proceedings, are also in the race.

On the Republican side Senator B. Pine, who was originally regarded as a regular but swung over into the radical camp after a row with the administration involving Indian affairs, will be renominated without difficulty.

TEXAS RUNOFF NEXT

Dallas, Tex., July 28.—(AP)—Democrats today looked at the lead Mrs. Miriam A. ("Ma") Ferguson, former governor of the state and wife of a two-term governor, had built up over Ross S. Sterling, wealthy Houston publisher, in last Saturday's primary and began forming arrangements for the campaign leading to the runoff primary Saturday, August 2, when the Democratic nominee for governor will be chosen.

Returns from 245 of the 253 counties, with 82 counties complete, gave Mrs. Ferguson, 204,057; Sterling, 161,616; Clint C. Small, 109,724; Ed Hall, 70,059; James Young, 64,850; E. Mayfield, 47,273; Barry Miller, 5,111; C. C. Moody, 4,011; Putnam, 3,111; Paul Loven, 2,475, and Dr. Walker, 1,926.

Vice-President and General Manager
GULBRANSEN COMPANY

"WE strongly recommend that every Gulbransen Radio owner use RCA Radiotrons. Our engineers use RCA Radiotrons in laboratory work and for testing, as they are of uniformly high quality and give the best results. We find that RCA Radiotrons not only safeguard sensitivity and selectivity and insure Gulbransen realism, but act as the best insurance against vacuum tube troubles. It's good common sense to demand RCA Radiotron quality for both first equipment and replacement."

RADIO ENGINEERS ADVISE:
Replace all the vacuum tubes in your radio set with RCA Radiotrons at least once a year. This is the only sure way to maintain good performance and minimize disagreeable noises and other troubles caused by inferior tubes. RCA Radiotrons will give you the maximum in selectivity, sensitivity and tone quality.

Charalambos Simopoulos, Greek minister to the United States, arrived here yesterday to attend the seventh annual meeting of the Greek-American Progressive association. The convention opened at the Medinah Athletic club and will continue the rest of the week. The minister in addressing the opening session charged the delegates with their responsibilities as American citizens. About 150 from all over the country are in attendance.

JUDGE AWARDS DECREE, ALIMONY TO MRS. CONDON

Mrs. Mary Condon was the victor yesterday in the bitterly contested divorce suit of the Thomas R. Condons. Judge Charles A. Williams awarded her a divorce from her wealthy husband, custody of their 3 year old child, Thomas Jr., $600 monthly alimony, and $4,950 attorney's fees. He also dismissed Condon's cross bill charging his wife with drunkenness, cruelty, and adultery.

Testimony on both sides of the case, which originally began in September of 1928, when Mrs. Condon filed suit for separate maintenance, was replete with tales of gin parties and details of the cocktail capacities of the principals. During progress of the suit Condon spent three days in jail for having resented one charge by a right to the jaw of Benjamin B. Davis, counsel for Mrs. Condon.

Despite testimony introduced by witnesses placed on the stand by Condon, Judge Williams ruled that Mrs. Condon was a competent and proper person to have custody of the child. The only point on which Condon scored was in having the $10,000 fee claimed by Attorney Davis reduced to $4,950, which he will share with Attorney Michael Ryan.

Work on Upper Mississippi Channel Starts in Spring

Rock Island, Ill., July 28.—Maj. Gen. Lytle Brown, chief of army engineers, in an address here today said the construction of a nine foot channel for the upper Mississippi river, designed to relieve high freight rates in the central west, probably will be started in the spring. Plans for the channel project will be completed when congress meets in December, he said, and the way will be cleared for launching a series of improvements from St. Louis to Minneapolis and St. Paul covering nine or ten years.

Detective Killed in Gun Fight with New York Gang

New York, July 28.—[Special.]—Detective Thomas E. Hill was shot and killed tonight when he and Detective Robert Rehmann jumped on the running board of a suspicious looking machine as it approached the Bronx end of the McComb's dam bridge from the Manhattan side. Rehmann returned the fire, causing the driver of the car to lose control. It crashed into an electric lighting pole. The four occupants tried to escape but all of them were captured, one being shot through the arm.

LEGGE OFF ON CROP REDUCTION TOUR THURSDAY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 28.—[Special.]—Chairman Alexander Legge of the federal farm board on Thursday will start on the longest trip he has yet made in the campaign to win the favor of farmers to the board's policies. The tour will take him as far west as Portland, Ore.

As originally announced, Mr. Legge was to go to Indianapolis Aug. 1 to attend a conference of extension workers. He made it known today, however, that he will spend the week-end in Chicago and then swing northwest through Idaho, Montana, Washington, and Oregon. The trip will require two weeks. He will be accompanied by C. W. Warburton, director of extension, and Nils A. Olsen, chief of the bureau of agricultural economics of the department of agriculture.

Although he will meet with leaders of livestock, dairy, and fruit groups, the principal purpose of his trip is to preach the board's program of wheat acreage reduction which stirred up political dissention when he recently visited Kansas. In the Montana wheat section he also is expected to encounter some opposition.

"I am not going to make any political speeches," Mr. Legge said. "Members of the farm board never make political speeches any way. We let the politicians do that. We are not in politics."

PREDICTS ACTION ON CITY PLAN TO ELECTRIFY ROADS

Ald. Kaindl Still Hopes for Unified Terminal.

The issue of electrification of railroad terminals in Chicago is gradually approaching a stage where definite action may be expected. This prediction was made yesterday by Ald. Edward J. Kaindl [34th], chairman of the council railway terminals committee.

Edward J. Noonan, consulting engineer for the committee, also expressed hope for some early settlement.

Ald. Kaindl was questioned because of the statement of Charles W. Hadley, chairman of the Illinois commerce commission, that the commission was in a receptive mood for consideration of a petition calling for electrification.

Still Hopes for Unified Terminal.

"This committee has not yet given up hope of obtaining agreement of the railroads to a unified terminal and electrification of lines within the city," Ald. Kaindl said. "We are holding meetings weekly and are hopeful of results. However, if the railroads flatly refuse to cooperate, the city will consider filing a certificate of public convenience and necessity before the commerce commission stating the public need for electrification.

"So far the railroads have continued to declare that their revenues have decreased to such an extent that they are unable to electrify. They have stated there was no prospect of much improvement within the next 25 years because of the increasing competition in passenger service from the automobile and airplane."

Mr. Noonan pointed out that the city can seek electrification as a health measure on the ground that the smoke and gases from locomotives are injurious to public health.

Railroads Cite Old Survey.

"The railroads' reply has always been the citation of figures from a survey fifteen years ago showing the railroads were responsible for only a percentage of smoke, a figure less than 25 per cent," Mr. Noonan said. "However true these figures may be for the city taken as a whole, it is certain that another survey would show the danger to health in the vicinity of the railroads themselves.

"In New York the terminals have already been electrified. There the railroads cooperated with the public officials who made the electrification mandatory. Here we have not yet been able to convince the roads that it would be to their benefit.

Watch Smokeless Engines.

"Just now both the railroads and city are watching the experimentation with gasoline and oil locomotives. If these experiments prove successful the great argument against a change, that of its immense cost, would be removed. These new locomotives may well prove within a year that the old type locomotive, belching smoke, can be replaced by a quiet, smokeless engine at comparatively low cost."

An argument for electrification was seen in the report of revenues for the Illinois Central lines made public yesterday. While business depression has hurt passenger traffic as a whole, the electrified suburban lines have shown an increase in revenue, the report revealed.

Electrified Service Gains.

In the six months ending July 1 the total passenger traffic revenue of the railroad was $10,767,000, a decrease of $1,486,000 from the revenue during the same period in 1929.

Suburban passenger revenue, however, for the same periods showed an increase. The gross revenue for the first six months of 1929 was $2,606,000, and this rose to $2,684,000 in the same period of 1930.

THREE STORES ARE ROBBED.

The ACIDURO Superior ACIDOPHILUS MILK

Your neighborhood druggist now has ACIDURO, or can get it for you on short notice. Look for the distinctive bottle and its dated label certifying freshness and the content of over 500 million aciduric health units per cubic centimeter—a rarely high number—the required amount for maximum effectiveness. To get the most benefit from this wonderful beverage, drink several glasses daily.

The use of ACIDURO (Acidophilus Milk) is indicated for preserving vigor and for the relief of constipation and intestinal putrefaction, which is believed to cause auto intoxication, interfering with longevity and the normal approach to uncomplicated old age.

If You Don't Like the Taste of Cod Liver Oil

Get All Its Benefits From Sugar-Coated Tablets

The scientist of today is wonderfully successful in extracting pleasing products from unpleasant ones. Peanut shells are magically converted into sugar, cornstalks into fine, white paper and the benefits of cod liver oil from a fishy, disagreeable dose into vitamin-rich tablets whose only taste is their sugar coating.

McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Extract Tablets contain all of cod liver oil's unequalled flesh, bone, strength and energy increasing elements (vitamins). Pleasant to take, easy to digest as they are—McCoy's are ideal for thin, weak, nervous, run-down and underweight men, women and children. Here's a form of cod liver oil treatment that the most sensitive palate can tolerate. All druggists sell McCoy's.

It was McCoy's which enabled Mrs. Willa Pugsley of Arkansas to gain 5 pounds of healthy, attractive flesh in less than 20 days. Naturally she cannot say enough in praise of McCoy's. McCoy's have been tested and approved by the Good Housekeeping Bureau of Foods, Sanitation and Health. And all druggists guarantee them—60 tablets 60 cents.

DRY THIRD PARTY IS PROJECTED IF OTHERS ARE WET

New York League's Chief Announces Plans.

New York, July 28.—[Special.]—Superintendent Fred A. Victor of the Anti-Saloon league of New York declared today that, in the event both the Republican and Democratic parties at their respective state conventions this fall adopt wet platforms and nominate wet candidates, an independent dry ticket supported by the Anti-Saloon league will be entered.

This statement means that the drys are ready to fight it out with the wets, regardless of consequences, just as the Anti-Saloon league of New Jersey risked its reputation when it opposed Dwight W. Morrow for the Republican senatorial nomination and supported Congressman Franklin M. Fort.

Vigorous Battle Planned.

In response to a question, Mr. Victor said dry forces throughout the country are preparing to wage by far the most vigorous campaign since prohibition became a law more than ten years ago. Speaking of New York state, he said that, in the event the Republican party becomes officially wet and the Democratic party officially dry, the Anti-Saloon league would support the Democrats.

Comments Are Withheld.

Local leaders refrained from commenting upon Mr. Victor's statement.

New York county Republicans, as a whole, favor repeal of the 18th amendment. The National Republican club is on record as advocating the same. There are in the party such wet leaders as Frederic R. Coudert Jr., prepared to go before the state convention and introduce a resolution calling for repeal.

ENGLISH ENVOY MUM ON CRITIC OF EMBASSY RUM

Washington D. C., July 28.—[Special.]—The British ambassador, Sir Ronald Lindsay, and his staff remained mum today under a new barrage of publicity over their importation and use of liquor under diplomatic immunity.

The latest fuss over ambassadorial drinks grew out of an announcement by Samuel B. Woods, former mayor of Charlottesville, Va., that he had written Sir Ronald a letter of protest against his policy of allowing liquors to be served at the embassy as they are in the country he represents.

It was immediately recalled that it was after the receipt of such a letter from James T. Carter, of Lynchburg, Va., that in May of last year Sir Esme Howard, then dean of the diplomatic corps, announced that he would give up his liquor privilege under diplomatic immunity and did so. As a result the embassy today was besieged by inquirers wanting to know if Sir Ronald would follow suit.

A. H. Dew, secretary to the ambassador, told the questioners that Mr. Woods' letter has not yet been received at the embassy and that there was nothing to be said about it.

ORDERS TREVISAN OF OPERA TO PAY WIFE $35 A WEEK

Vittorio Trevisan, basso of the Chicago Civic Opera company, yesterday was ordered to pay $35 a week alimony to Mrs. Celia M. Trevisan, his wife and accompanist, by Superior Judge Gentzel. Mrs. Trevisan, who lives at 1155 North Dearborn street, sued for separate maintenance, charging cruelty and nonsupport.

Trevisan made a plea that opera singing is not as remunerative as his wife asserted in her bill and declared that his income thus far this year was only $7,200. Mrs. Trevisan said her husband has an income of $400 a week during the Chicago Civic Opera season; is paid $200 for each performance with the Ravinia Opera company, and earns $300 a week as an operatic coach.

Mrs. Trevisan alleged her husband shouted at her on the pretext that he was training his operatic voice. She also charged he had provided her with no wearing apparel since 1925, and that she has been unable to accept invitations to desirable social affairs. The Trevisans were married on June 21, 1923, and separated last March 28.

REVEAL LONDON 'PLOT' TO UNSEAT KING OF EGYPT

Former Ruler Is Groomed to Assume Throne.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 28.—King Fuad of Egypt, in the opinion of observers here, is likely to lose his throne as a result of his quarrel with the Wafd [Nationalist] party—the political organization which embraces a great majority of the Egyptian people—and his attempt to govern without a parliament through his appointment of Nisky Pasha as prime minister.

Active steps are now being taken by the Wafd delegates in London, and by agents of Abbas Hilmi, former khedive of Egypt, for Abbas' restoration after the deposition of King Fuad.

It is alleged that the British government has agreed to preserve benevolent neutrality as long as British interests and the safety of foreign nationals in Egypt are not endangered.

MacDonald Is Approached.

One agent of Abbas Hilmi, who is traveling under the name of Mr. Azmi, which is said to conceal the identity of a prominent pasha, arrived in London with a large party of secretaries and advisers, and has taken a suite of rooms in a London hotel, where he is directing his campaign.

He has been in close touch with Adham Bey, leader of the Wafd delegation in London, and it is said that they have had a private interview with Prime Minister MacDonald, from whom they assured that Abbas was not anti-British and would guarantee to rule constitutionally and respect all of Egypt's foreign commitments.

It is alleged that Mr. Azmi has received assurances that the British government will not interfere in the settlement of what it regards as a domestic quarrel as long as these two conditions are observed.

Await Adjournment of Commons.

Abbas is now at Aix-les-Bains awaiting word from his supporters in Egypt as to when the time is ripe for his return.

The Wafdists in London allege that the quiet in Cairo is due entirely to the moderation of the Wafd and their desire to act constitutionally, and not to the iron hand of the king and Nisky Pasha.

They declare that no move will be made until after the rising of the British parliament at the end of this week. This is in order not to embarrass the British government by laying it open to heckling by the Tories, who are said to be friendly to King Fuad.

The Wafdists declare that as long as King Fuad is on the throne there will be no peace in Egypt and no possibility of arriving at a settlement on points of dispute between Egypt and Great Britain. Fuad, they declare, has been playing a double game, pretending to be friendly with Great Britain while in reality doing all in his power to prevent an agreement.

Abbas Hilmi, who is now the Wafd candidate for the kingship, was khedive of Egypt, or ruler under the nominal suzerainty of the Turkish sultan, when the great war broke out in 1914. He was accused of being pro-Turkish. He was in Constantinople at the time and when the British refused to allow him to return to Egypt Great Britain declared Egypt independent of Turkey, and placed Fuad on the vacant throne.

Fuad Turns Colors.

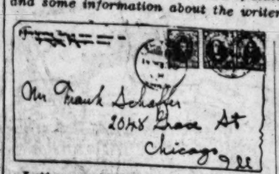
Fuad, who at first seemed to be a complacent puppet, in recent years is said to have been developing ideas of autocracy which have not been pleasing either to the British or to the majority of Egyptians. It is alleged that the deposition of Abbas was due as much as anything else to a personal dislike of him by Lord Kitchener, who was then high commissioner and actual governor general of Egypt. Abbas now says that he was never anti-British and was always ready during the war to support the allies if called upon.

HOLD 3 ON FRAUD CHARGE.

Joseph Kramer, William Brodsky and Sam Rubin were held in bonds of $2,000 each by United States Commissioner Walker yesterday for removal to Louisville, Ky., where they are charged with using the mails to defraud housewives. They are alleged to have distributed material for home sewing, collected, and kept deposits without paying for the work.

INTERESTING LETTERS

If you have received a letter from an interesting or little known place send the envelope to The Tribune, stating name of place where it was mailed and some information about the writer of the letter.



Letter received by Frank A. Schoeffler, 2048 Grace street, Chicago.

"This letter came from the Bethlehem Chile Iron Mines company located at El Tofo, La Higuera, Coquimbo, Chile," Mr. Schoeffler writes. "It was mailed from there on April 9 and received by me May 6."

Coquimbo is an important city and seaport of the Chilean province bearing its name. The city has a good, well sheltered harbor, reputed the best in northern Chile, and is the port of La Serena, capital of the province of Coquimbo, nine miles distant, with which it is connected by rail.

There are large copper smelting establishments in the city which exports a large amount of copper, some gold and silver, and cattle and hay to the northern provinces of Chile.

The province of Coquimbo, which lies between those of Aconcaqua and Atacama and extends from the Pacific inland to the Argentina frontier. The climate is healthy, and the province is less arid than its neighbors, being broken by well watered river valleys which produce alfalfa and pasture cattle for export. Grapes producing a good wine are grown in the mountain districts. The mineral resources include extensive copper deposits and lesser mines of gold and silver.

BRAZILIANS RIOT; MOB DESTROYS HOUSES BY FIRE

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 28.—(AP)—Grave disorders were reported today from the state of Parahyba, whose president, Joao Pessoa, Liberal candidate for the vice presidency of Brazil, was assassinated Saturday. Dispatches received today indicated one man was killed in the disorders and several houses destroyed by fire.

The entire state of Parahyba has been inflamed over politics since the March 1 election, in which the Liberals were defeated. For more than four months Jose Pereira, a state deputy, has been leading armed resistance against the Pessoa government, centering his attacks near the city of Princeza. More than 300 men have been killed in clashes.

When news of the killing of Pessoa reached Parahyba the populace marched to the government palace, demanding reprisals on the opposition. Today the crowds marched through the streets, firing residences and stores owned by the political opponents of Pessoa. Th city of Cabedello also was the scene of disorders.

Minister Drowns in Vain Effort to Rescue His Son

Danville, Ill., July 28.—(AP)—Father and son drowned in Lake Vermillion today when the Rev. Charles Shortridge, 52, tried to rescue his son, Adolph, 19, who had stepped into a hole over his head. The bodies were recovered.

REPORT GANDHI READY TO AGREE TO BRITISH TRUCE

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 28.—Indian circles in London today asserted that Mahatma Gandhi, Motilal Nehru and Jawaharlal Nehru have agreed with the emissaries who have been visiting them in prison to accept Viceroy Lord Irwin's terms for a truce in India pending the round table conference at London which would then be attended by Nationalist representatives.

These terms provide for calling off the non-cooperation movement and the anti-British boycott and bring about the release of political prisoners practically simultaneously.

Picketeers Very Active.

BOMBAY, India, July 28.—(AP)—While diplomatic efforts continued among Nationalist leaders today to end the campaign of civil disobedience more than 700 men and women began the severest campaign of picketing yet undertaken here.

Seven hundred congress volunteers alternated all day long in four hour shifts before all shops dealing in foreign cloth.

At the same time the peace mission of Sir Tej fBahadur Sapru and Mr. Jayakar, which last week visited Mahatma Gandhi in his prison quarters at Poona, finished up a week-end of conferences in the Naini jail with Pandit Motilal Nehru and Jawaharlal Nehru and returned to the Yeroda jail with a letter from the Nehrus to Mr. Gandhi.

Hint at Dissension.

Political observers of the Gandhi campaign and its more recent peaceful turn today were of the opinion that the Sapru-Jayakar peace negotiations would come to nought. These observers insisted that Mr. Jayakar himself was the stumbling block; that the Mahatma neither likes nor trusts politically the man whom Sir Tej chose as his fellow statesman in the present negotiations.

Acquaintances here of the Mahatma declared that Mr. Gandhi considered he had been "double crossed" some years ago when Mr. Jayakar was leader of the Swaraz [independents] party in the Bonbay council.

British Sergeant Stabbed.

CALCUTTA, India, July 28.—(AP)—A British police sergeant named Ford today was reported stabbed in the back by a native who escaped. Officials said Sergt. Ford was dying.

Summer Pep/

EVEN on the hot days when the humidity bumps the roof, you can feel fine and full of pep. Have you wondered how other people "stood the heat"? Here's the secret. Be as fussy about keeping yourself clean inside as you do outside, and see how much cooler the weather seems. Your doctor will tell you not to use strong drugs and cathartics that give you only temporary relief, and get you into the habit of relying on them. If you will regularly use such a simple thing as Nujol, colorless and tasteless as pure water, and not a medicine at all, here's what will happen. First, you will lubricate that wonderful machine—your body—so it can run easily and naturally. Second, you will stop the body poisons (which we all have) from making you feel dopey, headachy, down in the mouth. Health and happiness and pep and enthusiasm are worth trying for. Say "Nujol" to your druggist and don't take any substitute for that crystal-clear bottle of good health. After you've used Nujol awhile, you'll thank your stars that you read this advertisement!

says:

"Colgate's is by far the best cleanser"

Go to an eminent consulting chemist, an authority on scientific research, for convincing proof that Colgate's cleans teeth better. Such an authority is Jerome Alexander of New York. Let his tests—his scientific experiments—convince you as they convinced him.

Jerome Alexander made impartial, exhaustive studies of the cleansing action of well-known dentifrices. Colgate's was undeniably more effective. Why?

Because Colgate's gets down into the tiny crevices where decay begins. Because its penetrative foam brings to the surface food particles that are never reached by sluggish tooth pastes. Because—in Jerome Alexander's own words—"it penetrates into the tooth fissures, flooding away impurities which cause trouble."

Jerome Alexander's research agrees with the finding of other noted authorities—Dr. Hardee Chambliss, Dean of Sciences, Catholic University of America; Dr. Philip B. Hawk, internationally famous chemist; Dr. Shirley W. Wynne, Commissioner of Public Health of New York City; Dr. Allen Rogers, head of the Department of Industrial Chemical Engineering, Pratt Institute; Dr. H.H. Bunzell, Ph.D., Chicago University, and others of equal fame who have been retained to make analytical tests and render expert opinion. Can you, in choosing your dentifrice, fail to be impressed by this array of scientific proof that Colgate's is the ideal cleanser? Take the safe course with your teeth—when you brush them with Colgate's, they're really clean.

Jerome Alexander says:

"I found that Colgate's exhibits the lowest surface tension. Because of this, Colgate's penetrates into the tooth fissures, flooding away impurities which cause trouble. Therefore, Colgate's is by far the best cleanser."

THE RETREAT FROM VOLSTEAD.

A statement of prohibition policy signed by the representatives of the various prohibition organizations, such as the Anti-Saloon league and the W. C. T. U., has been issued in New York. In a number of ways it is a shameless document. It attributes to the Volsteaders motives which they never have had and denies that their real purposes are what they are, as for instance:

"We specifically repudiate all enforcement methods that do not regard and safeguard every personal right guaranteed by the constitution."

"Personal habits and the conduct of the home life is in the field of private morals."

It is apparent enough that the statement of policy, misrepresenting as it does the character and the very instinct of Volsteadism, is made in an effort to get out from under the increasing weight of adverse public opinion. The prohibitionists, professional and amateur, have procured law and directed enforcement at will. They have controlled government and have influenced judicial opinion. The condition of the country is of their own making. They have encouraged and supported brutal methods of enforcement. They have condoned manslaughter. They have sought excessive punishments. They have caused the law to dispose of property and liberty without trial by jury. They have insisted upon poisons in the denaturing of alcohol. They have caused homes to be entered without warrant. They have seen murder done as the result of it. They have opposed the punishment of agents who have killed on suspicion and have brought them off free. This has been the public policy of prohibition and it has been expressed in law, in judicial opinion, and in administration.

The new statement of policy is false unless it proceeds from an admission of error and guilt and declares a reformation. Then it would not be believed. The fanatic or professional prohibitionist cannot change his spotted mind. He is a dragoon and coercion is his process, first, last, and all the time.

Volsteadism does not concede anything to the field of private morality. It is hypocritical when it says it does. It offers the proof of its own falseness. The Canadian system of liquor control respects the individual as the guardian, within ordinary law, of his own morality, conscience, and personal conduct. It destroys what the new statement of policy says is the concern of prohibition, the traffic in intoxicating liquors, meaning by traffic a business intended for profit in the sale of intoxicants. The American prohibitionists attack the Canadian system. They say it is as vicious as the system of saloons.

In Canada a citizen is permitted to govern himself in his home. That is exactly what the American Volsteaders do not permit and do not intend to permit so long as they can maintain an ascendancy in government.

Why, then, this spurious and hypocritical statement of purposes which are not and have not been in the prohibition program? The prohibitionists are afraid of what they see and they want to scuttle out of the storm. They want to represent themselves as different from what they are known to be. They disclaim the intentions which are notoriously the only ones they ever have had or ever could have. They endeavor to make a new approach to public sympathy by an avowal of moderate purposes in meeting a public evil. They are not moderate and never could be. They are bigots and incapable of decent consideration of a public question. Some of them also are racketeers and without Volsteadism they would have to hunt other and less congenial jobs.

The new statement of policy is merely a confession of weakness and timidity. Luckily there is plenty of reason for that and there will be more. The eighteenth amendment is a plague in the constitution and the Volstead act is a blight on the land.

FOAMING PLZNR.

The Czecho-Slovak government has changed the names of a good many cities and towns. A new order requires that registered letters and money orders bear the new place names; otherwise they will not be delivered.

Prague has become Praha and Pressburg is Bratislava. Perhaps these changes are improvements, but we wonder whether pride of race hasn't conquered ordinary prudence in the changing of Marienbad to Marianskelazne and Carlsbad to Karlovyvary. Marienbad and Carlsbad have been the beneficiaries of a good many years of advertising, paid and unpaid. We suspect that even if Battle Creek were to be inhabited by nothing but pacifists they would not change the town's name.

Of all the alterations, surely the most amazing is that from Pilsen to Pizen. There is a change which will gratify the W. C. T. U. The ladies might help things along with the slogan, "When you think of beer, think of Pizen." And as a companion piece, "When you think of Bordeaux, think of Bordeaux Mixture."

P. S.—Another authority says the new name of Pilsen is not Pizen, but Plzen. Presumably the idea is to make it so difficult to pronounce that the customers will prefer to write for a case. Not a bad idea; but then, why didn't they do the job thoroughly and make it Plzn? Nobody could pronounce that.

WHILE THE MISSISSIPPI GOES DRY.

The Mississippi river is reported to be sixteen feet lower at Quincy than it was only a month ago. River men fear that navigation will be interrupted. Maj. Gen. T. Q. Ashburn, chairman of the government-owned barge line, believes that if navigation is suspended for lack of water the enforced reduction in the diversion at Chicago will be largely responsible. The diversion is not needed, he says, in times of high water, but when the river is low, the water sent down through the drainage canal may mean the difference between a flourishing river transport and no river transport.

Meanwhile the great lakes, are higher than they have been for many years. Since 1926, when the so-called lake states began their fight to end the diversion, Lake Superior has risen 2½ feet, Lakes Michigan and Huron 3.7 feet, and Lakes Erie and Ontario no less than 4 feet, with heavy damage to shore line property.

The last regular session of congress approved an appropriation for the Illinois waterway subject to what was called the Blaine amendment, though drafted by the attorneys for the Lake Carriers' association. The amendment was intended to reduce the diversion as much as possible. In the senate the amendment was supported not only by the spokesmen for the lake states but as well by Brock of Tennessee, Capper of Kansas, Howell and Norris of Nebraska, Steck of Iowa and Ransdell of Louisiana. These gentlemen, all of them from states in the Mississippi valley, voted contrary to the unmistakable interest which the Mississippi valley has in the diversion. They voted for low water in the Mississippi and for the tying up of barges which serve the Mississippi and its tributaries.

An ironic commentary on their action is provided in the news that the Sheboygan chamber of commerce is at the moment making plans for handling freight expected to come up the river from the gulf. A number of corporations which intend to ship northward from the gulf have recently made inquiries regarding warehouse and terminal facilities in Sheboygan, perhaps to the astonishment of the business men of the town who may have thought they were being represented intelligently at the capital. The business community of this lake city in Wisconsin now finds that the growth of their city is dependent on a waterway which their representatives, both at Madison and Washington, have done their utmost to render of no value to commerce. Sheboygan, like every other port on the lakes, has suffered damage from high water, but, though there is an excess in the lakes, the excess may not be used to promote the city's growth if Wisconsin's officeholders have their way.

The campaign of misrepresentation undertaken by the Lake Carriers' association, dominated by the steel corporation, is beginning to yield unexpected returns. Western Wisconsin, which touches the Mississippi river, is also becoming aware that its interest has been forgotten. Southern Ohio is in the same position. Another barge line has just been organized to ply between Cincinnati and New Orleans, but there will be no advantage in it for Ohio shippers if there is insufficient water in the Mississippi. The senators from Iowa and Tennessee who voted for slack business in Davenport and Memphis, the representative of Louisiana who voted to starve the port of New Orleans, and the rest of the senatorial gulls from valley states may expect to hear from their constituents before long. We wonder what they will offer by way of explanation.

It will be no defense to say that they voted to preserve a great national resource in the great lakes. The usefulness of the great lakes is not and never has been threatened. The fact is that the lakes are a reservoir which is overflowing. If the water in the lakes is a national asset it ought not be wasted. The senators from the valley who voted for the Blaine amendment have said that this asset must be wasted rather than be used for the benefit of their constituents. The reasoning may satisfy the senators, but we cannot believe it will impress many voters.

THE LADIES ARE PLAY-ACTING.

Stroll out between the acts at Ravinia and note the women's clothes. Note especially the spirit in which they wear them. The ladies are play-acting. They think of their long skirts as costumes, not as clothes. They still have the idea in their heads that the short skirt is the real thing. In long skirts they are all little girls playing grown-up-tea-party.

This is the critical period in the evolution of women's styles. A few more months of long ones and the costume-sense will disappear. Long, flowing dresses with plenty of fluff will be regarded as normal, natural, and right.

It takes a boy a year or two to get so used to long pants that he doesn't think of short ones when he thinks of pants. Presumably the girls will take about as long to get short skirts out of the mind's eye. Unless the skirts begin to get shorter within the next few months, we suspect, the long ones will begin to seem natural and right; and if that happens it may be years before knee-lengths come back.

CHECKERS AT CONEY ISLAND.

[St. Louis Post-Dispatch.]

Checkers, sport which the movies invariably portray as being played by two rustics on a board over the top of a cracker barrel in a village store, has suddenly reached the status of a "house game" at the booths in Coney Island, where New York's millions seek diversion. What is more astonishing is the way city dwellers hand over their dimes at the booths bearing placards, "Ten cents a game, lose or draw—free if you win."

So, for 10 cents a game, the metropolitan takes his lessons from the "house men," bucking their variable ability instead of the fixed percentages of other games of chance and skill. The intricacies of the Bristol Cross and the Ayrshire Lassie opening, the danger of falling into the Goose Walk, the giving of one man to get three and the forming of one combination after another have a restful appeal for the many evening bridge victims who trump the partner's trick or fail to take the partner out. And then, too, 10 cents a game for relaxation and a chance to get one's money back beats $10 a lesson on how to make the most of an eight of clubs on a no-trump bid.

FEVER AND MILK.

THE prevalence of undulant fever among farmers and people who live in towns and small cities is additional proof that we must soon come to pasteurization of milk on the farm and in the small dairies of the towns. If this were the universal practice there would be a moderate reduction in the prevalence of typhoid fever and tuberculosis and a great reduction in diarrheal diseases among babies. There are reasons enough for asking the farmer to pasteurize the milk that his family consumes and for having the small dairyman install a pasteurizing plant. This would not be feasible, however advantageous it would be, if pasteurizing in a small way required an expensive plant or was expensive or troublesome to carry out.

Many years ago Dr. C. E. North demonstrated that milk could be pasteurized by setting a ten gallon can of it in a vat of hot water. He specified the temperature of the water and the length of time required for the milk to reach 140 and how long the can was to remain in the hot water. This method required no equipment except a vat and a hot water boiler.

At one time a simple, inexpensive pasteurizer selling for about one to two hundred dollars was on the market. Perhaps one of this general type is still available. A family can use a vacuum bottle or vacuum jug as a pasteurizer. The milk is heated to, say, 140 and then placed in the vacuum bottle or jug and left there for one hour or more. It is removed and chilled. Milk can be heated to this temperature without harming the cream line. This temperature, maintained for one hour, will kill any of the ordinary disease producing bacteria.

Streptococci are killed by a temperature of 129 maintained for one-half minute. Diphtheria bacilli are killed by the same heat and time exposure. Typhoid bacilli are killed by a temperature of 132 for thirty minutes. Tubercle bacilli by 138 for thirty minutes. The bacillus of undulant fever by a temperature of 131 for one hour. The proposed 140 for one hour, therefore, offers a considerable factor of safety.

TRAIN TO IGNORE ODOR.

Co-worker writes: Why is it that the disinfections used in all the public buildings and stores, as well as office buildings, affect some people so unpleasantly, while others barely notice them? I know of several cases where persons inhaling the fumes have had what almost appeared like ptomaine poisoning, accompanied by a bitter, metallic taste in the mouth and stomach, and numbness throughout the entire body. After getting away from the fumes and inhaling fresh air the symptoms disappeared until the persons affected were again thrown in the same environment. Two of the several cases that have come to my notice complain that they have a burning sensation in the stomach and that the saliva becomes thick and clotted like cotton, while the heartbeats are sometimes fifty above normal.

Can anything be done to make such persons less susceptible? The only remedy now seems to be avoidance of the place where this condition is brought on, but, unfortunately, some workers depend upon these places for a livelihood.

REPLY.

They are physic phenomena. The only remedy is training one's self to disregard these odors. We need to train ourselves to disregard more than one unpleasant thing.

HABIT IS A BAD ONE.

E. P. writes: Each day after dinner it is a habit with me to eat candy. Is this harmful in any way?

REPLY.

If you must eat candy you have picked the right time to eat it. But at that, the habit is a bad one. To say the least it is wasteful, since you probably eat more than you need of heat and energy foods with your meals.

SUPPORT OF PARENTS.

Chicago, July 24.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I would like some information regarding the support of one's parents: 1. Is a son having no real or personal property, whose wife is employed, taxed in the same proportion to earnings as unmarried sons, or is he taxed the same as though his wife were not working. 2. Are married daughters who are employed considered as unmarried? 3. Is situation altered if son's wife, employed, is contributing to the support of her parents? 4. If proceedings are carried to court, are any children exempt from appearing? H. A.

Our pauper act requires near relatives to contribute according to their means to the support of destitute persons, except that married women are not required to contribute unless they have independent means.

1. The charge is largely discretionary with the judge.
2. Yes, for this purpose.
3. No.
4. No, except married daughters who have no income.

A NEIGHBORHOOD DUMP.

Chicago, July 26.—[Friend of the People.]—Can anything be done to prevent people from throwing garbage, broken concrete, and other rubbish into the vacant lot in the 5100 block of Ainslie street? This place is never cleaned except when called to the attention of the city employés when they come around. J. F.

Report is made that householders in vicinity have been notified to stop further dumping on vacant lot referred to. Notice has also been served on person responsible for the dumping of the concrete to remove same. Location will be kept under observation.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE.

Maywood, Ill., July 20.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. If the semi-annual interest on a first mortgage is not paid within a reasonable time, can the holder of the mortgage foreclose without giving written notice of this to party giving mortgage?

2. How soon can holder foreclose?

OLD SUBSCRIBER.

1. He can file the bill without previous notice. Summons would be served.

2. Immediately upon default, unless the papers expressly require delay.

THE TALE OF THE SHIRT.

And now Soviet Russia has a shoe famine. Dog-gone, they have bread famines, and coat famines, and meat famines, and vodka famines, and many kinds of famines, but the Rooskies never seem to have a shirt tail famine. At least, they're always wearing 'em outside of their pants, so it's easy to know about that. Lots of scientists have held to the theory that if the Reds would tuck their shirts in their pants instead of letting 'em wave in the cold, bleak blasts of the steppes they wouldn't go hellin' around so much and tearing everything up by the roots. Of course science is sometimes wrong, and it may be about that. The idea is that in defying the general custom of mankind and wearing their shirts outside their pants the Soviets have acquired an inferiority complex and do things differently from the rest of the world because they're so mad at being razzed about their shirts. Anyhow, while we are inclined to give the Rooskies the raspberry on their method of wearing their shirts, at the same time a glance at photographs shows that the Reds at least have kept their shirts, while during the gyrations of the stock market last fall and this summer a good many of us—but why bring that up now?

SOME SAINTS AND SOME AINTS.

In the fifth century
Simon Stylites took to the air,
Housing himself on a pillar a yard square
And sixty feet high.
He had a flair
For asceticism, professing a desire to do public penance
And make vicarious atonement for others' sins.
For thirty-seven years he perched there,
And parched and parboiled under the frizzling Syrian sun,
Until he was done rare.
With the turn of the zodiac's wheel he fared
Little better, icicle-hung, nursing his frostbitten chilblains.
To be a Daniel he dared,
Standing heroically the wear and tear
With no plaisir,—
No "raddio," faire
Bonne chère (tant mieux);
No "hot dogs," no pie, no eclairs;
Only a shirt of hair-
Cloth to flagellate his bare Skin where
The elements had blistered and goose-pimpled, but ne'er
A care
Had he in his lair
About what to wear,—
No populace to stare.
Hence with present-day tree-sitters on a fowl pillar,
No compare.

NETTIE A. DOWNEY.

EVEN IF YOU ARE not in the habit of reading our brother Col-Con Cal Coolidge, you might do well to clip out a sentence he had in his column yesterday (wonder if Gutzon Borglum admired it?), have it enlarged twenty times, printed in red ink, handsomely framed, and then hang it over your desk. "Some firms, where the pressure [periods of high activity] is very great, require their members to take two or three months' vacation." Keep this thing hanging up there; the boss is bound to see it in time.

THE PORTUGUESE have never had a squawkie in their own language. We know because it was front-paged yesterday that the first Portuguese talkie was now being made in Paris with an all Portuguese cast. We'd love to see a Portuguese squawkie. Maybe we'd like the squawkies if we didn't know what they were saying.

THE ONLY IMPORTANT news out of Washington yesterday was a ruling from the state department saying the White House ceremonial officer, Warren Delano Robbins, is correct in not wearing spats with formal dress. WHAT, NO SPATS? The debate on the subject is becoming virulent, and we do hope a special session of congress will not be called to settle the matter. But, NO SPATS? Oh, horror of horrors!

COL. BOB ISH RANDOLPH cheers us a lot. He says the ultimate solution of the bridge nuisance is to have fixed bridges and make the big lake steamers unload in the outer harbor and send their freight through the river on barges. That's good! We were afraid that our medieval system, with a moat around Chicago and drawbridges and other things quite popular in the days when knighthood was in flower, but a trifle irksome in the motor car age, was going to continue indefinitely, and then just when we were most in a hurry to get somewhere we would hear the words of proud old Douglas again on the breeze: "And thinkest thou hence unscathed to go? No, by St. Bride of Bothwell, no! Up drawbridge, grooms! What, warder, ho, let the portcullis fall!"

WELL, WELL, WELL! Just look at Ma Ferguson coming back with a whoop and running at the very head of all the candidates for governor in the primaries down in Texas. Brings again to mind the old saw of the wide open spaces where men are men and women are governors. Three rousing cheers! Pour it on 'em, Ma!

LAGNIAPPE.

HAM FISH JR. and his congressional committee are in Chicago right now fishing for communists. Gosh! We can't wear our new red necktie this morning, and even if it turns so cold that a blizzard descends from out of the north we won't put on our red flannel unnerwears. Safety first!

"TWO ENGAGED GIRLS and a Bride-to-Be," captions the Chi. Dolly Nooze over the pictures of three charming young woman. Sounds like a catch in that somewhere.

ANYHOW, what a pleasure it will be in the years to come, when summer days are being spoken of as warm, to say: "Shut your mouth, dearie; I can remember back to the long hot spell of 1930. And compared to that, bonehead, this warm weather we're having now seems like a winter afternoon at the north pole." The law of compensation—it always works.

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

JULY 29, 1865.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — The state treasurer received from the Illinois Central Railroad company the sum of $240,553, being 7 per cent of the gross receipts of the road for the half year ending April 30.

FORT LARAMIE.—One thousand Cheyennes, Sioux, Arapahoes, Blackfeet and a few Comanches attacked the garrison of 250 at the Platte Bridge station. The fight lasted two days and resulted in heavy loss to the Indians. Among the white dead was Lieut. Collins, whose body was horribly mutilated. His hands and feet were cut off, his throat cut, his heart torn out and he was scalped. He had more than 100 arrows in him.

ST. PAUL.—The Red River Northwester, published in a British settlement north of Minnesota, admits that their traders furnish the Sioux Indians with ammunition and says they do so to save their own lives. The Indians come in large bands. They must be made to stop the practice. It is as bad to arm a redskin as to build a pirate boat and the Johnny Bulls have done both.

CHICAGO.—We have received a copy of an act to annul the emancipation proclamation in the town of Opelousas, La., and virtually to return all persons freed thereby to their former state of slavery. Of course, that is not its title, but it is of far more importance that that is its effect. As it not only emanates from the board of police of that town, but stands "approved" by the federal commander of the nearest post, it becomes, until annulled and suitably punished, the act or rather the crime of the federal government and the entire nation is responsible for it.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

JULY 29, 1900.

CHICAGO.—Miss Elsie Baker, 125 Judson avenue, Evanston, received a letter from Miss Ione Woodward of Evanston, a guest when the letter was written on May 31 of United States Minister Conger at Peking, in which Miss Woodward tells of the despair of the legations, the atrocities of the Boxers and the constant heavy firing in the city. She also details fears of a massacre and of futile attempts to escape.

LONDON.—The latest report, originating in other than Chinese sources, is a dispatch from Chee Foo, dated July 27, which says that a Chinese student, who left for Peking a fortnight ago, has returned and reports that he found the imperial Chinese forces completely surrounding the Tartar city. He was unable to deliver a message to the legations and was told by the Chinese that they would not allow any one to pass to the foreigners.

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

JULY 29, 1914.

VIENNA.—Austria declared war on Serbia and following the declaration Emperor Franz Josef issued a manifesto expressing sorrow that in his declining years he must again "grasp the sword." "In this solemn hour," he says, "I am fully conscious of the whole significance of my resolve and my responsibility before the Almighty."

ST. PETERSBURG.—The war situation tonight is extremely grave. The German ambassador informed the Russian government that Germany could take no part in the mediation conference proposed by Great Britain. Participation was refused by Germany on the ground that the quarrel was one purely between Austria and Serbia. Russia's answer was to the effect that if Austria invaded Serbia an immediate mobilization of the Russian army would follow and war with Austria would be the next step. Czar Nicholas received a lengthy message from Emperor William urging that it would be the least disastrous to Europe if Austria and Serbia should be allowed to settle their differences without interference. The proposition was rejected and Germany was informed that Russia would enforce the integrity of Serbia as if it were Russian territory. Russian military preparations continue apace.

THE BABY MIX-UP.

Chicago, Ill., July 26.—Now really, what difference does it make if the Watkins have the Bamberger child and the Bambergers the Watkins? A baby of three weeks is a wonderful thing, human and therefore priceless. Each couple has a baby—a child to love and to spank, to play with and to teach. And in time the child will adopt the characteristics of the people he lives with and he'll express the wish to be "just like daddy"—all this whether young Watkins is in the Bamberger home or the Watkins domicile. And if he shows unfortunate traits the Watkins can always reflect that after all he may be that Bamberger kid!

I am reminded of an essay of Heywood Broun's in his "Pieces of Hate." He says that if some one leading by the hand his rightful child should one day inform him that there had been a mixup at the hospital he would reply, "That's all right. We've had Robert for nine years now and he's been a very nice son. We've watched him grow all this time and know pretty well how he works. Despite his faults Mrs. Broun and I find him much to our liking. You may keep that other boy."

Shocking, do you think? Why no. It's the child you feed, clothe, and care for, the child you see develop, the child whose tricks you relate to the neighbors, that you love. Parental love is the love of a protection for something weak. The adopted child who bears the name of his foster father appeals to that man's ego quite as much as do flesh and blood sons. HARRIET RAY.

TO END UNEMPLOYMENT.

Berwyn, Ill., July 14.—I think if the government took steps to make eight hours a day, with Saturdays off, as the maximum hours of employment that this would solve the problem of unemployment, because it would mean that more men would have to be employed to make the machinery necessary to keep up with production, which would result in the expansion of the industry to make room for the increased number of employés made possible by the reduction of the hours of employment.

This would also eliminate competition between companies that believe in a shorter workday and those that believe in the long workday.

Surely the government should take steps the same as France and other countries have done to relieve the unemployment situation.

EDWARD MOORE.

SCREECHING MOTHERS.

Chicago, July 21.—Now that the health department is waging war on unnecessary noises, how about screeching mothers? There is a certain mother in our building who does nothing but screech at her small son from the time he gets up till he goes to bed. ANNOYED.

AND WHO IN HUMOR?

Chicago, July 23.—I note in the Wednesday TRIBUNE a cartoon by McCutcheon entitled "Efficiency," and it seems to me that the cartoonist lacks in efficiency. He speaks of blocking traffic at 10 a. m., but the time on the clock is shown as 20 minutes to 3. Now who lacks in efficiency? HAPPY CLAIRE.

ROUGH WORK.

Chicago, July 15.—In view of the fact that there are now numerous police investigations under way, I feel that there should be some attention paid to the conduct of the officers riding in the squad cars.

Last Saturday evening, at the conclusion of a party at a University of Chicago fraternity house, the colored custodian, after receiving and cashing his weekly check, proceeded along 63d street toward his home. Squad car number 47 wheeled up to the curb, and the occupants demanded where he was going. He informed them that he was returning home from work. Without more words he was knocked to the sidewalk and with abusive language he was told that he was a liar.

He was taken to a station on 48th street and held without charge or an opportunity to establish his identity. His weekly salary of $15 was taken and was never returned. He was held from Saturday night until 3 o'clock Monday morning without charge, at which time he was booked for disorderly conduct. Later in the day he was released.

Such unwarranted action on the part of our policemen certainly is not conducive to respect for the law. Where is justice when such bullies are representing the law? LAMBDA CHI ALPHA.

POLICE DUTIES.

Chicago, July 18.—I am so angry that I have to talk and talk where it will do most good.

Just now the terrible siren noise was heard on our street, frightening the children who had just gone to sleep, and we looked out to see nothing but two policemen on motorcycles tearing down the street escorting about twenty cars of men coming from the Nordic Golf club and going to the Svithiod Singing club, which is right next door to us. This morning at Halsted and Wrightwood we waited twenty minutes for the police to come and rescue a woman who was holding a mad dog, and when my mother called the police the officer informed us that they had only just received the message as a different shift had just come on and they had forgotten to give them the message. In the meantime the woman was badly bitten and the dog got away, ran into the fence across the street and some men tied him up and he choked to death.

It seems that if some of these unnecessary sirens were done away with everything would be a little more peaceful and perhaps our children would get a little more needed police protection.

DOROTHY ORTH KROESCHELL.

CIGARET CADGERS.

Chicago, July 21.—It is high time attention was called to the increasing nuisance of the professional cigaret cadger. It seems impossible nowadays to smoke a cigaret without the cadger horning in with his eternal and infernal: "Let's have one of your cigarets, willya?" I have noticed that on the rare occasions when, by some miracle, the cadger actually has a pack himself he usually sees to it that he alone smokes the whole 20. I smoke a superior brand and the cadgers have added considerably to my smoking expenses. I being too regular to tell them where to go.

The Nine Hundred Block

BY KATHARINE HAVILAND TAYLOR

SYNOPSIS.

To the nine hundred block, with its deteriorated dwellings, moved gentle, lovely Theresa Lane and her mother, Mrs. Colt, under the watchful eye of Mrs. Baum, neighborhood busybody. Theresa makes friends with Katie Warner, who lives upstairs, and B. Jones, a porter; also Johnny Deane, who left a home of wealth to make good for the girl to whom he regrets, since meeting Theresa, he is engaged. He has found employment painting automobiles. Theresa does typing at home to support herself and her mother, who has seen better days. Mrs. Colt wants Theresa to marry Billy Treadway, a rich bachelor friend of her own girlhood.

Theresa's father, Arnold Ames, married again after Theresa's mother divorced him to marry Barrington Colt, who recently died. The father now has a belated desire to help his daughter, but his wife threatens to leave him if he does. He arranges with Harold Cole, a friend, to secretly give Theresa work.

Johnny Deane had determined not to tell Theresa of his love for her until he had broken his engagement, but does not keep his vow. Theresa loves him, but her mother does not approve of so poor a suitor as Johnny supposedly is.

Johnny sends his laundry to a neighbor, and Mrs. Baum, noting the Paris and London labels, spreads the report that Johnny is a prince in hiding.

Theresa is upset by Mrs. Baum's gossip.

INSTALLMENT XX.

LOVE'S ROSARY.

Theresa sped on to the Lamberts. For a little time, there, she could not remember the name of her need. Mrs. Lambert, who looked upon Theresa with lovely, young, understanding eyes, said gently, "Think of something else for a second; you sometimes get the truth that way."

"Aspirin!" Theresa stated with the violence that grows of an elusive thought that is finally recaptured.

"She's having trouble with that young man," Mrs. Lambert decided. Perhaps her mother was making trouble, feeling him "not good enough"; a pardonable feeling in proud parents, if based upon the right lacks in suitors, but Mrs. Lambert thought Mrs. Colt would not know the right looks from the wrong. She had learned Mrs. Colt's variable manner; she had been quite different one day when a friend entered the shop with her. Those who serve us learn us, sometimes, too well.

"I'd love to lend you some of my books," said Mrs. Lambert as she took a small box from a drawer.

"You're—so kind," Theresa answered and when Mrs. Lambert heard the quaver in this she knew that something was really wrong.

"Would you like to read H. G. Wells' latest?" Mrs. Lambert went on. "I don't always like his ideas but they always interest me."

Theresa said she would love to read H. G. Wells' latest. She was beginning to be chillingly aware that Johnny knew a great deal more than she: not of books, but of the world in general; and she wanted to be certain that she kept ahead of him "with books anyway." She went off with the book under her arm and a small box clasped in a hand that had been cold ever since her short call upon Mrs. Baum. Going by Mrs. Baum's house she stared straight ahead, chin high, and she shook. Mrs. Baum, behind her window, said a brittle, "Highty-tighty!" and she sniffed.

Johnny knew "something was up" just as soon as he saw Theresa that evening. He had seen the look in other ladies' eyes, but it had never mattered before. It mattered now, and amazingly. He took his hat off to pay his brow as they waited for the car at the Lambert's corner and no cat, save a very unhappy man, would have perspired that evening. The snow that, in low clouds, fought to come down, had been balked all that day by the piercing cold which wrapped the earth.

"Darling!" said Johnny, choked, "love's rosary does not always make for sense, save to those who tell it."

Theresa stared absorbedly at the mail box. If the mail box had been the rose window of Westminster, or a Gobelin tapestry, she would not have done better by it.

"O, Lord!" Johnny thought. He ventured to lay a timid hand upon her arm and he found her arm about as responsive as a piece of lead pipe.

"Theresa!" he appealed.

"Yes?" she prompted remotely.

"What—is it, Terry?"

"What is what?" she questioned. Women who busy themselves making small, uncomfortably realistic replicas of Puritan hells for the poor sinners who kneel at their feet, often pursue this method; and the best that can be said of it is that it is effective.

"Why—why you know," Johnny faltered tragically and suddenly he had a bleak vision which told him what his life would be without her. He pressed his arm, masquerading as a lead pipe, close to his lean side, and he drew a deep, sharp breath. She had not spoken. "You can put me on the mat any time," he went on after the lull, which had not added to his ease, "and for the count. I don't always do the right thing, Terry, but I always want to do it—for you. I'm going to ask you to—believe—that."

Tears were pressing back of her eyelids; she was thawing and it hurt to thaw. The car came along and fortunately for Johnny, it was crowded. They stood among humans who without wishing to, were playing sardine. Johnny put an arm around Theresa because she could not reach the strap; excellent excuse for Johnny. The girth of a woman, who was fond of whipped cream, chocolates, cakes, and ice cream and who indulged these indulgences fully the while she battled for "temperance," pushed Theresa close to Johnny and each lurch of the car [it was not one of the "good, new cars"] made excuse for Johnny's tightening arm.

To that moment Johnny had "loathed" street cars, regarding them as one of the most poisonous ingredients of poverty, but he blessed this one with the square wheel and the gait that suggested an awkward child playing hop scotch on one unsteady foot, or the leap of a rabbit.

"Dearest," he whispered, humbly. His lips were brushed by her hair as he stooped to deliver the message and he knew, feeling her waning displeasure and the relief that its waning set in him, that she would never, never, with all time, know how fully she mattered to him and in every way.

"Darling——" he heard. She was pressing even closer to him; she looked up, smiling, a small, crooked smile, and he saw tears brimming in her eyes. He swallowed hard, blinked; for a moment, held her fiercely close. And suddenly, with a wisdom rare for her years, she realized that his past was no her matter, but that his future was. And, through that physical touch that can erase doubts, she felt the present to be all that counted.

Heading toward the Capital she confessed that Mrs. Braun had said he was not all he seemed to be.

"I am with you," he answered a little stiffly, "quite what I am—Terry."

"I know—I was silly to listen to her—even for a second," she admitted, ashamed.

"You were," he agreed, angrily. "She's a meddling old broadcaster; tells the whole darned block with static. Was that all the news she had—about me?" he ended a little anxiously.

"Yes," Theresa answered; it really was, she reasoned. "There isn't anybody else for you, is there?" she added.

"Look here, you ought to know. My gosh—I don't know how to tell you if you don't know!"

"I do!" she assured him hastily. He was really angry.

"You'd better!" he said grimly.

A moment later and they sat, shoulder pressed to shoulder, hand locked in hand, in the semi-dark. There was one of Johnny and two of his shirts in the house, for Mr. Stipe, consort of Johnny's laundress, sat three seats ahead.

At nine, the real showing done with and the "comics" threatening to run amuck again, Theresa and Johnny left. Johnny, with some trepidation, suggested that they go and sit in the station waiting room for a little while so that they could talk. Eagerly, Theresa agreed. She couldn't ask him in for fat anymore; her mother seemed to hate him and "treated him so." Her cheeks would burn for hours after her mother's frigid nod which acknowledged his presence and—no more.

In the station they settled near the newsstand, because a draught here from the hard-opening self-closing door kept others away.

"There are a lot of things I want to tell you sometime," said Johnny as he fingered the cuff of Theresa's coat. A woman with four children, a doleful cat-prisoner in a basket and three suitcases came in; quite a draught this time! She panted toward the ticket window. The door closed slowly.

"What kind of things, Johnny?" Theresa asked.

"O—different kinds . . . a lot of 'em . . . I haven't been much good. I—I know that—now."

"I love you," she said.

"Darling!" said Johnny, choked. Love's rosary does not always make for sense, save to those who tell it.

"I was kicked out at New Haven for one thing——" he stated. He had opened it so that their hands were between them on the seat, a fold of Theresa's new coat hiding hands, they thought; but folds of a coat are transparent to those who remember!

"What were you doing there?"

"I was at Yale. It was in my second—freshman year. I didn't pass——"

"Was that the reason you were—were——" she paused.

"No," he admitted, understanding. "I threw chocolate-covered almonds at quite a famous dancer and—chiffon isn't good armor. That girl made several new steps from—the inspiration she drew from me!" Johnny grinned, remembering. It had been funny, he felt but Theresa's lips remained set and straight.

Preachers Tell How Poverty Racket Works

Bigger and Better Hard Luck Stories Used.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Protestant clergymen of Chicago are being systematically duped by tellers of artistic hard luck stories. This opinion was stated yesterday by the Rev. Dr. A. M. Pennewell, pastor of the Ravenswood Methodist Episcopal church. Dr. Pennewell revealed the methods of charlatans who are taking advantage of unemployment conditions to ply their rackets by going from church to church and collecting amounts varying with the individuals and depending on the make-up of their stories.

The Ravenswood pastor said he had not realized that such an organized racket existed until he related the stories of several "cases" to a group of brother ministers. It was revealed by several of the ministers that they had been touched by the same persons. A survey showed that the charlatans fall into several groups, according to Dr. Pennewell, ranging from the old men and old women who are satisfied with a dime or quarter and then move on to the next touch, to the reformed ex-convict with a flashy personality.

"The ex-convict has just been released from prison and now he has his lesson and wants to go straight," declared Dr. Pennewell. "All he needs is $10 to redeem his drums from the pawnshop—he is an expert drummer, you see—so that he can take a job offered to him. The $10 will be repaid out of his very first earnings."

"But the man never shows up again and it is discovered that the gentleman has collected enough ten dollar bills from other ministers to redeem drums for a drum corps, Dr. Pennewell explained. He then told of another type who brings a wife and hungry child along. He is no beggar, he asserts, and claims to have great self-respect.

"What he asks for is work," Dr. Pennewell said. "One of this type came to church one Sunday evening. At the close of the service the man pointed to his wife and little boy. 'I'm out of work, but have the promise of a job tomorrow,' said the man; 'and my little boy hasn't had a bite to eat all day.' Of course, we fed the family and stripped our shelves of groceries. I found he had a job. He came to church the next Sunday. Others helped and we thought we had done a good deed.

"To our surprise we suddenly discovered the family had disappeared. The man had worked only two days. We learned he had obtained the names of many parishioners while attending church. Because I, as pastor, was interested in the family an instant response was given to the family's appeal. I have no doubt that my parish gave that family at least $100 in less than two weeks. I then discovered this same family had played the same game in many churches from south Chicago to north shore suburbs."

Dr. Pennewell then declared that hereafter no money will be given from the Ravenswood church without thorough investigation of the case. Miss Amelia Sears, assistant superintendent of the United Charities, yesterday deplored hit and miss charity methods. She pointed to the condition Dr. Pennewell revealed as one of the problems that must be solved by coöperation between the churches before all the people who are really in genuine need of help can be aided.

Clergymen said that practically all the poverty racketeers condemn the United Charities as they appeal to the ministers for funds. This, the preachers argue, is for the obvious reason that the charlatans cannot "put it over" on the scientific system of the United Charities. That system is designed to help all who genuinely need help, and to repel the fakes. Miss Sears urged the ministers of the city to telephone at once concerning any applicant for aid who complains about the treatment given by the United Charities.

"We can give the facts in the case," Miss Sears said. "Our records undoubtedly will be of great value to the ministers who are puzzled about their duty toward many applicants for aid."

JAPANESE DOCTOR HOPES FOR SERUM TO PREVENT LEPROSY

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

TOKIO, July 28.—Dr. Kiyoshi Shiga, director of the government hospital at Seoul, Corea, announced today he had succeeded in artificially cultivating baccillus of leprosy. That discovery is regarded here as of the greatest importance in development of methods for prevention as well as treatment.

Dr. Shiga has experimented two years and recently has been able to inject the baccillus into moles with the result that within two months the moles developed symptoms of leprosy. Early experiments with mice failed but later ones were successful with mice deficient in certain vitamins.

"Although my experiments are not completed," Dr. Shiga said today, "I have no doubt that within the near future, as we are able to experiment with other animals, we will be able to develop a means of vaccination protection against leprosy, as well as discover a suitable means of treatment."

Building on Midway Dedicated to Lore of Oriental Lands

Dedicatory ceremonies for the $1,500,000 oriental institute of the University of Chicago were held yesterday. The corner stone was laid by Prof. James Henry Breasted, orientalist, in the presence of a group of scientists. The building, located at 58th street and University avenue, will serve as headquarters for the various near east expeditions.

"These rising walls," Prof. Breasted said, "are dedicated to the high purpose of that devoted group of young men and women who man our expeditions from the Black sea on the north to the upper Nile. The researches in which they are engaged cover a frontage of 2,000 miles."

BEG YOUR PARDON!

In last Saturday's TRIBUNE it was stated that Hans Skogman, 1831 North Washtenaw avenue, was held for manslaughter after his automobile fatally injured a woman. As reported by the Chicago News bureau, it was said that witnesses testified Skogman was intoxicated. The coroner's report states that it is not known whether or not Skogman was intoxicated.

Carl Zurek was reported injured in the Collins-Wiese Coal yard at 5637 North Clark street. The company reports that Zurek was not employed there.

Women Seek Funds to Fight Dry Law Evils

Ranks Growing Fast in Illinois Campaign.

Intent on amassing sufficient funds to carry their opposition to the eighteenth amendment to an increasingly active stage, the finance committee of the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform met yesterday at headquarters, 700 North Michigan avenue, to plan a campaign.

Mrs. John F. Jelke Jr., chairman of the committee, announced following the meeting that 3,000 letters soliciting donations for that purpose will go into the mails next Monday.

"We are hoping for a big success in this drive for funds," she stated, "because the significant growth of our membership, in the two months since the opening of the Illinois division headquarters, shows the people are in revolt against conditions that prohibition has brought. The contributions, coming in advance of any formal appeal, have been surprising to us."

The organization to date has been financed entirely through those voluntary donations, since no dues are necessary to become a member. Mrs. Jelke's committee, which comprises twenty-eight prominent Chicago women, has agreed that supplementary funds will be necessary before the Illinois division can function as effectively as they believe is possible with the large membership already obtained.

Mrs. John Charles Carroll is vice chairman of the committee. The other members are Mrs. Lester Armour, Mrs. Vincent Bendix, Mrs. Kent Clow, Mrs. Edward A. Cudahy Jr., Mrs. John F. Cuneo, Mrs. Charles Cushing, Mrs. Stanley Field, Mrs. David R. Forgan, Mrs. Charles F. Glore, Mrs. Albert W. Goodrich, Mrs. Huntington Henry, Mrs. Farley Hopkins, Mrs. Roy D. Keehn, Mrs. Julius Leckner, Mrs. Edward R. Litsinger, Mrs. Arthur Meeker, Mrs. Thomas Miller, Mrs. R. R. McCormick, Mrs. John H. McIlvaine, Mrs. George A. McKinlock, Mrs. George D. McLaughlin, Mrs. Stuyvesant Peabody, Mrs. Charles B. Pike, Mrs. H. H. Shearson, Mrs. Frederick Spiegel, Mrs. George Van Hagen Jr., Mrs. A. H. Waterman.

Lake Forest women interested in the movement met yesterday at the home of Mrs. Ezra Warner and perfected plans to organize the suburb locally, as had been done in other suburbs.

Friend of C. G. Dawes to Have Charge of Paris Foreign Exhibits

John Stephen Sewell, president of the Alabama Marble company, yesterday was added to the staff of the Century of Progress exposition. He will take charge of all foreign participation in the fair and will have offices in London. Mr. Sewell, a friend of Ambassador Dawes, and his former commanding officer in the 17th U. S. engineers, is a graduate of West Point. While a member of the army engineer corps Mr. Sewell built the new government printing office, the war college, and the department of agriculture building in Washington.

Circus Fans Young Again at Sessions Held in Des Moines

Des Moines, Ia., July 28.—(AP)—One hundred and fifty business and professional men and women, whose weaknesses are bespangled equestrians, pink lemonade, and the painted, red wigged clown, flocked here from all sections of the country today to attend the fifth annual session of the Circus Fans of America.

The years rolled back from the light hearted flock and with bright and carefree faces they got together for three days of reminiscencing.

Tonight the delegates motored to Iowa State college at Ames for a banquet, returning late in the evening for tomorrow's business and elections meetings.

Junior League Girls Plan to Fete Women Flyers

Miss Dorothy Schmidt, president of the Junior league, and a group of members met yesterday with officials of the Chicago Air Race corporation at the Hotel Sherman to make plans for the entertainment of the women flyers who will take part in the events of the national air races, which will be held in Chicago from Aug. 23 to Sept. 1. Members of the Junior league will be hostesses to girl flyers at teas in the women flyers' clubrooms at the Curtiss airport during the races.

Five major contests for gliders have been added to the program of the air races, it was announced yesterday.

THE STAGE

THE Playhouse, that small, but not undistinguished theater to be found by entering the north portal of the Fine Arts building, signifies its intention to contribute to the new dramatic season. On Sunday evening, Aug. 24, it will offer a play called "The House of Fear," which will be just what its title suggests—a "mystery melodrama," full of ghosts, clutching arms emerging from sinister doorways, ghosts, shrieks, murders and all the rest of the customary rigmarole.

Miss Cecil Spooner, who has been acting around, here and there, ever since 1903 when she was a child star, will have the leading rôle. Others in the cast are Rex Carleton, Gordon Westcott, Knox Herold, Francis McHugh, Walter Wilson, Edna May, Edward Wenhold, Ann Karyl and Jean Cleveland.

The reorganization of the Goodman theater's repertory company is progressing rapidly. Ellen Root, who scored in "The Makropoulos Secret" and "Holiday" last season, has signed a renewal of her contract. Other members of the acting company who will continue under the new administration are Katherine Krug, Mary Agnes Doyle, Hale McKeen, Carl Kroenke, and Sara Fenton. The technical staff to work under Hubert Osborne, the new director, will include: Leonard Barker, stage manager; Don Ament, scene designer; Maxine Levy, costume designer; Le Roy Stransky, lighting arrangements; Charles Schlesinger, head technician, and Muriel Brown, director of children's plays. David Itkin will be assistant to Maurice Gnesin, newly engaged head of the school of acting.

The play reading committee has recruited the following auxiliaries: Frank H. O'Hara of the faculty of the University of Chicago; Henry Kitchell Webster, novelist; Howard Willett, president of the Willett Bus company; Theodore Ballou Hinckley, editor of The Drama; William C. Boyden, Claudia Cassidy, and Don Russell, theatrical journalists. These volunteer play readers will make suggestions regarding the repertory to the Art institute's committee on choice of plays, which consists of Mr. Osborne, Robert B. Harshe, Charles H. Worcester, Arthur T. Aldis, and Percy Eckhart.

Eva Le Gallienne's Civic Repertory theater in New York will begin its fourth season at the Fourteenth Street theater Sept. 29. The first play will be "Romeo and Juliet," which was added to the repertory last spring. The new plays will include: "The Nobel Prize," a comedy by Hjalmar Bergman, translated by Herman Berstein; "Alice in Wonderland," adapted by Miss Florida Friebus of the company, with Miss Le Gallienne in the role of the Mad Hatter; Ibsen's "Rosmersholm," with Miss Le Gallienne as Rebecca West, a role associated with the fame of Mrs. Fiske; and "Grunach," a play by Gordon Bottomley, to be given with a curtain-raiser by the same author called "Ardvorlick's Wife."

Richard Bennett in "Solid South," a feature of the spring dramatic season in Chicago, will begin a Broadway engagement Oct. 6.

Historical Society Displays Relics of the World War

Grim reminders of the early world war days before the United States entered the conflict were on display yesterday at the Historical society in commemoration of the anniversary of the beginning of the war. There were German and Austrian placards forbidding traffic on roadways, and French signs boycotting anything manufactured by Germany or Austria. There were French and German gas masks and shells. Most noteworthy perhaps were the fragments of stained glass and a church lantern from the cathedral at Verdun. The exhibit was the collection of the late Capt. Francis W. Taylor, who had presented it to the historical society.

Longer Skirts Bring Revolt Among Women

Dressmakers Admit Style Decrees Are Not Final.

BY TOM PETTEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 28.—[Special.]—When it comes to style, American women are their own dictators and they will wear their skirts just so long and no longer, no matter what Parisian designers see fit to offer them. The reference to the skirts concerns inches and not seasons and the decision that the women of this country are no longer sheepishly inclined toward French fashions was made today by suit and skirt manufacturers here.

The manufacturers even went so far as to admit that retailers and garment makers lost millions of dollars last year because they did not realize that women in the United States had ideas of their own as to what best suited them.

With Samuel Greenberg as spokesman, the industrial council of cloak, suit and skirt manufacturers, representing one of the largest industries in America, definitely declared its independence of any possible attempt of French designers to introduce longer skirts for autumn. The American women, Mr. Greenberg said, definitely vetoed long skirts last fall.

The New York retail trade also spoke its mind about long skirts according to the French. Franklin Simon declared the trade had found American women did not want extreme styles and that "no Paris fashion can be successful if it is not liked by American women."

The manufacturers and retailers, it was said, have learned that women in this country are growing more sensible than men regarding comfort and good taste in clothing. In his statement regarding the decision to look to American women for American styles, Mr. Greenberg said:

"If the Parisian creators should insist upon longer skirts the American manufacturers would pay no heed to such a decree. We learned last fall, when Paris first sponsored the long skirts after years of acceptance of the shorter lengths, that the American woman has her own ideas about the apparel best suited to her tastes and needs.

"Millions of dollars were lost by the manufacturers and retailers before they realized that the extreme French modes, whether long or short, do not conform to American requirements.

"We are determined there shall be no repetition of what occured last year. Coat lengths now approved for fall by the leading style creators are 45 inches for a size 16 in a "dressy" model and 45 inches in the sports types.

"We intend to adhere to our present standard of lengths because we prefer to take our fashion dictates from American women instead of European designers."

For American Styles

The chic American woman will be clothed in raiment truly American if the style exhibit of the Morrison hotel has its way about the fall fashions. At the third semi-annual showing which opened yesterday and will be held for the next four weeks for the benefit of 2,000 retail buyers of the middle west, it was apparent a considerable number of women will wear modes American made, of American materials and designed by Americans.

The colors will be many and cheerful. Sports coats will be in reds and blues and greens and browns, and most of them will have fur collars. They will be longer and have more "fit" to them than in previous years. Sports suits are of wool and silk in the same colors. There are tweed effects and light wool crêpes. Wine and green will be popular for afternoon frocks and evening frocks will follow the long lines of last year.

The new styles will be on exhibit to the public when models appear in a fashion show in the Terrace gardens on Aug. 4, 6, 7, 11, 13 and 14.

Corner Stone Relaid.

The corner stone of the La Salle Avenue Baptist church was relaid last night with services conducted by the pastor, the Rev. J. B. Rogers. The stone was first laid 44 years ago. With the reconstruction necessary to provide for the widening of North La Salle street, requiring 14 feet to be taken from the front of the church, the corner stone was taken up to await the foundations of the new front wall.

Peru Holds Fete for 109th Birthday of Independence

LIMA, Peru, July 28.—(AP)—Celebration of the 109th anniversary of Peruvian independence began here today. Archbishop Lisson officiated at a mass in the cathedral which was attended by high officials from every walk of life, and followed by a review of troops from the balcony of the old Pizarro palace.

Clown Army to March for Sally's Crowd

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

No circus is complete without its army of clowns who tumble about the arena, getting themselves into absurd and ridiculous situations, provoking laughter and making fun in general. To provide its patrons with a generous share of such entertainment, Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus has gathered one hundred of the funniest, most riotous ones to be in clown land. Won't we have a time when they perform for us a week from next Thursday at our circus party!

In addition to the comedy to be found under the canvas tents there are many extremely interesting, thrilling and breath taking acts. The dancing, tumbling and somersaulting wire walker, Con Colleano, will make your hair stand on end at the chances he takes in mid air. And some of the aerialists are positively fearless as they fly through space from one trapeze to another.

Beautifully trained horses, all blue-blooded thoroughbreds, form an important part of the "cast." Two hundred of them appear in a single display. Others will be seen in exciting races, hurdles, drawing flying chariots and in the famous wild west show. Here we'll see rodeo champions and daring riders, both men and women, born to the saddle and skilled with the reins. In fact, it will be an afternoon so full of fun that our greatest difficulty will be to keep from missing any of it.

I have an idea that every boy and girl in and around Chicago will want to be one of my guests at this party. Write and tell me about it so that I shall know who you are and why you want to come. Remember, I may take one hundred of you with me and I shall select those who write the best letters. The deadline for the letters is Thursday morning and the date of the party will be August 7. Get to work at them and don't forget to mention those three important items—your name, address and age.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

Just Practicing.

Trying to while away the time waiting for my friend, I scribbled "Mrs. Larry Truem," "Jane S. Truem," [the last is his name] all over a piece of paper as one sometimes does when just waiting around. Soon I heard, "Doesn't that look good?" He had come into the room so quietly that I didn't hear him, and he saw it!!! [I might add that I now write the names frequently." R. M.

It Takes Time to Be Wise and Kind, Parents Often Find

By Mrs. Gladys Huntington Bevans

It's hard to be kind in a hurry. It's hard to be wise in a hurry. It's difficult to be patient in a hurry.

Does that sound a little silly to you? If you're the mother of small children, I don't think it does—I believe you'll know what I mean. When the hour is late, and you're hurrying the children to bed, haven't you noticed how apt you are to be cross over their preparations? If you're trying to get the children and yourself ready to go on a journey, don't you often find yourself growing short of temper—and your store of patience simply melting away?

Some psychologists estimated, the other day, that a child has to learn 446 new things in order to eat his meals. This gives us some general idea of how many different detailed controls a young child has to acquire in learning to do what seem to us like simple acts—like buttoning his nightie, or lacing a shoe.

If we're often in a hurry it's almost impossible for us to have the patience we should have with awkward, learning little fingers. Every truly understanding mother knows it is an actual impossibility for a young child to hurry with anything—except perhaps running. He can't hurry with his blocks, with his dressing, with his undressing, with his washing, with his handling of his food or even with his chewing of it.

It's so easy to be annoyed when you're in a hurry to go somewhere, when you have too much to do in the time you have to do it in, when dinner is late, or guests have stayed too long. Of course, it's quite human. But human or not, we parents have to keep ourselves well in hand in order that our little children shall not bear the brunt of circumstances or feelings which are not their fault.

Haste makes waste—or dispositions as well as of time. And whether it sounds silly or not, it does take time to be kind.

Bright Sayings of the Children

Donizel had the baby in his new express wagon and was giving it a ride on the front walk. An elderly lady passed and, smiling at the baby, asked if it was his little brother.

"If he was my brother he'd be wearing overalls, but he isn't, so he's by sister." M. F. F.

Mrs. Ernest Frederick Eidlitz, who is passing the summer at Hilltop place, Rye, will give a luncheon there tomorrow. Her guests will include Mrs. Frank A. Vanderlip, Mrs. Joseph Stevens and Mrs. Henry O. Hereford.

Gingham Dog, Calico Cat to Aid Ice Fund

The gingham dog and calico cat, to say nothing of the tin soldiers and paper dolls, will do their stuff Thursday night for THE TRIBUNE free ice fund. And its going to be the lucky person who holds a seat ticket to the show to be presented promptly at 8 o'clock at Almira Simons hall, 1640 Hancock street, by 75 boys and girls.

"The Juvenile Follies of 1930," has plenty of fund in store for its audience, the program announced yesterday by Mrs. Edward G. Shore, director, indicates. There'll be a sleepy head and pyjama chorus, wooden soldiers drilling and jointed dolls doing their mechanical dance. There'll be a jack-in-the-box dance and a singing doll, and just to make chills chase up and down your spine, there'll be a boogy man chorus while the lights are out.

Among the variety numbers will be farmers and farmerettes, rain spirits, flowers, butterflies, Jack Frost, autumn leaves, snow drops, and special song and dance numbers, many of them by juveniles known in the radio, singing and dancing world, who offered their services as soon as they learned Mrs. Shore with her daughter, Bernice, 10, planned the benefit in behalf of the underprivilgede babies of the city.

There'll even be a pickaninny chorus. Among the first to respond to Mrs. Shore's appeal for children to appear in the show were eight Negro children, members of a south side orphanage who will appear on the program as the Melody Makers.

Among the performers will be Bayleh and Grace Chanenson, Alice Bogy, Grace Benjamin, Eudyce Handler, Dolores Pearl Henicek, Helen Streiff, Charlotte Welsh, Edward Jones, Yvonne Hodgeson, Helen Kellner, Gloria Watson, Eulodia Victor, Dottie Mae Cook, John Hodgeson, Loretta Sullivan, Frank Finn, Patty Ziegler, Isabelle Crawford, Shirley Witkin, Bernice Shore, and Grace Bowl.

Among 22 gifts to the ice fund arriving yesterday were five from shows and lemonade stands operated by children. Jean Gibson, Carolyn Williams and Gloria Warner made $1.50 from a circus, at 7719 Colfax avenue, where refreshments of lemonade and cake were included in the five cent admittance. Johnny and India Moffett, 480 Elder Lane, Winnetka, earned $2 from a lemonade stand. A show in Wien's yard, 5671 Washington boulevard, given by Francine Wien, Dorothy Hartlein, Evelyn Lundy, Dorothy Fisher and Frank Tierney netted the fund $3. Another show brought $5 from Marilyn, Jean and Shirley Strening, Mary and Catherine Coughlin, Grace Ryan, Arline and Madeline Porn, and Eleanor Garvey, Jean Squibbs, in Oak Park.

Seven boys gave an ice fund entertainment at 5959 South Troy street and earned $5. They were Perry Lusk, Jr., Raymond and Herbert Anderson, Chester Stefan, John, Paul and Charles Medo. These gifts are acknowledged.

California Presbyterians Would Join Methodists

Los Angeles, July 28.—(AP)—The California synod of the Presbyterian church today adopted a committee recommendation aimed at eventual union of the Presbyterian and the Methodist Episcopal churches.

The recommendation urged the general Presbyterian assembly be petitioned for the continuance and cultivation of friendly relations with the Methodist church for the purpose of eventual union. The report also urged establishment of joint classes for missionary study and the drawing of plans for joint summer conferences of the two churches.

Disillusioned at 22 Because He Hasn't Found "Dream Girl"

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Fancy at 22 eliminating everything from your life but business! And you a good looking boy already showing symptoms of the proverbial go-getter! That's Floyd. A young man who has given up hope of finding the girl of his dreams, after several years of searching at parties and dances and places where one is supposed to catch a first glimpse of one's dream girl!

"As you know," says Floyd, "the average young man has in his mind a vision of the girl of his dreams—even to the features in her pretty face. It means that some day this young man may see in reality his dream girl in the subway, streets, theater or some place, but, unfortunately, the wonderful opportunity of getting acquainted is denied unless there is a formal introduction."

A short period of retirement probably is the best recommendation to make the dreamers like Floyd. Nothing like a good dose of your own company to drive you to compromise with life as it has to be met!

But don't we all have dreams?

Some of us get over them and some of us don't. Some of us will be carried 'off to our graves still dreaming of the masterpiece (male or female) that should by our self-imposed divine right been alloted us, meanwhile missing a lot of good fun with a fair substitute.

That's the trouble with dreams and dream-girls and dream-men. You pass up so many good chances chasing the phantoms. Sooner or later you have to catch up with reality or life is a meaningless void.

About the dream-mates. Every woman and every man in love has his and hers now. They may not have seemed that way when they were adopted first. But love has a way of making a mediocre substitute look like the real thing under circumstances of marriage.

Sooner or later, Floyd, you'll have to get around to it. You may even have to take a girl with a turned-up nose and a plump little figure.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Lame Alibi.

"Dear Miss Blake: My boy friend broke a date, explaining he works nights and sleeps all day. Is he sincere? WONDERING."

Rather a lame excuse, as he was familiar with his working hours when he made the date.

Forget Her.

"Dear Miss Blake: My girl told me she cares for some one else. Shall I continue going out with her?

Many Aids to Fresh, Crisp Loveliness in Summer Time

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

The ensemble idea has taken pretty deep root in our souls. A day is never too hot to go scampering about to get a bag of just the right color to match the dress just bought. And hats and shoes and all the paraphernalia of woman warfare has to subscribe to an even, or at least, a duplex note of harmony.

Tossing the ensemble idea in the air and letting it come down again to light where it may, how about betting on the pluperfect ensemble made by the girl in the ravishing frock of organdy with a person crisp and fresh and diffusing a fragrance as sweet as a dew drenched bud. The frock need not be organdy. It may be dotted Swiss, or printed chiffon, or gingham. It may be any strictly summer material. But fresh, dainty, and suggestive of a garden scent it must be to get toward the head of the ensemble class we're talking about, and the girl it enwraps must be identically as appealing to the esthetic as to the imaginative sense.

With bath salts, sachet, and perfumes being the quite reasonable things they are today, your charming summer miss or matron can spiral a poor male-plodding brain into an enchanting realm. And women ought to do that, at least o' summer evenings, for the good of their beloved's souls don't you think? Women ought to be helpmeets, good listeners, good cooks, and good boosters and all the other things that are expected of them.

(Also, they ought to be dee-light-ful. Delightfully fresh and crisp and feminine and fluffy (if fluffs are becoming) and all the things that women can be in this year of grace and inexpensively lovely summer things, including the dabs of scent or trailing hints of sachet-tended lingerie boxes and dress closets. It's good woman business to be temptingly lovely—not just hygienically correct. And it is beauty's particular business. Summer, somehow, craves the pleasure of women in "blossom" as well as woods and gardens.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

I. G.: PLAIN WATER USED AS an eye wash will cause a smarting of the eyes. Add a little salt to boiled water—just enough to make the water taste salty.

D. S.: WARTS ON THE FACE may be removed without leaving a scar. Consult a reputable physician. Ordinary warts are not contagious.

V. M.: USE AN EYEBROW BRUSH to brush your eyebrows. If they are thin rub on yellow vaseline before brushing. The brushing promotes their gloss and trains them into shape.

This Dress Wears Its Chic at the Neckline

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special Correspondence.]—There are many midsummer frocks drifting around Paris that wear their chic around the neckline. Hot weather brings out simple clothes, for nobody wants to be annoyed with frills and complications when the mercury is threatening to burst in super-torridity. Paris manages to give distinction to these simple clothes by new effects in details, and the new treatments that are being devised for necklines are among the most successful.

Evening gowns with strappings and harnesses disguising the fact that there is very little waist below the harness provide a new arrangement of neck and shoulder lines. Day time dresses with lacy yokes at the neck, with gay ruffled collars, and with double necklines to increase the open air area are much in vogue.

The accompanying sketch shows Vionnet's new way of providing neckline interest by employing a double line, and in this way making a rather low décolleté possible for the most exacting occasions. This frock is made of sapphire blue double georgette, and the blouse has a simple, rather deep round neck. Over this Vionnet places a georgette ruffle that is not attached to the dress at all except in crossed points in front. This ruffle is wide enough to cover the neck entirely at the back.

Another interesting feature of this dress is the way the blouse is draped and tied into a bow at the left side, just above the waistline. The skirt is cut circular and has a yoke made by

Food Talk.

Juicy blueberry pie and huckleberry dumplings! Who is not willing to stain his lips purple with these luscious desserts? Until recently we could enjoy these foods only in the summertime while the fruits were fresh. Now, through freezing they are made available the year round.

When you visit your market you may be offered at one time blueberries, at another huckleberries. The names are variously and contradictorily used. New England calls the fruit blueberries. States south and west call it huckleberries. In some localities in the United States huckleberries are known as whortleberries. In Europe they are called bilberries.

While these berries are much alike there is a difference in the size of the bushes on which they grow and there is a slight variation in the flavor, size and color of the fruit. Blueberries are generally sweeter, milder and larger.

Blueberries or huckleberries are now in season and will be on the market until about the middle of September. They are quite expensive, considering that most of the crop comes from wild bushes which require no cultivation or care. The expense, however, is justified because much time is required to pick them. And there is one feature which redeems the price. When one buys a quart of good berries one receives almost a quart of edible fruit because there is little waste.

These berries are delicious served fresh with cream and sugar. In the preparation of other foods they are excellent and will go farther. An example is in biscuit, muffins, cottage pudding and pie. One cup of huckleberries yields 100 calories, 90 of which are carbohydrate, 3 protein and 7 fat. They are also a fairly rich source of calcium and phosphorus and they are almost as rich in iron as are raisins.

Blueberry Cottage Pudding

2 tablespoons shortening (half butter, half hydrogenated fat)
⅝ cup sugar
1 egg
1 cup flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup blueberries
1-3 cup milk.

Cream shortening, add sugar gradually and the well beaten egg and beat thoroughly. Then sift flour with baking powder and salt and mix with blueberries. Add milk and flour mixture alternately and mix well. Turn into greased cake pan and bake 20 minutes in a moderate oven or at 375 degrees Fahrenheit.

Remove to serving dish, pour over 2 cups hot blueberries stewed with ⅝ cup sugar and ½ cup water and serve with fluffy hard sauce.

FARM AND GARDEN

BY PAUL POTTER

There is ample chance of doing too much cultivating of the bearing orchard, Dr. W. A. Ruth, University of Illinois pomologist, points out, in spite of the fact that all too little care is being given the average corn belt farm orchard these days.

Bearing trees should not be cultivated up to the end of the growing season and then left for the winter with the ground bare of vegetation, he states. This practice, which is not common, seriously increases the loss of valuable surface soil by erosion in the winter, even on slight slopes. Futhermore, cultivation depletes the supply of organic matter in the soil, which in turn speeds up erosion.

"To prevent or decrease erosion, cultivation should be stopped and a cover crop sown in time to make a good growth before winter," advises Prof. Ruth. "The cover crop should not be sown so early, however, that it will compete seriously with the trees for water in dry summers. Sown in July or August, a cover crop sometimes actually increases the water content of the soil by protecting it from the wind and by shading it, thereby reducing evaporation.

"From the standpoint of water competition, an annual, such as cowpeas, is preferable to a biennial. If planted at the right time the annual can be made to make most of its growth in the fall when competition for water is not so serious."

In contrast to bearing trees the pomologist avers, young trees do better when cultivated throughout the entire growing season. The cultivated area surrounding the trees need not be large, and the same precautions should be taken to prevent erosion in the middle of the rows.

WOMAN'S AND MISS' DRESS.

The sleeveless capelet frock is doubtless one of the most wearable frocks of the season, the soft cape in this chic model falling in soft ripples over the arms, giving the effect of short sleeves. The bodice is closely fitted and the skirt circular. Voile, silk crepe and many of the cottons are appropriate for this sort of a dress.

The pattern, 2507, comes in sizes 14, 16 and 18 years and 36, 38 and 40 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 3¾ yards of 39 inch material with ¼ yard of 35 inch contrasting.

Baby ills and ailments seem twice as serious at night. A sudden cry may mean colic. Or a sudden attack of diarrhea—a condition it is always important to check quickly. How would you meet this emergency—tonight? Have you a bottle of Castoria ready? There is nothing that can take the place of this harmless but effective remedy for children; nothing that acts quite the same, or has quite the same comforting effect on them.

For the protection of your wee one—for your own peace of mind—keep this old, reliable preparation always on hand. But don't keep it just for emergencies; let it be an everyday aid. Its gentle influence will ease and soothe the infant who cannot sleep. Its mild regulation will help an older child whose tongue is coated because of sluggish bowels. All druggists have Castoria; the genuine bears Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper.

Six months in 1930

THE American Weekly carried more advertising during the first six months of 1930 than it has ever carried during any other six months of its history.

This record, coming at a time when advertising expenditures have been scrutinized more carefully than ever, speaks plainly for itself.

There is simply no ignoring the fact that The American Weekly offers the utmost in value on the magazine counter today.

The national advertiser who wants his advertising dollar to buy the maximum of advertising attention cannot possibly omit the greatest of all magazines from his list.

While one color page in the American Weekly costs $16,000, an astounding sum to the uninitiated, actually you can wear out a dozen lead pencils without figuring out as good a way to spend that sum.

Where else with that amount can you buy entry into nearly 6,000,000 homes located in the richest buying areas of the United States?

In what other magazine or group of magazines will it buy the attention of almost 6,000,000 families and without duplication?

A color page in The American Weekly is two and one-half times as big as a color page in any other magazine. That means plenty of room to tell your whole story in word and picture.

The American Weekly has the largest circulation on earth because, editorially, it is the most interesting magazine on earth.

For the advertiser who knows the importance of hitting hard at a time when every dollar counts, this great magazine offers an economic opportunity unequaled in the magazine field.

In 536 of America's 812 towns and cities of 10,000 population and over it concentrates and dominates.

In each of 185 cities, The American Weekly reaches one out of every two families.
In 132 more cities, it reaches 40 to 50%.
In an additional 102 cities, it reaches 30 to 40%.
In another 117 cities, it reaches 20 to 30%.

—and, in addition, nearly 2,000,000 families in thousands of other communities, large and small, regularly buy The American Weekly.

These families represent one-fourth of all the buying homes in the country. And you can reach them all, nearly 6,000,000 of them, for less than ⅓ cent per family.

Do you wonder that 1930 is another record year for this great magazine?

Where else can you spend your advertising dollar more effectively?

Cock-A-Doodle-Doo

July (the seventh month of 1930) is the largest July in volume of advertising revenue in the history of The American Weekly, exceeding July, 1929, by 27½%.

STRIBLING KNOCKS OUT PHIL SCOTT IN SECOND ROUND

FLOORS BRITON FIVE TIMES WITH ATTACK TO BODY

Yankee Seldom Hit; 35,000 See Bout.

Takes Ma's Advice

THOMASVILLE, Ga., July 28.—(AP)—Young Stribling took his mother's advice tonight when he knocked out Phil Scott.

"Hit him like you did Von Porat and hurry home," Mrs. Stribling cabled him Saturday.

"Ma" Stribling was in Thomasville today and listened to the Associated Press reports of the fight.

(Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.)

LONDON, July 28.—William L. (Young) Stribling knocked out Phil Scott in the second round at Wimbledon stadium tonight and earned the right to challenge Max Schmeling for the heavyweight championship.

The fight lasted only 5 minutes and 45 seconds, but it gave the big, lumbering Britisher plenty of time to find his way to the canvas. Four times in the first round Stribling floored him—twice for the count of nine, once for five, and another time for the count of eight, which would have gone to ten if the gong hadn't saved him.

Stribling Seldom Hit.

Stribling seldom was hit by Scott, who never once revealed himself as anything but clumsy. Stribling rained accurate and hard blows upon an easy target, especially one deadly right to the jaw that spelled disaster for the Britisher.

Once Stribling actually retreated with Scott hanging onto him and the Georgian looked appealingly at the referee. More than once Scott's swings missed by more than a foot.

Scott Lands Two at Start.

Stribling tried to rush Scott off his feet at the start, but he had a surprise. His first swing was answered by two stiff lefts to the nose. Stribling snorted and looked startled and angry, too. The crowd, sensing a real battle in the offing, roared for Scott, but it was the last chance to cheer the British champion. Stribling's fighting blood was up and Scott quickly began to box on the defensive.

Stribling rushed to close quarters and although Scott's right was pummeling his ribs, he got his opponent in just the right place for a series of sharp jabs and hooks to the left side of the head. Already Scott was being shaken and the infighting which followed was so rough the referee had to separate the two men. Suddenly more or less in the open, Stribling shot home a terrific left to the stomach. In the arc lights which flooded the ring Scott's face could be seen with a look of pain. Slowly he sank to the floor of the ring. That was the first of the knockdowns and Scott rose just in time to avoid a knockout.

Scott Hurt by Body Attack.

For a few seconds he gave a show of fight but Stribling, giving him no rest, sent Scott tottering twice to his knee in the same round under a series of punches at close range, and then, just before the bell, the Georgian sent him sprawling for the fourth time. The bell sounded at the count of eight.

Stribling again had things all his own way in the second round. His left hooks to the stomach had Scott at sea. Speeding up his onslaught, Stribling hurt Scott on the body with a bombardment of rights and lefts and when the last terrific left from Stribling landed squarely to the stomach Scott toppled for the last time. He tried to get up but the referee's "out" came while he was still on one knee.

Griffs Get New First Baseman; May Move Shires

Washington, D. C., July 28.—(AP)—President Clark Griffith of Washington Senators tonight announced the purchase of Joseph Kuhel, first baseman, from the Kansas City club of the American association.

Already fortified by two good first basemen, Joe Judge and Art Shires, Griffith indicated the new purchase might mean Shires would be transferred to the outfield because of his batting ability.

New York, July 28.—William Stribling's impositions on the American prize fight customers have been many and flagrant, but the young man performed the amende honorable when he knocked out Fainting Philip Scott in London this evening. By doing so he will have forestalled another of Fainting Philip's swooning exhibitions on this side of the water and that, in a business which allows the customers few happy moments, will induce a feeling of vengeful pleasure, mitigated only by the fact that retribution overtook Philip far from the view of those who had paid large sums on this side to see this done to him.

YOUNG STRIBLING.

The moving pictures of Philip going into the coma on his own mattress without sounding any claim of malpractice, and with the voice of the English referee counting him out, should do a prosperous business in all American centers of pugilism and I should like to own the American rights of the same.

It is regrettable also that the Stribling boy, when he made one of the thoroughly satisfactory fights of his entire career, should have chosen London, England, as the scene of this phenomenon, because he is by now indebted to the American patrons in the sum of several hundred thousand dollars and no fewer than one hundred fights. However, it would be ungrateful to withhold appreciation of his great public service in eliminating Fainting Philip and obviating his return to America and when William comes back there will be an occasion for a civic and popular reception such as New York has never given any one before.

Not to deny Bobby Jones nor Col. Lindbergh any credit for their achievements, it must be admitted that the British golfers whom Jones defeated had never had any rankling grudge against the Atlantic ocean which Col. Lindbergh conquered.

The Stribling boy, however, has finally destroyed a nuisance which seriously impaired the peace of a great many citizens. Fainting Philip was becoming a menace. He was always coming back to flop on the floor with his gloves folded over his sensitive center, rolling his bottle green eyes up into his head and moaning, "O, I say, that's done it," while his manager hopped about the ring yelling "Foul!"

Philip appeared in three productions of great social importance in the U. S. A. and he complained of fouls in all of them, starting with his debut against Otto Von Porat, who hit him again before he could sink to the floor and knocked him out in a round. Altogether Philip collected more than $100,000 in America, in return for which he expended a total effort of one left jab and one right cross to Jack Sharkey's mouth in Miami last winter.

His manager, as ex officio chairman of the New York prizefight commission, was always jumping him over the heads of the other entrants in the heavyweight eliminations, reinstating him at the top of the eligible list, and if William Stribling had not knocked him out he would have been coming back again next spring to fight Schmeling for the heavyweight championship of the world. Some people have an irritant quality which makes their very existence a trial and Philip was a party who got in the customer's hair.

The Stribling boy also had trifled with the customers' patience, and it would have been a perfect day for them if the two great apologists of pugilism had knocked each other out at the same instant, thus exterminating [illegible]

WALSH SHOOTS 140 TO LEAD PRO GOLF QUALIFIERS

Five Winners' Totals Are Below Par 146.

The Qualifiers

Frank Walsh, Bryn Mawr	72	70	140
Laurie Ayton, Evanston	72	72	144
Harry Cooper, Glen Oak	72	72	144
Al Espinosa, Illinois Sportsman's club	72	73	145
Alex Ayton, Springfield	73	73	145

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Frank Walsh of Bryn Mawr led the field which competed yesterday at the Westmoor Country club in the district qualifying round for the national professional golf tournament. Four others earned the right to represent Chicago in the meet which will be held at Fresh Meadow, Long Island, in September. They are Laurie Ayton of Evanston, Harry Cooper of Glen Oak, Al Espinosa of the Illinois Sportsman's club, and Alex Ayton of Springfield.

To outscore the 36 pros who competed, Walsh was forced to shoot 72—70—142, four strokes under par, over the long and difficult course. Cooper and Laurie Ayton each made 144, while Espinosa and Alex Ayton were turning in 145. Thus even par golf, or 146, was not good enough.

After leading the field with a brilliant 71 in the morning, George Smith of Onwentsia faltered and took a 79 in the afternoon. Walsh leaped to the front on the first nine of his afternoon round in which he made four birdies to reach the turn in 34, three strokes under par. Then he came home in par 36 for a total of 70.

The field which will start championship play at Fresh Meadow will be composed of 64 golfers from all sections of the country. A qualifying round on the first day will cut the number of contestants to 32, after which match play will begin. Leo Diegel, the defending champion, is exempt from preliminaries.

Par—Out	443	554	354—37
In—	454	434	534—36—73
Morning.
Walsh—Out—	333	443	455—34

Riley Wins 2 Dry Victories on Wet Arlington Track

BY FRENCH LANE.

Galaday, the fleet young daughter of Sir Gallahad III., which thrilled more than one great turf crowd as a 2 year old last season and which as a 3 year old developed into a gay deceiver, quit fooling her public at Arlington Park yesterday in the Randolph purse.

She ran with a stylish band that included Dr. Freeland, Fair Ball, Beaming Over and others. But Galaday slipped into the contest with 90 pounds on her back and she had the good lightweight rider, G. Riley, in the saddle.

It was hardly a contest until they were within the shadow of the finish line. Riley sent Galaday to the front at the rise of the barrier. He kept her there all the time, leading by three lengths at the turn and later by two lengths. She beat Fair Ball in a final desperate drive by a half length, mainly because Riley knew where the going was best and he guided Galaday over the strip of the track which provided the more solid footing.

Except for Fair Ball's challenge it was Galaday's race all the way. Dr. Freeland, the favorite, dropped back on the lower bend and had nothing left, but he did manage to scamper on home in time to save third money, six lengths back of Fair Ball. Beaming Over was fourth.

First Victory This Season.

In the rush of support to Dr. Freeland, which had been a rival of Blue Larkspur last year, Galaday was slightly overlooked and she paid $9.14 to win. She ran the mile over the difficult holding track, which appeared dry on the surface, in 1:41 2-5.

It was the first race Galady has won this season, although as a juvenile last year she frequently burned up the Arlington track and was always able to hold her own with the best of her age.

Riley followed up his brilliant ride on Galaday by one that fairly sparkled in the Waterloo purse, also a mile, winning on Equation.

Sande, old Jimmy Smith, Garner, Schaefer, Fator and other famous jockeys have ridden to rich victories at Arlington, but not one of them ever guided his mount home any more skillfully than Riley did when he sent Equation to victory.

It was a case of Riley's knowing the best going. He was in front most of the time with Equation, but weaved in and out so often with the son of Donnacona that at times it looked like one of those running straight and true behind him would get up and take the lead.

Wins on Dry Strip.

Down the stretch Riley kept Equation fifteen feet from the rail. Sweet Verbena came through on the inside and it seemed she had saved enough ground to win. But in the final strides Equation went on to triumph over the dry strip in the track by a length. Sweet Verbena, a 62 to 1 shot, beat Miss Bess for second money by half a length. There was a last minute plunge on Whiskery which made him the favorite. But Whiskery finished fourth and was always outrun. Equation paid $6.26. He ran the mile in 1:42 3-5.

Admiral Cary T. Grayson arrived at Arlington yesterday to serve as honorary steward during the final week. Admiral Grayson has just returned from Europe. While touring France he suffered on attack of pneumonia, from which he has recovered.

Toro Through as a Racer, but Won't Give Up the Track

They're not going to ask game old Toro, now a hopeless cripple at 5 years old, to give up his race track environment all of a sudden.

E. B. M'LEAN.

Trainer Johnny Schorr, who saddled him for the Arlington handicap last Saturday only to see him break down midway in the backstretch and later watch the fleet son of The Porter hauled off the track, is going to let him keep familiar with his associates of the race track for a few more months.

Toro will be a non-racing member of E. B. McLean's racing band until time to go into winter quarters late in the fall. Then, when the weak ligaments in Toro's right fore leg probably will be healed, he will travel to McLean's Virginia breeding farm where he will join his daddy The Porter, Colin and other famous sires in the stud.

Little Johnny Schorr was sad yesterday when a final examination revealed that all the ligaments in Toro's right leg had been torn while he was endeavoring to protect his weak left leg and win the $35,000 added Arlington handicap.

"Perhaps I shouldn't have started him," Schorr said, "but he acted so good before the race I couldn't pass up the opportunity to give him a chance at another great stake prize before sending him back to the breeding farm."

Schorr saddled Toro for an American Derby and watched him win it as a 3 year old. He sent him out to win a Latonia Derby and a Lincoln handicap the same year. He watched the plucky racer win six races as a 2 year old, including a Cincinnati trophy and a Queen City handicap, and last year he sent him after a Suburban handicap in New York and watched him run one of the great races of his career to be beaten two noses by Bateau and Petee Wrack.

When Toro won the Grainger Memorial handicap in Kentucky this spring and followed it up with a triumph in the Sweitzer handicap at Washington Park, Schorr was certain Toro was sound and back in form. The horse didn't show any of his lameness. So the trainer began pointing him for the Arlington handicap. This was the richest race to which Toro was eligible this season. He came up to the Arlington in fine condition and found the kind of muddy track he likes best.

"Toro likes to be part of a racing stable; he's a good traveler; he's the best behaved horse I've ever handled when getting ready for a big race," Trainer Schorr said yesterday. "He's too good a stock horse to keep out of the stud, but if I have my way about it we'll bring him back to the racing stable for a few weeks each season, just to give him a taste of the life he enjoys most."

WHITE SOX RALLY IN NINTH TO WIN 16TH FOR LYONS

Ted's Hit Scores Run That Beats Browns, 6-5.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., July 28.—Ted Lyons stepped into a 115 degree atmosphere today in quest of his sixteenth triumph of the campaign and found it after a belated attack by his White Sox mates. The Chicago ace seemed doomed to failure, but a run in the eighth, followed by two in the ninth, reversed the setting and flattened the Browns by 6 to 5. The game drew only 500 paid admissions, augmented by a thousand women guests.

Fothergill can be credited with putting the Sox back in the game in the eighth after the Browns had scored what looked like the deciding run. With Watwood on base as the result of a pass, the former Tiger rammed a double to left and Watwood dashed home, leaving the Chicagoans one shy of a tie.

Lyons Drives in Last Run.

They employed more doubles to clinch it in the ninth. Cissell led with a single and Tate's two bagger scored him. That was all for Rip Collins. Kimsey took over the job and Lyons touched him for a two bagger that counted Tate for the winning tally.

Thomas and Stiles will pitch tomorrow.

The Sox enjoyed a one run lead in the third. Tate singled with one out and raced to third when McNeely threw wild trying to force him at second on Lyons' grounder. Watwood's long fly let Tate score. This induced the Browns to grab a pair of runs in their half. McNeely doubled and Gullic ran for him. Metzler's singled scored the runner. The next two men were retired, whereupon Metzler started to steal second and arrived safely when Cissell dropped the ball. A double by Hale sent Metzler home.

Sox Tie Score in 7th.

The score remained at 2 to 1 until the sixth. At this point the Browns added one to their total on a triple by Melillo and a bobble by the Sox. Melillo slapped his blow to left with one out. Badgro then bounced to Lyons and Melillo was trapped between third and home but in the run up Tate juggled the ball momentarily and the runner scooted back to third. Manion's fly to Jolley scored him.

Bush's men promptly busied themselves and tied the score with two runs in the seventh. Jolley started the sniping by tripling to center. A double by Barnes shoved him over the plate. Cissell bunted Barnes to third and he hiked home on a fly by Reynolds, who batted for Ryan.

The tie was of short duration. Goslin stepped up with one out in the home seventh and planted his twenty-second homer of the season on the right field roof. Kress was thrown out but Hale prolonged the session by doubling to left. A single by Melillo moved him to the plate. Badgro also singled but Lyons avoided further annoyance by getting Manion on a pop up. Then the Sox went to work on their winning rallies. Score:

Thurston Is Flying High with Robins

After Hollis Thurston pitched a 1 to 0 shutout for Brooklyn against St. Louis last week and snapped the leaders out of the slump into which the Cubs had thrown them, they were hailing the young man as a possible Moses. After he pitched a two hit game against Boston for his second shutout in succession yesterday, the Greater New York bugs were positive that Hollis will win the pennant for the Brooklyns.

HOLLIS THURSTON.

And New York, after the best New York fashion, now thinks that Thurston has discovered how to pitch since going under Uncle Robbie's wing.

However, this is the same Hollis who won 20 games for the Chicago White Sox in 1924, the only year in history that the Sox finished last.

Thurston went to Washington in 1926 in the deal that brought Roger Peckinpaugh to the Sox. After joining Washington, his work fell off, never to revive to the point of becoming a startling pitcher until the Brooklyn manager, in desperation after his club's collapse against the Cubs, started him against Pittsburgh with the aforementioned results.

Thurston previously this year had been busy as a relief worker, however. He appeared in the first game of the recent series with the Cubs as a pinch batter, and in the fourth and fifth games as a relief pitcher. The Cubs did not score off his delivery in three innings of pitching.

Thurston is 31 years old and has been playing professional baseball since 1919.

Hartnett Hits 23rd Home Run.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Those Cincinnati Reds, who had the insolence to beat our Cubs five straight in Cincinnati this blistering month of July, yesterday got just what they deserved when they tried to switch the locale of their depredations to Wrigley field. Charley Root, featuring 12 strikeouts, tanned them in the first game of the homecoming double header, 3 to 2, and Guy Bush whaled them again in the second number, 5 to 3.

Both of the contests were pretty ball games, each embodying unusual features that pleased the crowd of 35,000, the largest wash day gathering of the season.

In the first game Gabby Hartnett supplied what proved to be the winning run with his 23d homer of the year. The other runs previously were driven in by Hack Wilson's double after English and Cuyler had singled with two out in the third inning. The victim of this meager but highly adequate cluster of runs was Benny Frey, who has been mighty fresh with the Cubs this year, fresher than any other pitcher in the league, in fact.

The double victory enabled the Cubs to gain a half game on the leading Robins, whom they now trail by one game and a half. The Cubs will play the Reds a single game this afternoon, Malone opposing Rixey, then will lay off tomorrow and Thursday so's not to conflict with the White Sox, who'll be back in town for the two days.

Root's Twelfth Victory.

It was Root's twelfth victory of the year. And in effecting his dozen strikeouts he picked on two slugging gentlemen who, previous to this year, had known Charley only by reputation, We mean Harry Heilmann and Bob Meusel. Each of these boys fanned thrice.

An unusual development of the game was that there were only three Cub assists, one in the sixth by Root, another in the sixth by Blair and the third by English in the ninth. Charley Grimm had only four putouts at first base.

The second game will go down in the books as Bush's tenth win of the season. Guy didn't employ the strikeout technique, but until the eighth he was even more effective than Root. In the first he allowed a scratch single, in the second Heilmann nicked him for a homer and in the third he allowed a legitimate single.

No More Hits Until Eighth.

Then there were no more hits until the eighth. In this inning Wilson attempted a shoestring catch of Gooch's fly and fell on his stomach, giving Gooch a triple. Crawford, first of three pinch batters to hit safely for the Reds, drove in Gooch and later got around on a hit and a forceout. Pinch Batters Lucas and Callaghan singled in the ninth, but no harm came from either blow.

As for the Cub offensive in this second game, it may be said that most of the business was done in one inning, the fourth. The Cubs made eight hits in all and five of them, also a walk and an error, came in the inning before Jakie May could retire a man. This onslaught produced four runs. Then Si Johnson went in, got the side out in a jiffy, and in the four following innings allowed the Cubs a total of one hit, a single off Ford'shins by Blair in the sixth inning. Ash pitched the eighth and retired the side in order.

Durocher Busy at Short.

Aside from May's one bad inning the Cincinnati pitching was far better than you'll see for a team in a dozen winning games.

The fielding brilliance was produced by one of the losers, Leo Durocher. Leo accepted 12 chances without an error in the first game and he had eleven chances with one error in the second game. The books don't show double header records in fielding, but it is doubtful if many shortstops ever

Cubs Keep Stork and Cigar Store Salesmen Busy

Pat Malone and Gabby Hartnett, a couple of proud fathers themselves, have been appointed by their Cub teammates as a committee to "enforce the passing of cigars in celebration of blessed events."

The committee, then not official, swung into action a week ago when Pitcher Al Shealy became the father of a daughter. Al bought the cigars and Pat and Gabby saw to the distribution.

Catcher Johnny Schulte Sunday became the father of a boy. The committee functioned 100 per cent.

But there are other chapters. Fact is, Pat's figuring on putting in a side line of cigars. Clyde Beck and Doc Farrell have announced they soon will be in the market and the committee has questioned and will further question a young infielder whom they refuse to name but who is filling in the position vacated by a well known star who broke his ankle on Memorial day.

New York, July 28.—[Special.]—The disqualification of Stephen Ryan's Croyden marred the running of the first division of the Sleepy Hollow purse, today's feature at the Empire City track, which was divided into two sections. Croyden was disqualified after finishing a length and a half in front of W. J. Weyh's Shasta Grafton.

Croyden bumped Chief's Mountaineer at the quarter pole when Jockey Willie Harvey tried to squeeze him through between that horse and Turf Idol, the leaders at that point. Chief's Mountaineer was knocked out of the race, while Croyden went on to win handily.

Shasta Grafton meanwhile came on with a splendid stretch run to pass the tiring Turf Idol for second place. Realtor was fourth. Croyden was well played at 16 to 5, Shasta Grafton was 9 to 2, and Turf Idol was a receding favorite at 3 to 2.

The second division of the Sleepy Hollow resulted in a surprise victory by P. T. Chinn's Alleman, an 8 to 1 shot, which passed Nursery Rhymes, the tiring pacemaker, in the last furlong to win by half a length.

SIXTH RANKING PLAYER BEATEN IN NET TOURNEY

Seabright, N. J., July 28.—(AP)—Miss Mary Greef of Kansas City, sixth ranking woman tennis player of the United States, was eliminated in straight sets in the first round of the 37th annual Seabright invitation tournament today by Miss Marjorie Gladman, Santa Monica, Cal., who is ranked at No. 9. The scores were 6—3, 6—3.

The Marlowe sisters of California—Helen and Mercedes—both fell by the wayside. The former was eliminated by Miss Clara Louise Zinke, Cincinnati, 6—4, 6—4. Her sister fell before Miss Ruth Bailey, St. Louis, 6—4, 6—1.

MATCH LITTMAN AND GASPARO ON STADIUM CARD

Tait Littman of Milwaukee has been matched with Dan Gasparo for the eight round semi-windup to the La Barba-Mastro fight at the Chicago stadium on Aug. 7, Sammy Wolff announced yesterday.

Littman's only appearance here was against Ted Ross, whom he whipped on the Griffith-Risko card. Since then he has defeated George Courtney.

Offer Thompson $50,000 to Fight Tom Freeman

Cleveland, O., July 28.—(AP)—An offer of $50,000 to Jack Thompson, Los Angeles Negro, world welterweight boxing champion, to meet Tommy Freeman of Cleveland in a title bout of 15 rounds here the last week of August or the first week of September was taken under consideration tonight by Ray Alvis, Thompson's manager. The offer was made by Tommy McGinty, manager of Freeman, at a conference with Alvis today.

Cubs Subdue Reds, 3-2, 5-3, in Double Bill handled as many as 22 chances in one afternoon under the present rules. For instance, Beck had only seven chances in both games.

The foregoing, we think, has told you how all the runs were made, except the one for the Cubs in the first inning of the second game and the all-important four in the third inning of the second game. Here's the detail:

Blair struck out to open the Cub attack in the second inning, but Woody English got a double. Cuyler singled to right, scoring English. Cuyler stole second, his twenty-eighth theft of the season, but was out at third on Wilson's grounder. D. Taylor was called out on strikes.

Blair Starts Big Inning.

Blair started the third inning with a single. English singled to right, Blair going to third. Woody proceeded to second when the throw was made to third. Cuyler doubled to right, scoring Blair and English. Wilson singled to center, Cuyler scoring. Wilson reached third and D. Taylor first when the latter's grounder got past Durocher.

Wilson on third, D. Taylor on first, Grimm at bat. The exact setting before the Reds pulled their triple play Sunday. But this time the result was different. Grimm came through with the first and only hit he has made against the Reds in the last seven games. It was a single to right, which scored Wilson and put D. Taylor on third. But it also brought Johnson on the scene. And we've told you how stingy Johnson was all the rest of the way.

CLOSE SCORES MARK TRIBUNE GOLF TOURNEY

Close competition continues in THE TRIBUNE public links golf tournament. Most of the matches reported yesterday were decided by only a few strokes, because the method used in pairing brings together players of equal ability.

If your name is in the pairings published today, go out and play your part of the match on your favorite course at your earliest opportunity. If you have not entered the tournament, all you need to do is play a trial round and mail your card to THE TRIBUNE golf editor. Your opponent will be chosen from among those whose skill is equal to yours and then you can play your match anywhere you wish while your opponent is doing the same.

BILL TERRY GETS 4 HITS; CLIMBS TO BIG SIX RANKS

[By the Associated Press.]

Bill Terry, swinging a powerful bat for the New York Giants, pounded his way into baseball's Big Six yesterday as the remainder of the select, with the exception of Chuck Klein, lost ground. Terry's advance into the sextet removed Riggs Stephenson from the honor list and sent the Giants' first baseman into a threatening position for the National league batting leadership. Four hits, including two home runs, rang off Terry's bat, to boost his average to .399.

Klein took undisputed possession of first place, with two hits in four trips to the plate and an average of .406. Simmons' one hit lost him five points and dropped him into fourth place, behind Klein, O'Doul, and Terry. Gehrig also got but one hit today, while O'Doul and Ruth went through their games without getting a safety. The standings:

A'S BEAT YANKS ON COCHRANE'S HIT IN 12TH, 6-5

Foxx Gets 29th Homer to Tie Score in Ninth.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 28.—(AP)—Jimmy Foxx's 29th home run in the ninth, plus Mickey Cochrane's single in the 12th, gave the Athletics a 6 to 5 decision over the Yankees today.

JIMMY FOXX.

Foxx's homer found Cramer on base and overcame a two run lead held by the Yanks, sending the game into extra innings. In the 12th Earnshaw led off with a triple, Bishop and Cramer were passed purposely, but Cochrane came through with a single that decided the game. Score:

MRS. ARENDS' 78 SETS RECORD IN DISTRICT GOLF

Mrs. John Arends of Kildeer led the field in the qualifying round of the Chicago district women's golf tournament, scoring 41—37—78, two strokes better than par for a new woman's course record, at the Illinois Golf club yesterday.

Closest to her were Mrs. Lee W. Mida of Butterfield, the western open champion, and Rena Nelson of Exmoor with 82 each. Helen McMorran of Indian Hill qualified with 41—43—84. Mrs. Melvin Jones, Lincolnshire, was exempt from qualifying by virtue of her title won last year.

Mrs. Arends went over par only once, on the fifth hole going out. Coming in, she shot birdies at the 11th, 17th and 18th. The remainder of the round was played in par figures.

Yesterday's round sorted the field of more than 100 into five flights, in which match play begins today.

Today's pairings, championship flight:

Mrs. Melvin Jones, Lincolnshire, vs. Miss Florence Berbe, Olympia Fields, 86.
Mrs. Lee Mida, Butterfield, 83, vs. Miss Jane Berbe, Olympia Fields, 89.
Mrs. John Arends, Kildeer, 78, vs. Miss Ariel Vilas, Glen View, 88.
Miss Virginia Ingram, Sunset Ridge, 86, vs. Miss Mildred Hackl, Midlothian, 91.

Mrs. E. T. Nicholas Jr., Beverly, vs. Miss Mary Jane Redberg, Skokie, 90.
Miss Helen McMorran, Indian Hill, 84, vs. Miss Jane Weiller, Vernon Ridge, 89.

RELAYS TO MARK BRITISH-YANK TRACK MEET HERE

A series of relay races instead of the orthodox track program will mark the British empire-United States track and field meet, which will bring the outstanding athletes of the two countries together at Soldiers' Field the night of Aug. 27.

Seven relay races are on the program, which follows closely the English system, in which team strength rather than individual prowess is the predominating factor in deciding championships. Instead of a mile run there will be a four mile relay in which four men from each team will compete.

Fourteen events—eight track events and six field events—comprise the program under this method. The events are: 400 yard relay; one mile relay; 880 yard shuttle hurdle relay; four mile relay; two mile relay; one mile medley relay; three mile team race; eight lap steeplechase; pole vault; shot put; hammer throw; high jump; broad jump, and javelin.

ing two pests. William fought half a dozen times in New York and presented half a dozen excuses. He was always suffering from private and confidential pneumonia and when he fought Jack Sharkey in Florida he hadn't drawn on his pants before his loving parents and managers were tearing around the ringside, trampling down the inoffensive gunmen sitting there, to explain to the press row that William had really entered the ring against the advice of his doctor, his lawyer and his pastor, as he was really in a dying condition and only went on because he did not wish to disappoint the fans, who were ever first in his thoughts and affections.

But the process of advancement in the prize fighting business is very erratic and William, now that he has knocked out Fainting Philip, will be forgiven and advanced to the head of the class beyond Sharkey, who does not care to fight.

The customers are indomitable optimists and I am afraid I must be a customer at heart because, considering William's recent record of knockouts, I am given to wonder if he has not, perhaps, conquered his early reticence and learned to punch. If so, being a much better boxer than Max Schmeling, he must be able to knock him out, too, although it will be a much harder problem to catch Schmeling in a ring than to knock him out of one.

The return of William Stribling should be a picturesque spectacle. Of course, his old adherents of the Ku Klux Klan will wish to march in the parade along with those New York customers of opposite conviction who will desire to honor him, also, for what he did in England. When a man has knocked out Fainting Philip Scott it is no time to quibble over trivial differences.

Still, it would be prudent to watch the parade, if any from a discreet distance. There may be some people in this town with long memories who will recall his fights with Berlenbach, Loughran and McTigue and mingle a few anvils, Scotch bottles and paving blocks among the confetti tossed at him out of the high buildings.

THURSTON GIVES BRAVES 2 HITS; ROBINS WIN, 2-0

Boston, Mass., July 28.—(AP)—Hollis Thurston, veteran right hand pitcher of the league leading Brooklyn Robins, turned in his second consecutive shutout today, holding the Boston Braves to two hits as the Robins won, 2 to 0. Less than a week ago Thurston held the Cardinals to three hits and no runs.

Only three Braves reached first. Two of them were stranded there, while the third went out by a double play. Cantwell and Pinch Hitter Clark connected with the two blows off Thurston, while Maranville was given a base on balls.

Johnny Frederick led the Robins' attack with a double and two singles. His double, coupled with a similar hit by Wally Gilbert, scored Brooklyn's first run in the fourth.

DAVIS CUP RESULT.

FRANCE retained the international tennis trophy by about the margin originally expected—by a greater margin than expected after Tilden was added to the Yankee challenging squad. Now that it is over, Tilden will "retire" again and American tennis leaders must face anew the inevitable task of developing future cup players from the younger ranks.

With French tennis aces at full strength, the United States never had a chance for this year's matches. Then La Coste retired, for the season at least, and our hopes revived a bit. Tilden, meantime, was showing return of form until many thought him as good as ever. He probably was not, but his presence on the team unquestionably helped our chances, if any.

The Wake regretted the change in plans. We always have admired Tilden. His troubles with the U. S. L. T. A. had reached a state where we thought he would adhere to his decision not to play any more cup tennis. This is not said in criticism of Big Bill, for we suppose the lure, the hope he might enable the Yankees to pull through, were irresistible.

Another thing we do not know on this side is just how strong was the pressure on Tilden. Tennis may be an amateur sport, but the club holding the tourney always wishes full stands, which mean gate receipts. With Tilden out, the cup matches would have been just another tennis event. Tilden's presence filled the stands. Once before the French appealed to the United States to place Tilden on the challenging squad and the plea was granted.

The result was disappointing, not so much by the margin as because our doubles pair was beaten unexpectedly, and because the French margin of superiority is so apparent—until our younger players improve more, much more.

DEFER CARNERA HEARING; LEARNS STATUS FRIDAY

Washington, D. C., July 28.—(AP)—At the request of Primo Carnera, Italian pugilist, the labor department board of review postponed until Friday a hearing which was granted Carnera following an order requiring him to leave the country as an alien inadmissible for permanent residence.

N. B. A. Lifts Ban.

Cincinnati, O., July 28.—(AP)—Primo Carnera, Italian heavyweight boxer, suspended last spring by the National Boxing association after a match with Leon Chevalier on the Pacific coast, was tentatively reinstated today by the N. B. A.

Lifting of the suspension was conditional upon the stipulation that Carnera dispose of the services of his manager, Leon See. Stanley Isaacs, N. B. A. president, said the suspension against See will remain in force.

Name Courses for 1931 British Amateur and Open

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, July 28.—(AP)—Next year's British amateur golf championship will be played at the North Devon club at Westward Ho, probably beginning May 25. The 1931 open championship will be played at Carnoustie, Forfarshire, a Scotch golfing center from which many great golfers have gone to fame in the game. The open probably will begin June 15.

MR. CROW LOSES FARMERS' VOTE BY BIG MARGIN

BY BOB BECKER.

How about the common crow as found on your land? Is it harmful or beneficial? The farmers of the country had a chance to register their ideas on the crow question recently when the Farm Journal sent out a questionnaire to landowners asking them to answer these questions.

Of 9,731 replies received, 7,829 were against the crow; 1,801 were for the crow, and 101 were neutral. According to the American Game Protective association, which was much interested in this survey of opinion, reports from the questionnaire were received from every state in the Union.

The farmers who wrote in telling of the damage which the crows inflict on crops, bird life, etc., cited the following injuries to crops:

Pulling up sprouting corn; destroying corn, wheat and oats in the shocks; injuries to lettuce fields, watermelons, etc.

Injury to domestic animals—eyes pecked from young lambs and pigs; killing young rabbits.

Injury to poultry—eggs and young of chickens, turkeys, etc., destroyed.

The farmers cited the following examples of good done by the crows: The birds ate cutworms, grasshoppers, May beetles, wire worms and other insects which damage crops. Another beneficial habit of the crows is that they act as scavengers.

When all the reports from the farmers were analyzed the crow controversy brought out these two conclusions which are of interest to all bird fans, sportsmen and landowners:

1. Wherever crows are numerous they should be reduced in numbers, in coöperation with or under the jurisdiction of the conservation departments of the states.

2. The crow, if it exists in large numbers in a given territory, is injurious to farmers from spring to midwinter.

"Make Hair Grow while the sun shines"

"It is a well known phenomenon that in the summer the growth of hair is more rapid," says Dr. Arnold Lorand, Vienna Dermatologist.

THAT Hair grows faster in the summer than at any other season is an established scientific fact. You can take advantage of this seasonal peculiarity by starting Thomas' hair and scalp treatment at once.

Your hair will respond more quickly to this famous proved method of treatment now than at any other time. Within an unusually short time your dandruff will disappear, hairfall will stop, and new hair will actually be visible on the thin and bald spots. Call at the Thomas' office and talk your problem over with the specialist in charge. He will gladly examine your scalp without charge or obligation and frankly tell you what Thomas' treatment can do for you.

DEPEW ESTATE VALUE PLACED AT $15,954,249

Widow and Son Are Chief Beneficiaries.

New York, July 28.—[Special.]—Chauncey M. Depew left gross assets of $17,210,599 and a net estate of $15,954,249 when he died April 5, 1928, it was shown in a transfer tax filed today by Deputy State Tax Commissioner Stephenson.

Stocks and bonds were valued at $16,835,985. The widow, May Depew, and his son, Chauncey M. Depew Jr., are the principal beneficiaries, sharing between them the entire residuary estate. Yale university receives $1,000,000, and the village of Peekskill $100,000.

Widow Gets Legacy.

Mrs. Depew receives a $150,000 legacy, personal effects worth $4,766 and a life interest in half the residue amounting to $6,827,053. The remaining half of the residue goes to Mr. Depew's son, half of it outright and the balance in trust. In addition, the son receives the Depew home at 27 West 54th street, valued at $160,000, and personal effects valued at $37,074.

Twenty-three individuals were named among the legatees. These included relatives and employés. Kate Stang, a sister, who died last April, was left a $150,000 trust fund and property in Pelham Heights, valued at $28,000. This goes to three daughters of Mrs. Stang.

Relatives Are Remembered.

Charles C. Paulding, nephew, receives a $50,000 legacy and a similar sum goes to a niece, Florence Allison of Detroit; another niece, Anne Depew Paulding, receives a $200,000 life estate. A grandnephew, Chauncey Depew de Bresson of Granville, France, receives a $10,000 legacy. Hazel P. Depew of Pontiac, Mich., receives a $50,000 legacy.

Of $14,152,511 in stocks there were issues only twenty-six of which showed a nominal or no value and $2,683,446 in bonds, of which there were 154 issues. The principal stock holdings were 20,300 shares of National Biscuit company common, valued at $3,390,100, and 400 shares of the preferred stock worth $58,600.

F. W. CARPENTER FOUND DEAD OF HEART DISEASE

Frank W. Carpenter, wealthy salesman for G. H. Burr & Co., investment brokers, was found dead yesterday in his apartment at the Ridgeview hotel, 901 Maple avenue, Evanston. A maid discovered the body. Dr. E. J. Hines said death was due to a heart ailment.

Mr. Carpenter, 48 years old, was a brother of Frederick Carpenter, vice president of the Foreman National bank, and a brother-in-law of George W. Smith of the chancery department of the Chicago Title and Trust company. Mrs. Carpenter is at present vacationing in Maine.

Miss Minnie Facto, the maid who discovered the body, told the police she had seen Mr. Carpenter enter his apartment on Saturday morning and that so far as she knew he had not left again. The inquest will be held today.

Fred Grimm, Lake County Road Group Head, Is Dead

Fred A. Grimm, 64 years old, of Lake Zurich, president of the Lake County Road association for many years, died yesterday at the Frances Willard hospital, Chicago, of acute appendicitis. He leaves his widow and two children. The funeral will be held tomorrow from the home, with burial at Evergreen cemetery.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: The End in Sight

TEN MAY TESTIFY TO CHARACTER OF GOAT GLAND DOC

Limit Witnesses for Board Hearing.

Topeka, Kas., July 28.—[Special.]—Counsel for Dr. John R. Brinkley, "goat gland specialist," today introduced character witnesses in the hearing before the state board of health.

William A. Smith, attorney general, protested against the introduction of so many witnesses. Dr. J. F. Hassig, president of the board, ruled that Brinkley might introduce ten character witnesses.

C. E. Lasser, railroad agent and telegraph operator at Milford, testified that when times were good at the Brinkley hospital, twenty to twenty-five goats a week were shipped in from Arkansas; now, he said, not more than five to ten a week are used.

"What kind of goats are they?" he was asked.

"Toggenburg goats, males, from 2 to 6 weeks old," he replied.

"What becomes of the goats after Brinkley is through with them?"

"He used to ship them away to be fattened; I don't know what becomes of them now," he replied.

Lasser testified that, five years ago, while Brinkley was in California, a telegram was received for him, signed by Dr. Max Thorek, head of the American hospital in Chicago, urgently requesting Brinkley to come to Chicago and assist in the case of a millionaire who had been given a goat gland operation there and was not doing well.

Patrick Touhy, Father of Sanitary Trustee, Is Dead

Patrick J. Touhy, 71 years old, father of John J. Touhy, trustee of the sanitary district, died yesterday at his home, 4131 West Monroe street. Until his retirement two years ago, the elder Touhy was a foreman for 42 years in the city water pipe extension department. He is survived by his widow, Lillian. The funeral will be held at 9 a. m., Thursday, from the residence to St. Mel's church, with burial in Calvary cemetery.

Gen. C. C. Sniffen, Grant's Former Secretary, Dead

Cumberland, Md., July 28.—(AP)—Gen. C. C. Sniffen of Washington, secretary of President U. S. Grant, died suddenly tonight at Town Hill hotel. The body will be taken to Washington for interment in Arlington cemetery. Gen. Sniffen was born in New York City Jan. 1, 1844.

$25,000,000 GATEWAY TO AMERICA LATEST NEW YORK PROJECT

New York, July 28.—[Special.]—A monumental $25,000,000 "gateway to America," at the Battery where Broadway would be extended to reach it is the goal of a committee appointed by the directors of the New York Board of Trade and Transportation, it was learned today. William T. Donnelly, consulting engineer, is chairman.

The tentative proposal, according to Mr. Donnelly is to construct a magnificent gateway, embodying an auditorium at the foot of an extension of Broadway at the Battery. Part of the building would be in Battery park and part would extend over the water. Mr. Donnelly suggests that the nation, state and city might be asked to aid with appropriations.

O. R. M'KENNEY, WELL KNOWN IN G. A. R. WORK, DIES

Funeral services for Orrin R. McKenney, civil war veteran and former state commander of the G. A. R., will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow in a chapel at 1656 Ogden avenue, with burial in Oakridge cemetery. Mr. McKenney, who was 86 years old, died Sunday at his home, 2352 Millard avenue.

ORRIN R. McKENNEY.

Originally a member of George A. Custer post of the G. A. R., Mr. McKenney at various times between 1884 and 1920 filled every office in that post. When, after surrendering its charter, the post united with George H. Thomas post, Mr. McKenney became prominent in its councils and served as vice commander, senior vice commander, and post commander.

In 1926, at the Illinois departmental meeting at Aurora, he was nominated for state commander as "one of the most vigorous young men in the organization," and was elected. Subsequently he was a member of the council of administration, Grand Army hall and Memorial association of Illinois, and executive secretary of the commanders' association of Cook county.

Coates, Australian Mural Artist, Dies in London at 61

LONDON, July 28.—(AP)—James George Coates, mural painter, died today at the age of 61. He was a native of Melbourne, Australia. He painted some of the portraits for the Canadian war memorial exhibition in 1919.

BOOKED ON 29 CHARGES.

Thomas Hoffman, 39 years old, 8819 Cottage Grove avenue, arrested Friday for passing worthless pay checks on numerous railroads, was booked yesterday on 29 charges of confidence game. He will be arraigned today in Felony court.

SLAYERS KNOWN, DETROIT POLICE HEAD DECLARES

Patrolman Shot, Bandit Is Killed.

Detroit, Mich., July 28.—(AP)—The statement of Police Commissioner Thomas C. Wilcox that the slayers of Radio Announcer Gerald E. Buckley are known to the police formed today's major development in Detroit's newest crusade against outlawry.

Commissioner Wilcox's cryptic remark that his office knew the gunmen who early last Wednesday shot down the radio enemy of the underworld aroused considerable speculation. The commissioner added that the slayers were not yet under arrest and that he had nothing more to say.

Other developments in the crime war today included a plea by defense counsel for three men charged with kidnaping that their trial be postponed until after the special mayoralty election Sept. 9, as a fair trial was impossible now.

There also was a daylight gun battle between police and a robber in which the robber was slain and one of the patrolmen wounded. The attendant of a downtown filling station was found slain at his post, presumably by a holdup man.

The wounded patrolman is Evert Wuckila, 30. He was taken to Henry Ford hospital. The slain robber was tentatively identified as Martin De Koven.

SET STAGE FOR THE RECOVERY OF U. S. TRADE

Expect Dullness to Step Aside.

BY O. A. MATHER.

This is the between grass and hay season in business. August is just ahead and traditionally it is one of the dullest months of the year. Therefore, not much change in the general situation is expected and the most popular summer pastime is attempting to predict what autumn and winter will bring. And opinions are about as diverse as a few weeks or months ago.

Although describing business as now in the most acute stage of the depression phase of the business cycle, the Alexander Hamilton institute forecasts considerable improvement in the near future.

"At the end of July the cumulative automobile output for 1930 will probably be below that of 1928," it says. "This will mean that the number of automobiles no longer is excessive and that the chief obstacle to recovery has been removed. Automobile production in August should show a significant increase over July and should mark the beginning of a revival.

Low Employment Index.

"The condition of employment in June brought the index to a new low for the current movement. Indications are that employment showed a further decrease in July, but that it is at the bottom. An upturn is a prospect for August with a gradual recovery from then on.

"The slump in commodity prices and the curtailment of production, while causing considerable distress at present, are decidedly favorable factors as far as the future is concerned. The stage is now set for the beginning of a recovery. While improvement is likely to be slow, August promises to provide at least some evidence that business has definitely commenced to work upward."

On the other hand, the Standard Statistics company is less optimistic, particularly as concerns earnings of industrial companies.

"Reflection of the particularly severe decline in industrial operations experienced in May and June, in contrast with the unprecedentedly high levels attained in the like 1929 months, is strikingly evident in second quarter corporation income accounts which now are beginning to appear," it says.

Extent of Decline.

"Aggregate net income for twenty-five companies for the second quarter was 19.3 per cent smaller than in the corresponding quarter of last year. For forty-four representative concerns which have made public statements for the first half years aggregate net income showed a decline of the same size.

"We can discover no valid reasons at this time for believing that third quarter earnings, considered generally, will represent an improvement over those for the last three months. In fact, the bulk of current evidence favors the opposite view, namely, that a further recession in aggregate corporate income will be experienced."

The monthly review of the Chicago Federal Reserve bank relates the recent situation in trade in the middle west.

"The various lines of merchandising continued to be affected in June by the general lack of industrial activity and unemployment," the review says. "In all wholesale groups, except electrical supply, declines from the corresponding month of 1929 were greater than shown for May. June department store sales fell 13 per cent below May, whereas a year ago the decline in this comparison was less than 5 per cent. Sales showed a decrease of 18 per cent from June, 1929, and in the first half of this year were 10½ per cent under the same period of 1929. Chicago stores reported a falling off in June business from May of almost 9 per cent."

Advises Bargain Buying to Bolster Up Pay Rolls

BY SCRUTATOR.

Some beliefs that have existed about business conditions in the last year and which still have some currency seem hard to support in view of present facts. One is that there was no inflation in prices; another that there was no large surplus of goods in the country last year as there was in 1921.

It requires no trick of language or thought to demonstrate that production has not been within the last year what it was in the preceding year. It should require no argument to convince a normal person that prices have declined within the same period, both at wholesale and retail. And it is evident that even with present price levels and curtailed production there has been no development of demand that cannot be met immediately.

To demonstrate, the department of labor, through its bureau of labor statistics, has discovered that the cost of living for the residents of 32 cities had fallen 2.1 per cent between last December and June, 1930. Fuel was off 6.4 per cent; fuel and light, 3.3 per cent; rent, off 1.5 per cent, and clothing and house furnishings, 1 per cent.

Cost of Living.

From 1920 to 1930 the cost of living declined 23 per cent in these same cities, and is now 166.6 per cent of what it was in 1913, so that a 1913 dollar is now worth 60 cents.

Commodity prices are even lower in the index scale now than the living cost statistics, which in general are retail prices. There can be little question that the raw commodity stocks were overabundant a year ago. Evidence concerning manufactured goods is not so plan, but the failure of price cuts that have been made to create any shortage would indicate they were more than sufficient for conservative demand.

Consumption, in fact, has not gone down a great deal in the items that go to make up cost of living indexes. People still eat and still wear clothes and in unit volume foodstuffs and garments are selling much nearer the 1929 level than the total dollar sales would show. Price reductions have made the latter shrink.

It is possibly true that four-fifths of the people of the United States today are better off, matching income with retail prices, than they were a year ago. Unemployment is large, yet the official figures for Illinois show that factory wage workers, the class most affected by fluctuations, have shrunk in numbers by less than 10 per cent from a year ago. But the influence of the small percentage of unemployed is out of proportion to their numbers. The views of a Chicago millionaire, a man of big business, on that subject, follow:

Provide for Future.

"The unemployed have relatives who are working. These relatives see the situation of the out of work and determine to have nest eggs for themselves because they fear the same evil. They are taking the money they might spend for additional comforts and soaking it away in savings banks. If they all took advantage of the low prices of today, which can't be permanently maintained, and bought the things they would like to have, from theater tickets to fur coats, they would soon see their kin all at work.

"We need savers to furnish capital for improvements. But money is cheap now and the returns on capital are low. Returns on purchases at present levels are high. It is time for the people generally to realize that nearly everything is a bargain and that if they hold off too long they will suffer. They can get richer by spending than by saving now. These low prices can't continue without an eventual cut in pay scales."

INTERN'L HARVESTER BOOSTS OUTPUT TO FILL SOVIET ORDER

Milwaukee, Wis., July 28.— (AP) — Due to receipt of a large Russian order for tractors, the International Harvester corporation plans to increase operations of its Milwaukee plant by 50 per cent within the next 30 days. Although Harvester corporation officials declined to give exact figures on the amount of the order, from other quarters it was learned that it amounted to $7,000,000.

The corporation will not add any more men to its Milwaukee plant, but the time of those working will be increased 50 per cent and the orders will keep the plant more active until after the Christmas holidays.

APPROVE PLAN TO SPLIT SHARES OF TOBACCO CO.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 28.—Stockholders of the American Tobacco company today approved a plan to split the common stock and the class B common two shares for one. An increase in the authorized capitalization, to provide stock for the splitup, was allowed. The shareholders also ratified a plan for issuance and sale of common B stock to employés and officers.

The plan provides for reduction in the par value of the shares from $50 to $25 a share. Voting power of the preferred stock was retained by increasing it from two votes a share to four votes.

The present authorized common stock totals $50,000,000, of which $40,242,400, or 804,848 shares, are outstanding. The authorized class B common totals $100,000,000, of which $76,933,000, or 1,538,660 shares, are outstanding.

Sears, Roebuck Announce Fargo (N. D.) Affiliation

Sears, Roebuck & Co. yesterday announced its affiliation with the Black company of Fargo, N. D., in a buying agreement under which the smaller company will retain its identity and personnel and will expand with a fuller line of Sears-Roebuck merchandise. George M. Black will remain as manager. The Black company operates in Fargo and Valley City, N. D., and Aberdeen, S. D., now handles largely women's goods.

Insull Utility Holders to Share $6,000,000 Melon

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

The first piece of stock financing to be undertaken by the Insull interests in recent months was decided on yesterday when directors of Insull Utility Investments voted to offer 600,000 new shares of common stock to present stockholders at $50 a share.

All classes of stockholders will share the "melon," which is estimated to be worth more than $6,000,000.

The offering, which totals $30,000,000, will be to stockholders of record Aug. 30. Holders of common of that date will be entitled to purchase one share of new stock for each five shares held and holders of the various preferred shares will get one share for each 11 shares owned.

Value of Offering.

Based on yesterday's closing price of 62½ for the common the rights are worth $482,185 to preferred stockholders and $5,115,844 to holders of common stock, making a "melon" of $6,115,844. At present there are 2,708,490 shares of common stock outstanding and 510,000 shares of prior preferred and preferred second series. The rights are worth approximately $2.08 on each share of common.

Plans for the simplification of its financial structure were announced yesterday by another Insull firm. The Midland United company will offer stockholders of the American Public Utilities company the right to exchange their stock for Midland United shares. The step is seen as the first in the elimination of the American Public Utilities company, which is a holding company subsidiary of Midland United.

Terms of the offer will be favorable to holders of the American Public Utilities, it was stated. Prior preferred stockholders will be allowed to subscribe to Midland United convertible preferred and common stock or common stock exclusively.

Featured in Slow Trading.

The Insuli shares were featured in a rather slow market on the Chicago exchange yesterday. Insull Utility second preferred closed 2½ points higher at 98½ and the common was actively traded in above 62. Middle West was active but little changed following release of its earnings statement for the twelve months ended June 30, showing a substantial increase in revenues.

Elsewhere in the list significant price changes were few and sales moderately light. Total transactions amounted to 143,000 shares. Among the biggest net changes were a gain of 1½ by Noblitt Sparks and an advance of 1¼ in Kalamazoo Stove.

TO BUILD BIG COPPER PLANT AT LIVERPOOL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 28.—A copper refinery with a capacity of 200,000 tons or 400,000,000 pounds of refined copper will be built in Liverpool, England, according to the London Mining Journal. That authority says that the plant will be constructed by the big Rhodesian copper companies.

"Prospects are that ultimately the capacity of the plant may be further enlarged," says the mining journal, "as the production of the northern Rhodesian mines has been calculated to reach nearly half a million tons of copper in ten years, obviously 200,000 tons in excess of the present British consuming capacity, so that a certain amount of copper would be available for export either to the dominions or otherwise."

Issue Warrant for Alleged Stock Misrepresentation

Mineola, N. Y., July 28.— (AP) — A warrant was issued today for Charles C. Hubbell, treasurer of the Long Island Commercial Discount corporation, on complaint of stockholders that he had sold stock amounting to $450,000 on a misrepresentation that the company was making money. They charged that dividends had been paid out of capital.

BY FRED HARVEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 28.—The "creeping" bull market sagged and stretched and creaked today but managed to creep right on up toward good time levels.

There was nothing within whispering distance of Wall street to fire the imagination and there was not a wilted collar when the day was done. It was just another of those up and down like a pump handle days with a lot of weak moments and no semblance of a vigorous advance.

Something happened to the talkie stocks and for a while around midday they flickered like 1910 movies. It was, however, the market's ability to weather a concerted drive against the amusement shares that won new friends for it and the day in Wall street as in the movies closed with a happy ending.

Target for Selling.

Warner Brothers, which has made a lot of money for a lot of people, was singled out as a vulnerable spot when the bear forces tested out the market's strength in the forenoon. It was not long until the other talkie issues began to stutter and in a little while brokerage offices were flooded with inquiries as to what was wrong. There was a lot of guessing and very little information relayed to traders.

In the case of Warner Brothers

Shaw-Walker Closes Largest Year in 30 Years

JUNE 30th, 1930, Shaw-Walker terminated its thirtieth fiscal year, with the largest record of goods shipped and billed in the history of the company.

Of Shaw-Walker's twenty-three branch offices, one increased 51.7%, another 21%, and another 10%. Only four branches showed any substantial drop from 1929. Moreover, the sales of the Shaw-Walker dealer organization increased 8%.

During the last eight months, all business concerns have been buying with scrupulous care. Therefore, we feel that this preference for Shaw-Walker office appliances, in a time of caution, is a tribute to the "Built-Like-A-Skyscraper" method of building fine tools for the office.

BUY NO FILE, BUY NO BANK EQUIPMENT, BUY NO SAFE, BUY NO INDEXING, BUY NO DESK, until you have seen the progress made by Shaw-Walker in these important branches of office equipment.

We especially invite you to visit our showrooms and see "Skyscraper" the new organized desk by Shaw-Walker. Its new patented working top, its drawers organized for a better day's work, its invisible wires, telephone and waste basket, its "Built-Like-A-Skyscraper" construction into one solid piece of steel, and its beauty at a commercial price of $50 to $100, mark it as a revolution in the architecture of the office desk.

CUSHMAN'S SONS LEASE ELEVEN MORE BRANCHES

Bakery Plans 150 Chicago Branches in Year.

BY AL CHASE.

Expanding their chain of retail bakeries on a large scale, Cushman's Sons, Inc., yesterday negotiated leases for eleven more in the program which calls for in the neighborhood of 150 branches within a year. The eleven stores just acquired, according to McKey & Poague, who negotiated the deals, are located as follows: 2533 South Kedzie avenue, 4715 South Ashland avenue, 4827 North Western avenue, 1517 Devon avenue, 1913 West 79t hstreet, 4546 and 7009 North Clark street, 1123, 1946, 3902, and 5313 Lawrence avenue.

Five other stores were recently leased through McKey & Poague and are now occupied by the Cushman concern. These are at 7812 South Halsted street, 3106 West 63d street, 11229 South Michigan avenue, 350 East 61st street, and 453 East 43d street. Cushman's Sons, Inc., opened a large bakery plant at 4430 North Clark street two months ago, which represents a total investment of several hundred thousand dollars. The company now has 32 Chicago retail bakeries, including the sixteen already told about above.

Blake Company Expands.

The Charles G. Blake company has negotiated a ten year lease on the two stores at 5606-08 North Western avenue from Christ Choukas at a term rental reported to be approximately $36,000. They will be used as the north side office and display room for memorials and mausoleums. The site is opposite the Western avenue entrance to Rosehill cemetery. The lease was executed by Donald P. Blake, representing the Blake concern, and Abram E. Adelman, attorney.

The company has just completed a one story office building and improved a piece of property 100x20 at 11440 South Fairfield avenue as a display yard and office.

"The opening of these two offices is the beginning of a group of display rooms and offices which will be opened by the Blake company throughout the middle west," said an official of the concern. "At the present time we are represented in more than one hundred cities and towns throughout the central west and plan on expanding our business in Cook county during the next five years. The general offices are at 1000 East 67th street."

Homes for South Side.

John J. Zwiers & Son of 8737 South Laflin street have started a home development project in the vicinity of 83d street and Kedzie avenue. They started work this week on two model homes on 83d place, just west of Kedzie avenue. They expect to follow these up with several more homes this fall. Qualkinbunsh & Abney, Inc., will have charge of the sales of this development project.

John S. Burchmore has purchased the vacant property at the northwest corner of Grey avenue and Payne street, Evanston, from Leo S. Samuels for an undisclosed consideration. The lot, 80x145 feet, was purchased for future development. The E. E. Stults Realty company was broker.

NEW YORK EDISON SALES.

Sales of electric energy by the five companies composing the New York Edison system in six months ending June 30 were 74.10 per cent larger than in the first six months of 1929.

YANKEE METHODS WIN SUCCESS IN BRITISH ISLES

How American sales methods are meeting with success in the British Isles was narrated by Frederick Taylor of London, England, last night to Chicago district salesmen of Scott & Fetzer, vacuum cleaner manufacturers. Mr. Taylor, an Englishman who once lived in Chicago, told how he has built up a sales force of 1,500 people to sell Scott & Fetzer vacuum cleaners from door to door—a sales method which he says is comparatively new to England. He expects to sell in excess of 100,000 American vacuum cleaners during the coming year. George H. Scott, president of Scott & Fetzer, told the meeting that business for the six months ending June 30, 1930 was the best of any similar period in the firm's history—both in volume and net profits.

News and Gossip of Stock Marts

Meade Johnson.

New high ground for Meade-Johnson is an indication that this corporation, which manufactures infant foods, probably will report another increase in profits for the current year. The company has shown an upward trend of earnings for several years, dividend requirements being covered by a wide margin. According to one story the management is planning to raise the annual dividend from $3 to $4 a share, which in these days of industrial uncertainty is a healthful sign for any concern.

Is Copper at Bottom?

Leading authorities in Wall street believe the price of copper metal has reached bottom at 11 cents a pound. It is argued that whenever any commodity gets within striking distance or below the cost of production it invariably recovers quickly. The average price for copper during the last thirty years has been better than 16 cents a pound, and with the growth in the uses of the metal during the last decade it is felt that it will be only a matter of time before a substantial readjustment takes place in the current price situation.

American Commonwealth.

Realization that earnings thus far in the current year have greatly exceeded expectations is bringing an increasing amount of public buying into the American Commonwealth's issues. The corporation has adopted a conservative expansion policy in the hope that later years will permit it to be more liberal with dividends.

STOCK MARKET CREAKS ALONG TO HAPPY ENDING

Talkie Issues Flicker, but Weather Selling.

skepticism over the maintenance of the present cash dividend was given as the chief reason for the selling. It was said some directors favored a reduction of the $4 dividend, but no body had anything to say for publication. The regular meeting day for the Warner Brothers quarterly dividend was the third Thursday in July.

The passage of that date without action may have been seized upon as an excuse for bearishness on the financial outlook. It is likely, however, that a meeting will be held as soon as H. M. Warner returns from Europe, which will be in about ten days. The Warner raid dampened the outlook for other sections of the market when the stock tumbled five points. The pools and others interested in the stock came to the rescue, however, and at the close Warner Brothers was off only 3⅝ points with a heavy turnover. Paramount closed ¼ of a point off, Loews held its own, Fox lost ⅝ of a point and Radio-Keith was down ⅛ on the day's trading.

Trading Narrow.

Group trading movements were lacking today among industrial stocks and while there was spirited buying and selling at times the market was a fairly narrow affair.

General Electric and American Telephone were active, but as usual they finished the day with gains under one point. Such speculative favorites as American Can, up 1⅛ points; Westinghouse, 1¾, and General Motors, up almost a point, reached new tops from their June lows.

In the afternoon the utilities and oils were given a whirl and most of the issues reacted favorably. American Type Foundry and American Water Works both had gains of 3 points each. Brooklyn Union Gas was up 2⅜ on the day and Columbia Gas and Electric had a gain of 2⅜ points.

United States Steel lagged in the afternoon and finished the day with a loss of 1⅜ points. Liquid Carbon was off 1¾ points, Electric Auto Light dropped 1¼ points and National Cash Register was off a point.

Market Creeps Higher.

That the market gradually is creeping back toward better levels is evident when statistics are checked. It was on June 25 that prices reached the bottom of the selling movement. At that time 586 common stocks exclusive of railroad issues, appeared on the trading list. Since that date only 11 per cent have declined to new low levels. The averages show that about half of the ground lost in the May and June selling has been recovered.

The monthly reviews of the banks are at hand and selecting the one from the Guaranty Trust one learns that the summer dullness is natural enough and that it "should continue through the coming month and be followed by progress in the autumn."

PROCTER-GAMBLE ACQUIRE ENGLISH SOAP INTEREST

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 28.—In furtherance of its program of expansion abroad the Procter & Gamble company of Cincinnati has acquired a controlling interest in Thomas Hedleyce, Ltd., of Newcastle-on-Tyne, one of the leading English soapmakers, it was announced today in dispatches from London.

Procter & Gamble, it was reported, will undertake to expand its English affiliate's manufacturing and distributing business throughout northern England and Scotland.

The American company also is understood to be carrying on negotiations for acquisition of plants in France and Germany, including the Cadum Soap company of Paris.

J. P. Morgan & Co. have an option, expiring Saturday, for purchase of 90,000 shares of Procter & Gamble stock at $80 a share. It was believed here that funds for the company's expansion plans in Great Britain would be obtained from sale of this stock, inasmuch as the financial district has assumed the option will be exercised.

CHICAGO—Receipts at Chicago today, 5,000 cattle, 19,000 hogs, and 11,000 sheep.

The second smallest Monday run since last April failed to put the "props" under the hog market yesterday and prices came down 10@25c more in a slow trade. All local interests bought sparingly at the full decline in the absence of urgent eastern demand. The top at $9.50 was above Saturday's peak, due to better quality yesterday, but compared with a top of $9.75 last Friday.

The general average was held steady with Saturday at $8.40 and showed 20c decline since Friday. Total arrivals at 38,000 compared with 47,740 the previous Monday, with 52,296 a year ago and with 45,650 two years ago. Eastern demand was below normal for Monday and 6,000 were still in the pens at the close, the low point of the day.

Hog Futures Steady.

The hog futures market was slow, but prices held steady yesterday. September mediums opened at $9.35, sold at $9.30 in midsession and closed at $9.35. December light, mediums and heavy grades were offered at $8.40@8.50.

Bids for feeding lambs to be delivered during August and September ranged from $6.75 to $7.00. There were buyers willing to take contracts for 1,800 black face medium wool 57@65 lb mountain lambs at $7.00.

Cattle receipts at 10,000 were smallest of the year for Monday and frustrated buyers' effort to force quotations to new low levels. Prices ruled steady to strong most of the day, but trading lacked activity and only a few cattle sold up to $10.00 and above. Choice 1,019 lb yearlings topped the prices list at $10.50, while 868@1,385 lb averages sold at $10.25 and bulk of cattle of beef merit brought $7.85@9.65.

The reduction in supplies was general at all points. Twenty leading markets received 57,000, against 67,000 a week ago and 101,000 a year ago, being smaller than any corresponding Monday in a number of years. Cows and heifers were scarce and steady to strong. Calves ruled weak to lower, despite the scarcity of this class. Stockers and feeders were slow to sell at steady prices.

Western Lambs Plentiful.

Although total arrivals in the sheep house were below normal for Monday at 10,000, the supply included 34 carloads of western lambs, the second largest supply of the season from range territory. Buyers were in a bearish mood and forced quotations down mostly 25c.

The meager supply of natives were sorted closely at $9.00, the buck lambs going at $8.00 and strong weight culls at $6.00. "Tops" from the supply of range lambs cleared at $8.50@8.85 and best feeders at $7.00@7.25. Aged sheep and yearlings were scarce and unchanged.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 5,000 cattle, 19,000 hogs and 11,000 sheep, against 6,872 cattle, 24,036 hogs and 19,551 sheep, the previous Tuesday and 6,385 cattle, 25,553 hogs and 11,249 sheep a year ago.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, July 28.—(AP)—COTTON—Gray goods markets opened the week quietly; print cloths, sheetings, and other fabrics were quoted unchanged. Interest was shown in all rayon fabrics as new prices based on the recent rayon yarn reductions were made. Interest in household cottons and various finished fabrics were reported. Future shipment burlaps advanced about $2 per bale with spots quiet. Wool goods markets experienced some scattered demand. Spot raw silks were quiet and slightly easier both here and in Japan.

A List of Attractive Values

Doubtless you have decided, along with other shrewd investors, to take advantage of the present favorable situation to acquire good investments at prices considerably below their intrinsic worth. Now is a most excellent time to put available funds into well secured long term bonds and preferred stocks—with the purchasing power of the dollar higher than it has been at any time in the past fifteen years. Your request by mail or telephone will bring this carefully compiled list without obligation.

SHOWERS BRING RECESSION IN CORN MARKET

Wheat Prices Weaken as Supply Increases.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Action of the corn market is governed almost entirely by weather conditions, and reports of scattered showers in western Nebraska, parts of Iowa, and in Illinois over the week-end led to a considerable change in sentiment yesterday on the part of local operators, and long grain came into the pit steadily.

July and September sold at a new high on the present movement and showed more strength than the new crop months, the September-December spread at the last being 5¾c, against 4⅝c on Saturday. The finish was at net losses of 2@2⅝c, with July and September 85@85⅛c and December 79⅛@79⅝c.

Many of the local bulls were said to have gone out of their holdings during the day, the forecast for lower temperatures having some effect. A number of operators who were out in the country over the week-end said that corn in northern Illinois appeared to have suffered little damage so far. The rains in Nebraska fell mainly in sections where wheat is the main crop.

There was heavy buying of December corn on the break credited to a leading local professional, who has been on the bull side for some time, and he continues to express the belief that ultimately corn will sell much higher. Holders of bids were also buyers on the declines.

Expect Small Corn Crop.

There was no letup in the sensational claims of damage to the corn crop from parts of the belt, with reports of corn being cut for fodder at a few points in Illinois. It would not surprise the trade if the coming private estimates on the crop fell well below 2,600,000,000 bu, compared with 2,802,000,000 bu by the government July 1, and 2,622,000,000 bu harvested last year. In 1924 the crop was 2,313,000,000 bu, the smallest in many years. Some look for the estimate on the yield to show around 2,500,000,000 bu, which would be the lowest with one exception since 1913, when it was 2,447,000,000 bu.

A decrease of 278,000 bu was shown in the visible supply, making the total 3,365,000 bu, against 10,403,000 bu last year.

Wheat Stocks Increasing.

Wheat market showed a heavy undertone from the start. Export demand was less aggressive than of late, and there was an unexpected increase of 14,503,000 bu in the domestic visible supply. The big gain, however, does not establish a record, as there was a gain of 18,636,000 bu for the week ending Aug. 10, 1929. Total stocks are 139,694,000 bu, a new record for this season, and compared with 120,220,000 bu last year.

Houses with eastern connections bought December wheat early at 96c, but failed to receive outside help, and the market gradually weakened and finished at the bottom, with net losses of 1⅝@1⅞c, with July 87½c, September 89⅝@89⅝c, and December 95@95¼c. Winnipeg was off 2c for the day on favorable weather conditions in the prairie provinces.

The best buying on the break came from holders of bids on resting orders. Liverpool closed ⅝@1¼d lower, despite unfavorable weather in Europe and a small decrease in supplies on ocean passage.

Hedging pressure is increasing in oats as the movement of the new crop is getting under way. Action of corn had considerable influence, and the close was ⅛@1c lower, with July 34¾c and September 36¾c. Cash houses bought September and sold December. Houses with northwestern connections sold rye, while shorts bought, and there was buying of rye against sales of other grain by spreaders. The finish was 1⅝@2c lower, with July 54½c and September 56⅞c.

TRANSAMERICA APPLICATION.

The Transamerica corporation has applied to list 24,848,789 of its $25 par shares on the New York Stock exchange.

LARD MAKES GAINS

A stronger tone with light trade featured the lard market yesterday. A little liquidation and commission house buying was on early, but the close was 3½ to 5c higher. Hog prices, however, were weaker, although receipts were smaller in the west than a week and a year ago. Liverpool lard was unchanged to 6d lower, and American hams were 2s lower.

Exports of lard for the week were 12,245,000 lbs, against 11,383,000 lbs last year. Of bacon they were 5,411,000 lbs, against 5,453,000 lbs last year. Prices follow:

BUTTER AND EGGS

Bullish news worked butter futures to a new high for the summer on the Chicago Mercantile Exchange, the market readily absorbing selling pressure. November storage standards closed at 40c, up ½c from Friday, and the best figure since May 7. Egg futures also advanced slightly, November closing ¼c higher.

The storage report from the four principal markets showed a decrease of 286,000 lbs in butter. Also the market was aided by expectations in some quarters that the storage report from the 26 cities tomorrow might show a considerable decrease from the last report. Sales: Butter, 138 cars; eggs, 97 cars. Receipts: Butter, 11,056 tubs; eggs, 13,608 cases. Prices follow:

"Before the builder there must be a plan; but before the plan there must be the vision."

SPURRED by a vision of a home which will reflect the intimate desires and individuality of its possessor, a man engages a competent architect to transform his vision into workable plan. After which he employs a builder who makes the plan reality through the use of well chosen materials.

Many men of great earning power have a clear vision of the needs of their later years but have no time to plan their investment structure soundly. A dependable investment banking house is often both the architect and builder for such men.

CORPORATE TRUST SHARES

YOUR investment in Corporate Trust Shares is protected by a bulwark of security that represents the entire industrial activity of America. On the basis of past and present earnings, year-after-year increases in surplus, and management records that go back beyond a century, we recommend them to the most conservative of investors. As tangible evidence of the value of Corporate Trust Shares we present the following nine points:

Corporate Trust Shares have made the largest aggregate distributions per share, actually paid out in cash, of any comparable investment trust of the fixed type.

They are sponsored by the originators of Fixed Trust Shares—pioneers in the investment trust field in this country.

The stocks are held in trust for you by The Chase National Bank of the City of New York, Trustee.

A national market is maintained, and leading newspapers throughout the country publish quotations on Corporate Trust Shares.

They are sponsored by a company strong financially and are sold by 853 banks and investment houses throughout the United States and foreign countries.

All earnings of the portfolio of stocks, together with interest earnings on the Reserve Fund, accrue to shareholders.

A minimum distribution of 70c per share (7% on par) is provided, stabilized through the Reserve Fund, but all earnings of the trust accrue to the shareholders. For the year 1929 the total distribution was $1.96¾ per Corporate Trust Share, equal to more than 17% on the average 1929 price of the Shares. For the first half of 1930, the distribution was $1.31¼ per share.

All legal matters incident to the creation of the trust have been supervised by Messrs. Root, Clark, Buckner and Ballantine, attorneys of New York City.

Only stocks of domestic corporations are included in the portfolio—no foreign companies are represented for tax reasons.

First Mortgage Gold Bonds

5% Series due 1959

Dated May 1, 1929 — Due May 1, 1959

TRUSTEE: BANKERS TRUST COMPANY, NEW YORK

Issuance subject to authorization by the Alabama Public Service Commission.

We summarize as follows the letter of Mr. Fred W. Seymour, President of the Company:

Business and Territory Birmingham Gas Company supplies the gas service in Birmingham, Bessemer, Fairfield and nine adjacent communities in Alabama. These towns are practically contiguous and make up the "Birmingham District", one of the most important centers for the manufacture of iron and steel in this country. The total population of the district served is estimated to exceed 313,000.

Security These Bonds, in the opinion of counsel, are secured by a direct first mortgage on all the fixed property of the Company, which includes gas generating machinery, five holders with an aggregate capacity of 9,349,000 cubic feet, and 539 miles of mains.

Earnings Total Net Income, for the twelve months ended June 30, 1930 was 2.67 times annual interest requirements on the First Mortgage Gold Bonds now outstanding, including those presently to be issued.

Management This Company is controlled by American Gas and Power Company, and its operations are supervised by American Commonwealths Power Corporation, the management of which has had long and active experience in the operation of public utility properties.

All legal matters in connection with the issuance of these Bonds will be passed upon by Messrs. Winthrop, Stimson, Putnam & Roberts of New York, and for the Company by Messrs. Hunton, Bank, Smith & Stowell of New York.

These Bonds are offered when, as and if issued and received by us and subject to approval of counsel at 97 and accrued interest, to yield about 5.20%

Gross revenue of the Canadian National railways for June was $19,405,718 with a net of $2,244,867 compared with $23,016,491 and $2,606,630, respectively, for June of last year. The aggregate of gross revenue to June 30 was $107,311,988 in comparison to $130,643,819 on the same date in 1929.

GENERAL MILLS EARNS $4,609,101 IN FISCAL YEAR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 28.—Net income of $4,609,101 is reported for the fiscal year ended May 31, 1930, by General Mills, Inc., equal to $4.79 a share on 675,444 common shares outstanding at the end of the period after preferred dividend requirements. This compares with a net income of $4,154,736 for the fiscal year ended May 31, 1929, equal to $4.58 a share earned on 675,096 common shares, after preferred dividend requirements. The company is the largest producer of flour in the world, and was formed two years ago through the consolidation of leading flour producers in the United States.

During the fiscal year just ended, President James F. Bell says in his report the company acquired extensive interests in feed stores in rural areas to provide permanent outlets for its products. In order to carry out this arrangement it was necessary in some cases to allow the vendors to retain a partial interest in their business.

MOCK, JUDSON, VOEHRINGER CO. CUTS DIVIDEND

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 28.—Mock, Judson, Voeringer company, Inc., manufacturers of ladies' silk hosiery, declared a quarterly dividend of 25c on the common, payable Aug. 15, to stock of record Aug. 1. This places the stock on a $1 annual basis, against $3 previously.

Net profit, after charges and taxes, for six months ended June 30 was $135,218, equal after preferred dividends to $1.60 a share on the 100,000 common shares outstanding. This compares with $261,132, or $2.46 a share, in first half of 1929.

FINANCIAL NOTES

Bonbright & Co. and W. C. Langley & Co. are offering an additional issue of $1,000,000 Birmingham Gas company first mortgage bonds, 5 per cent series, due May 1, 1958, and priced at 97 and accrued interest to yield about 5.20 per cent.

Wall street hears that the Kelsey Hayes Wheel corporation is to undertake short time financing, probably in the form of $7,500,000 one year 4½ per cent notes, to provide additional working capital both in connection with expansion of the company's business and the recent acquisition of assets of the Jaxon Steel Products division of General Motors.

Los Angeles Exchange Seeks Movie Securities

New York, July 28.—(AP)—Establishment of western market facilities for securities of motion picture companies is being sought by the Los Angeles stock exchange, following a survey of activities of its members in these securities. Listing of the amusement stocks on the Los Angeles exchange, it was announced, would in no way interfere with the present eastern markets.

COTTON ERRATIC

Cotton prices at one time yesterday were up around $1.00 a bale on short covering and the absence of good general rains over a good part of the belt. There was selling at one time on reports of showers in a few sections. Indications are that the crop will be smaller than early expectations. A forecast for unsettled weather led to selling and a break late in the day. Liverpool was 6 to 8 points net higher at the close with spot sales 2,000 bales. In the American markets net losses were 9 to 18 points at Chicago and 13 to 20 points in other markets. Spot cotton declined 20 points or $1.00 a bale, with New York 12.25c, New Orleans 12.50c, Galveston 12.45c and Houston 12.35c. Prices follow:

COTTONSEED OIL.

NEW YORK, July 28.—(AP)—COTTONSEED OIL—Was only moderately active, with the tone as a rule barely steady. The July contract expired with sales at 8@9 points decline and old contracts generally were depressed by the weakness in grains and the July break in cotton. New contracts were slightly steadier toward the close with a few sales at advances of 2@5 points. Old contracts closed unchanged to 15 points lower and new contracts 5 points lower to 5 net higher. Total sales were 1,600 brls, including 1,300 brls of old and 300 brls of new. Prime crude, 7.00c; prime summer yellow spot, 8.00c; July closed 8.00c; September, 8.20c; October, 8.21c; December, 8.12c. New: December, 7.55c; January, 7.79c; March, 7.92c.

Adjourn Steel Merger Trial Because of Heat

Youngstown, O., July 28.—(AP)—Less than two hours after entering its fifth week the trial of the injunction suit to prevent merger of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company with Bethlehem Steel corporation adjourned today because of oppressive heat. In the less than an hour of actual hearing attorneys for the Cyrus S. Eaton interests took up the fag ends of their attack on the legality of the ballots cast for the merger by stockholders. Court will be resumed tomorrow morning.

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE.

THIS WEEK

UNUSUALLY LIBERAL TIME PAYMENT PLAN

A SMALL DOWN PAYMENT SECURES THE CAR OF YOUR CHOICE

A generous allowance will be made for your car in trade. 5 days' free driving trial goes with every car sold.

CHEVROLET SEDAN, 1928, with very low mileage, 4 whl. brakes and many extras. Runs like cockwork. $248.

HUDSON BROUGHAM. From the standpoint of appearance and performance this car will satisfy you in every respect. The finish, tires, and upholstery are in splendid condition. $185.

HUPMOBILE 8 SEDAN, 1928. This car was owned by an opera star who was away so much more than half the time. Result is this Hupp has very little mileage and looks and runs like new today. Many extras. $345.

DODGE SEDAN, 1928 Senior Six, that was driven only Sundays and evenings for pleasure purposes, so it's in marvelous condition inside and out. This car is the last word for sparkling performance and attractive appearance. Special for $445.

PIERCE-ARROW LIMOUSINE, Model 33 that was chauffeur driven. It's in mar. condition considering our low price. $145.

NASH SEDAN, Adv. Six 4 dr., that we sincerely believe is the best Nash buy in Chicago. Motor is A1 and the finish is bright and shiny. Equipped with 4 whl. brakes, snubbers, bumpers, spare tire, trunk, heater, etc. $450.

STUDEBAKER VICTORIA, 1928 4 pass. coupe, under that was in storage for 14 mos. so it will give new car satisfaction today. The mohair upholstery has not a worn spot and the finish shines like a new car. This car was checked over by expert mechanics and the motor is smooth and powerful. Equipped with 4 whl. brakes, snubbers, bumpers, spare tire, etc. Will not remain long at our reduced price of $445.

CHRYSLER SEDAN. It's equipped with 4 whl. brakes, shock absorbers, bumpers, spare tire, etc. Has a sweet running motor. $245.

OAKLAND COACH, 1928, that looks and runs better than many sedans selling for twice this price. Equipped with 4 whl. brakes, spare tire, snubbers, bumpers, etc. $395.

AUBURN 8 SEDAN, 1929, with very low mileage. This is a low slung car with a world of power under the hood. Hundreds of dollars' worth of extra equipment. $650.

LINCOLN SEDAN, 7 pass., that's absolutely 100% throughout. Equipped with shock absorbers, bumpers, spare tire, etc. It's a beauty and will not remain long at our reduced price of $750.

STUDEBAKER PHAETON, Std. Six, with sentinel glass sides. This finish has not a mar on it and the tires are in splendid condition. Motor runs fine. $125.

FORD 4 DR. SEDAN, 1929, with very low mileage. Every feature is in the original condition. Offered at a big saving.

STUDEBAKER SEDAN, Spec. Six that was given unusual care by the original owner, so it will please you in every particular. Has a wealth of extra equipment. Special for $195.

BUICK COACH. This late Mast. 6 was owned by a prominent manufacturer. The finish, upholstery, and tires are in the original new condition and the motor runs very smoothly. Equipped with 4 whl. brakes, shock absorbers, bumpers, spare tire, etc. $495.
